New Yorkers lead Blue Ribbon Pairs

Glenn Milgrim of Forest Hills NY and Bobby Levin of the Bronx will begin play today as the leaders of the Kaplan Blue Ribbon Pairs. Fiftytwo pairs will fight it out over two final sessions for the championship. Levin has won the event once and finished second four times.

Right behind Levin and Milgrim were Jerry Helms and Robert Bitterman of Charlotte NC.

Netherlands – small nation, large interest in bridge

The Netherlands is a country with a population of about 16 million people. The European nation is about twice the size of New Jersey.

The Dutch counterpart to the ACBL is the Nederlandse Bridge Bond. Membership in the NBB is about 90,000 people, playing at 1100 bridge clubs affiliated with the Dutch bridge federation.

The ACBL is the world's largest bridge organization with about 160,000 members. If the ACBL had market penetration similar to the NBB, membership would far exceed 1.5 million.

So what's the difference?

According to NBB President Armand Trippaers, who is visiting at the Fall NABC in Boston, a big difference is the way the NBB signs up members.

If a Dutch player wants to play at an NBBaffiliated club, he must become a member of of the federation - and a member of that club. Annual NBB dues are 20 euros (about $25.50).

Clubs charge annual dues of 80 to 90 euros, but members pay no card fees, so the annual cost

Milner wins seesaw final in Senior KO

The team captained by Reese Milner prevailed in the final of the Senior Knockout Teams against the squad led by Richard DeMartino in a match where the lead switched back and forth. Milner gained the control in the final quarter, however, to win the match 113-97.

Playing with Milner were Sam Lev. Fred Chang. Matt Granovetter. P.O. Sundelin and John Carruthers. The non-playing captain is Grant Baze.

DeMartino's lineup featured John Stiefel, Geoffrey Brod and Pat McDevitt.

Milner jumped out to a 35-18 lead in the first quarter, only to see their edge erased in the second

A father and son from Florida took the lead after the first final session of the Mini-Blue Ribbon Pairs and posted a solid game in the evening session to win the event by about 35 matchpoints on a top of 51.

The winners are Roger Coffman of Palm Beach Gardens FL and his son, Chris Coffman, who lives in nearby Wellington. Their 59.77% game in the second session was good enough to distance them from runners-up Arne and Gene Maki of Dallas OR. Third place went to Carolyne and George Fox of Manvel TX.

After the double of 6NT, Jacobs reasoned that South must have the A K. If he had the \forall K Q and the A, that would have left Bocchi with only 13 high-card points, a trifle aggressive even by his standards. As it was, he was a high-card point light for his 1NT (supposedly 15-17).

That left it up to North to find the right opening lead, and he chose the wrong suit. A heart lead allowed Jacobs to scamper home with all 13 tricks.

Bakhshi led the \blacklozenge 9, ducked by Garvey to declarer. A heart was next, ducked by Bakhshi. In dummy, declarer played a low spade, won by Garvey with the 10. Now he made the key play of a club to the dummy.

Declarer played the A and ruffed a spade, establishing the suit, but when he played a second heart from hand, Bakhshi went up with the ace and played a trump to his partner's ace. Now Garvey could cash two more clubs to defeat the contract.

When an expert makes what they consider to be a routine play they are frequently surprised when it arouses the admiration of others.

When Canada's Rhoda Habert made a spectacular opening lead that resulted in the defeat of a grand slam, the first person to congratulate her afterwards was the unlucky declarer.

(1) Exclusion Key Card Blackwood (asking South to show key cards outside the heart suit).

After South showed two key cards without the trump queen, North made a grand slam try that South was happy to accept.

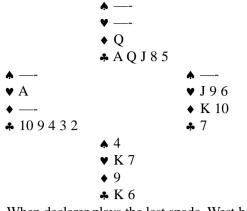

From West's point of view, her holding in diamonds was horrendous, so in an attempt to deflect declarer from what might be a contract-winning finesse, she led the $\diamond 8!$

Declarer won with dummy's ace and when she tried to cash two rounds of clubs, East ruffed to scupper the contract.

On a more passive lead, say for example a trump, declarer wins in hand, ruffs a heart and then plays all her trumps, squeezing West in three suits.

I hate to mention it, but after the diamond lead there is a winning line even if East has the king.

After taking the ace, declarer comes to hand with a trump, ruffs a heart and then runs the trumps to reach this position (I have moved the $\bigstar K$ to the East hand for effect):

When declarer plays the last spade, West has to surrender. Notice that this squeeze operates against either defender who happens to hold five clubs and the $\checkmark A$.

Practice what you preach

A few days ago, I recommended that you should always support your partner when you have four cards in their suit. Here is an example where doing so paid an unexpected dividend.

With North-South "marked" with a nine-card fit, West "knew" his partner held at most one spade, so he was happy to jump to slam. After tricks one and two, so was the Rabbi!

At least one South was unwise enough to double this contract. West retreated to 7* and South doubled again. He is still waiting for North to find a spade lead.

Daily Bridge Puzzle

Composed by Derrick Niederman. Solution on page 6.

Dave was a bit on the shy side, and he was reluctant to approach the lovely woman he kept seeing at the bridge club. He decided one afternoon that he'd ask her out if they played against one another, but when she sat down at her table Dave saw that they were both playing North-South. He then counted upward starting from his own table, just to make sure he knew her table number, and proceeded to write a little note, which he folded and taped to one of the boards they had just made.

He wrote on the outside "Do not open until the last round," and then described to his partner what he was up to.

At that point, Dave went to the kitchen to get a cup of coffee. When he returned, his partner seemed worried.

"What's the matter?" Dave asked.

"They changed the movement when you were in the kitchen," his partner said. "Since we have 13 tables, a bunch of people felt that a two-board movement would be better, so that's what the director did. Your little note scheme may not work out so well now."

Dave thought things over, but finally said, "No problem."

What table was Dave sitting at? What about his intended date?

Zen & the art of bridge

By Bruce Greenspan 1. The #1 rule of bridge – There are no rules, only guidelines.

2. How many of you play better after partner whines and complains about your play? Assume this is also true of your partner.

3. Keep the bidding in mind as you play the contract. I know the bidding happened so long ago, but it is highly informative. Declarer play is much easier when you know where the opposition high cards are hiding. If there is an overcall or double, put most of those points in that hand. If the opponent makes a two-suited overcall such as Michaels or an unusual 2NT, it can give you a road map on how to play the hand.

4. Stay in the present. If you worry about a mistake you made last deal, you'll be worrying about a mistake you made on this one when the board after that comes up. As much as anything, the ability to forget about what just happened separates the experts from the rest. Focus on the present. Michael Rosenberg, one of the top 10 players in the world, wrote a wonderful book entitled Bridge, Zia . . . and me. He spent an entire chapter describing mistakes he made in world championships. Trust me, if he's going to make them, so are you. Learn from them and move on. Dwell on them and you and your partner are in for a long night.

5. If you really want to learn how to play this great game, call me for lessons (just kidding). Move up in level as soon as you are possible. Start with the intermediate/newcomer game to learn the structure. As soon as you are comfortable, move up to the open stratified game. Finally, move up to Flight A. Play against the best players and learn from them.

6. In the Blue Ribbon Pairs against Zia, vul against not, I held:

- 🔺 K 7 6
- ∢AQJ7654
- ♦76
- $ 6

Zia opened $1 \blacklozenge$ and my partner doubled, Zia's partner bid $3 \blacklozenge$, weak, and somehow I found the $4 \blacklozenge$ bid. Zia sized me up, not realizing he would be in this article, and bid 4NT. My partner passed and Zia's partner bid 5♣. I wasn't sure what Zia was doing, but if he was trying to convince me that he had a big hand, I wasn't buying it. I bid 5♥ (making). It was a great learning experience. Next time this situation comes up, I'll bid 4NT.

7. Be flexible. Make adjustments if necessary as you play the contract. Preconceived notions can be deadly. When partner is on lead and plays a 9, don't assume it is top of nothing. Look at your cards, dummy's cards and the card declarer plays. A 9 may be the lowest of three cards.

8. Search out the top players in you area. For the most part, they will be happy to offer advice on bidding and play. Avoid those players who think they are the top players and give lessons during play.

9. Count, Count, Count. Audrey Grant says that there are three types of bridge players, those who count and those who don't. Which one are you? The more you count, the easier the game becomes. However, be aware when you start counting, your game may hit a speed bump. You're so involved with the counting aspect, the basics may disappear in the tall grass.

10. Don't get discouraged. Bridge is a most humbling game, and sometime it seems you get sucked in to a black hole and will never get out.

Cartoons Jude Goodwin, from the book Go Ahead, Laugh, published by Master Point Press.

Don't worry, as the doctor said to the patient with a kidney stone, "This, too, will pass."

11. Cherish your partner. Without him or her, you would be playing solitaire.

Bidding commentary: As North, you are a point shy to jump shift to $2 \bigstar$ with a balanced hand, and 2NT is out with no diamond stopper. South's 1NT rebid shows a good 7 to10 high-card points and at least one diamond stopper – enough for North to bid 3NT.

commentary: As East, with $\diamond A Q J 10 6$, normal third hand play at notrump is the 10 to drive out the king, retaining at least one diamond in partner's hand.

Play commentary: As South, you have no "time" to drive out the \mathbf{v} A. The opponents will take four diamonds and a heart. Take the spade finesse instead. This spade layout is tricky. Start with the 9, underplaying the 6 from dummy. After the 9 holds, continue with the queen, underplaying the 10, and finally low to the jack. If you start with the queen and West plays low, you will wind up in dummy the next time you lead the suit with no entry back to your hand to repeat the finesse. Play the same with J-9-x facing A-Q-10-x. Start with the 9, not the jack.

Dutch

of playing bridge at one's club- however often its doors open – is about $130.

Trippaers says there are another 1100 duplicate clubs in his country that are not affiliated with the national organization.

He says a study not long ago indicated that there are 500,000 people in the Netherlands who play duplicate at least one every couple of weeks.

The ACBL has about 3200 sanctioned clubs, but ACBL membership is not required for players at the various clubs.

Trippaers says the NBB provides software to each club – most of which use electronic scoring such as the Bridge Mate – to allow for downloading to the federation web site of every game. Most of the reports include the contracts that were played by each pair – and those using computer-generated deals include the deals as well as the scores.

As Trippaers describes the average NBB member, there are close similarities to ACBL members, especially in their focus on local games. "Most of our players don't know or care about the international game," he says.

There's another similarity between ACBL and the NBB – an aging membership. Trippaers says the average age of the NBB member has edged upwards of 65. They, like their ACBL counterparts, also like their masterpoints.

He says two factors have made bridge a popular leisure-time activity in his country.

First, in the Seventies, before everyone had 100 or more TV channels to watch, there was a program on television about how to play bridge. About the same time, a how-to-play-bridge book titled From Start to Finish was published and sold more than 1 million copies.

That laid the foundation for the Dutch people's interest in the game, and the NBB has made it a priority to "keep in contact with members," sending them a 74-page, full-color magazine 11 times a year and setting up an Internet bridge club called Step Bridge – annual dues 30 euros. "We do a lot for our players," Trippaers says.

Players who represent the Netherlands in international competition receive subsidies from the Dutch Olympics Committee, and there are programs for teaching bridge in schools, although Trippaers says, "There aren't enough of them."

Lately, he says, the NBB and the Dutch government have combined efforts to try to tear people away from their television sets and get them to social activities, including bridge, and the NBB is formulating a campaign aimed at getting people between 40 and 45 to return to bridge. He says some clubs have begun offering players the opportunity to select the number of boards they want to play when they show up for a session, and the movements are set up to accommodate those who play as few as 16 deals before heading for home.

Clubs that have adopted this policy, he says, have seen their memberships soar. Some have seen such large increases that they had to stop accepting new members. "They don't have the space," he says.

Do you seek perfection?

By Brian Senior

What's your philosophy? Do you look for any possible slam, giving away information to the defense, or just settle for game and make the defense more difficult?

At pairs, I am a strong believer in the latter approach. After all, an extra overtrick could win the board just as easily as finding a perfect-fit slam. Take this deal from the first qualifying session of the Kaplan Blue Ribbon Pairs.

The simple jump to game paid huge dividends when one of the game's modern-day greats, Alfredo Versace, cashed a top diamond, thought a bit and tried an aggressive switch to the $\bigstar K$ – not the play to paralyze declarer!

The A was followed by the \forall A and \forall K, then the 42. That slipped past the ace, and now the simple spade finesse provided a discard for dummy's remaining club. That was 12 tricks for plus 480 and all 25 matchpoints.

West led the \diamond K, then the \diamond Q, forcing Hackett to ruff. He cashed the \clubsuit A and viewed West's jack with grave suspicion. Hackett judged to lead a low club to the 10 and queen, and back came the \diamond A, ruffed.

When Hackett led a low club, West discarded a spade, so dummy could ruff cheaply. Hackett led a heart to the ace and decided that hearts rated to be 4-1, so he played the &K, West discarding, then another club. When West again discarded, so did Hackett, after which he was home.

At the other table, $6 \forall$ was down three, declarer having no option but to play the A and the K.

Solution to the bridge puzzle on page 3.

Assuming that Dave wasn't willing to let just anyone read his note, it follows that the board in question will end up at the same table regardless of the movement. That would happen if he was sitting at table 7, preparing board 21, with his intended recipient at table 13. In a 13-table, three-board movement, board 21 would start at table 7 and end up at table 13. In a two-board movement, board 21 would start at table 11 and again end up at table 13.

The only other boards that are similarly "fixed" in a 13-table movement are boards 23, 24, 25, and 26. The first two would end up at table 1 regardless, while the last two would end up at table 2. But the conditions of the problem suggested that Dave was at a lowernumbered table than the woman he wanted to get together with.

Six years later, less happy ending

Playing in the Mixed Board-a-Match Teams with Lisa Berkowitz, I opened the South hand with a Precision 1. Our unfamiliar partnership reached the inelegant contract of 6NT by North. East could have left well enough alone and led his K for down four. When he greedily doubled, I ran to 7. knowing his partner would be on lead. Against 7. West didn't find the spade lead, so we made our grand slam and went on to win the event.

Now, six years later, in the first session of the Kaplan Blue Ribbon Pairs came this deal:

I opened the East hand 1NT showing 14-16. This time, my partner was Lisa's husband, David Berkowitz. He bid 4. (Gerber), and over the oneace reply he bid 6NT. This would have made easily if the opening leader didn't know to lead spades.

Déjà vu – the opening leader had the A Kand greedily doubled. More déjà vu – David ran to $7 \pm !$ South chose not to double. Now, North had to find a spade lead or we would take all 13 tricks. Mildred Breed thought it over and guessed to lead a spade, down 2. Not so happy an ending this time. I've got to stop reaching 6NT off cashing ace-kings.

Queen finding for dummies

By Barry Rigal

On this deal from the first qualifying session of the Kaplan Blue Ribbon Pairs, Bill Pollack demonstrated that the best way to play a contract on which you need to locate a queen is to ignore the suit.

Pollack, West, played in $4 \bigstar$ after his partner opened $1 \bigstar$ and South overcalled $2 \clubsuit$.

The defense started with three rounds of clubs. Pollack ruffed the third round in dummy and cashed the A and AQ, getting the bad news.

He the played a heart to the ace, a diamond to the ace, cashed the \mathbf{V} K and ruffed a heart. Now a second diamond was followed by a second heart ruff, getting his trick total to nine. The \mathbf{A} K represented the 10th trick. Even if the \mathbf{V} been offside, Pollack still would have had 10 tricks.

After North had shown both majors, Pollack played in 4. North led a top spade and shifted to a diamond. Pollack finessed and played to the \mathbf{VA} , then followed with the \mathbf{A} , heart ruff, diamond ruff, heart ruff, diamond ruff, heart ruff. This was the ending:

Notice to night owls

Players should be advised that the over-street walkway connecting the Westin Hotel with the Copley Place Mall closes at 2 a.m. each evening.

Players that need to cross from the Westin to the Marriott after that hour must do so outside.

Pollack exited with a spade to North's king. North could exit with a club to dummy's king, but Pollack had a trump coup at the end.

Endplay By Brian Senior

Board 10 from the first qualifying session of the Kaplan Blue Ribbon Pairs was a wild affair, featuring a solid nine-card suit in a 9-4 hand – which frequently was held by a defender.

As we are assured by Deep Finesse, even 6 is cold if played by West. This is because the K can be overtaken without costing a club trick. However, what about 5 on a diamond lead?

I watched declarer ruff, overtake the $\bigstar K$ and play the $\forall J$, which held the trick, then a heart to the queen and ace. He continued with a spade to the 10 and queen. South cashed the $\forall K$, but that was it for the defense, courtesy of the very fortunate club position.

Best is for declarer to lead an intermediate heart from hand at trick two, say the 7, playing low from dummy. South wins but is now endplayed to give the extra dummy entry to pick up trumps and lose, at worst, one spade trick, whatever the lie of the black suits.

Brilliancy missed

On this deal, I thought our opponents had the chance to be brilliant, but it was a difficult play to find.

As West in third seat, you hold:

♥ 10 8 5 4 3 2

and decide to open 2Ψ , and the auction proceeds as follows:

West	North	East	South
		Pass	Pass
2♥	2♠	Pass	2NT
Pass	3NT	Dbl	All Pass

You have been dealt the natural lead of the A and see no reason not to make it. This is what you see in dummy:

٨	A K J 9 4
¥	A76
٠	QJ9

♣ J 9

Partner plays a discouraging card on your high diamond. What next?

Partner presumably has a spade stack. Do you need to play the suit now? At the table, West played his partner for three diamonds and played a low one. Declarer won and played a third diamond as East showed out, pitching an encouraging club.

At that point, it was too late for the defense. Declarer can cash a top spade and all the diamonds and hearts and endplay East in clubs to lead a spade into the tenace. To set the contract, you have to play a club to partner's queen at trick two. Declarer must duck, and now the A and another club breaks up the endplay.

Bruce Ferguson: Genius

Bruce Ferguson found a brilliant defense on this deal from the Tuesday-Wednesday knockouts. Ferguson was playing with team captain Bob Hollman against Mary Ann Berg's squad.

Ferguson picked up (spots approximate):

His right-hand opponent opened $1 \checkmark$, Ferguson overcalled $2 \diamond$ on his four-card suit, LHO bid $3 \diamond$ (limit-plus), and Hollman passed. Opener bid $4 \checkmark$ ending the auction.

Ferguson led the \blacklozenge A and saw this dummy:

¥	K 10 6
•	1072
+	K 10 8 3

♥9753

• A K O 8

• O J 4

Ferguson next cashed the \diamond K Q, all following. His partner played diamonds up the line, showing either no preference for a switch or something in clubs. How to continue?

Ferguson reasoned that if partner held neither black ace, the contract could still be defeated if East held as much as the singleton $\forall J$ or $\forall Q$. Besides, if partner held a black ace, it was difficult to see how it could go away. Ferguson continued, therefore, with the 13th diamond.

Bid Box Alerts and Announcements

When using bid boxes, ACBL suggests that players tap the Alert strip and say "Alert" at the same time.

When making an Announcement, use the Announcement word — such as "transfer" — and tap the Alert strip at the same time.

A player who Alerts or Announces a bid should make sure his opponents are aware that an Alert or Announcement has been made.

Bruce Ferguson: Idiot

Forget that nonsense you just read in the "Bruce Ferguson: Genius" article. Here's what really happened. Ferguson found a way to let through a no-play game on this deal from the Tuesday-Wednesday knockouts. Ferguson was playing with team captain Bob Hollman against Mary Ann Berg's squad.

halftime score was DeMartino 57, Milner 47.

The Milner squad retaliated in the third set, however, establishing an 89-74 lead with 16 boards left to play. DeMartino was unable to close the difference in the final quarter, and Milner claimed the win.

This is the first time that any of the members of the Milner team have won the Senior Knockouts, with the exception of Sundelin, who was on the winning squad in 2002.

Please help with international study

By Leslie B. Williams

"Over my years of travels, I have discovered that associated with virtually every culture and country is one piece of literature that gives you an entrée into that country or culture like nothing else," Dr. R.E.D. Woolsey, CSM Professor Emeritus, explained as his motivation for the comprehensive list of books and plays that one should read for the purpose of relaxing the barriers and formalities of first meetings and turning those times into wonderful conversations and business relationships.

The list was compiled circa 1980. My goal is to update this list and to make it more comprehensive.

Looking beyond literature into the culture itself, what historical figure or great event could I mention to create an immediate bond of commonality and respect that would foster more learning and friendship?

At tournaments, our friendships begin, thrive and end with bridge. If we were to randomly meet at a café in your home country, though, what would entice you to show me the locally treasured spots in your town?

In China, mentioning the recent Olympics is a prime conversation starter and a transition into a search for knowledge of culture means friends for life. Natives do appreciate it when someone takes the time to better understand their country and culture beyond the common tourist mantra, "Let's see, let's eat, let's go."

I have only a few days here at the 2008 Fall NABC and I knew it would be a perfect spot to collect such cultural insights. Everyone calls the NABCs the "Nationals," but it is truly an international forum.

As a kid growing up with a bridge-playing father and now as a master's student in international political economy, I am blessed to have connections and friendships with many of you. May I meet and play against you all someday!

The study's folder will be waiting to collect your cultural notes on the fourth floor of the Marriott Copley by the TV screen on the tables shared by the Junior Team tee shirt sales and Jade's Bridge Services through Friday.

The folder is purple with instructions in green on the front cover. Contained within is the original list of countries and their associated books and plays. Blank pages are provided for updates, expositions and, of course, new countries.

All participation is greatly appreciated. The results will be posted on www.bigelkbridge.com after the New Year.

Thank you and happy Thanksgiving bidding. — LB business, which requires a lot of travel, and spending time with his family – wife Dominique, 14-year-old son Austin and 11-year-old daughter Ashleigh.

According to his father, Chris played a lot as a youngster but pretty much gave up the game once he left home and started a family. Chris said the last time he played at an NABC was in Boston in the summer of 1990.

Roger, a retired computer analyst, plays every day back in Florida. He said both wives were "very tolerant to let us come to the tournament right before Thanksgiving."

The two played Kaplan-Sheinwold with 11-14 1NT openers.

Life Master news

Another of ACBL's newest Life Masters is Jim Watters of Lansdale PA. He became an LM in the B/C/D Swiss Teams on Wednesday. Watters played with Elaine Watters, also of Lansdale PA, Harvey Rosenthal of Boston MA and Jim Kingsdale of

Harvard University Bridge Quiz Study Winners and Results

On Nov. 24-25, 241 ACBL players at the Boston NABC participated in a Harvard University research study on decision-making in bridge. The study involved taking a bridge quiz designed by famed bridge expert Michael Rosenberg, completing a risk-taking task, and providing a DNA sample via mouthwash.

The study was designed to investigate the biological bases of risk-taking and decision making. Previous studies in economics and psychology have found that the version of the dopamine receptor gene DRD4 a person possesses can predict their risk taking propensity in laboratory studies. This experiment studied the role genes play role in "real life" risk-taking, specifically in bidding choices on bridge hands, and also a monetary risk decision.

The bridge quiz and answers, along with more information on the study, are available online at http://fas.harvard.edu/~drand/bridge.htm. The DNA analysis will take a few months, but the ultimate study results will be reported in full on this website.

Four $250 prizes were awarded to the highest bridge quiz scorers in different masterpoint categories. Congratulations to the winners!

0 to 199 Masterpoints: Dr. N.B. Moyes 200 to 499 Masterpoints: Bart Bussink 500 to 2999 Masterpoints: Renee Senior 3000+ Masterpoints: Marilyn Hemenway

Interestingly, there was only a modest (not statistically significant) relationship between a person's number of masterpoints and their score on the bridge quiz.

In addition to the bridge quiz winners, Linda Herman, Cynthia M. Schneider, and Denise Zongas were randomly selected to participate in a financial risk-taking task. The task involved choosing how much of $250 to risk in a 2.5 to 1 payoff on an even money bet. Players with more masterpoints tended to risk more money on this highly favorable bet. They gambled $5 more for every 1000 masterpoints held. The average amount risked in the 0-199 masterpoint category was $136, versus $197 in the 3000+ masterpoint category.

The study was overseen by Richard Zeckhauser, the Frank Plumpton Ramsey Professor of Political Economy at Harvard University.

Tournament Terminology 101

If you're confused by the terms used to describe the different types of bridge events played at clubs and tournaments, you're not alone. Here's a list of common bridge events with explanations.

Masterpoints: the unit which measures bridge achievement in competition. Masterpoints are awarded at ACBL clubs and tournaments in amounts proportional to the size and classification of the event and the rating of the club or tournament.

• Black points: awarded at club games. Some special club games award red, gold or silver points.

• Red points: awarded for section placements at regional tournaments and NABCs. Also awarded at clubs for special events such as the qualifying rounds of the North American Open Pairs and the Grand National Teams.

• Gold points: awarded for section firsts and overall placing in regionally rated events that have no upper masterpoint restrictions.

• Platinum points: awarded for NABC+ events.

Gold points are also awarded for sectional firsts and overall placing in regional events of two or more sessions that have a masterpoint limit of 750 or more points.

One gold point is awarded to section winners in the annual ACBL Instant Matchpoint Game in sections of seven or more tables.

In addition, new players may now win gold points in their own NABC events: 1.50 gold in the National 199er Pairs at the Summer NABC and 1.00 gold in the National 99er Pairs at the Fall NABC (the remainder of the award is in red points).

A major source of gold points is the bracketed knockout teams. The overall awards for the top brackets are all gold while the lower brackets may receive a percentage of gold points and the remainder in red points.

• Silver points: awarded for sectional firsts and overall placing at sectional tournaments. Also awarded at Sectional Tournaments at Clubs (StaC).

Barry Crane Top 500 race: This trophy is presented to the ACBL player who wins the most masterpoints during a calendar year.

Mini-McKenney races: In 1974 the ACBL Board of Directors voted to recognize masterpoint achievements among player below the rank of Life Master. The Bridge Bulletin recognizes leaders ACBL-wide. At the unit level, winners in each category receive recognition and special medallions.

All points won during a calendar year are counted in these races.

Ace of Clubs contests: This competition was created in 1984 to recognize achievement at the club level. Winners are recognized at the unit level as well as ACBL-wide.

Points won only at the club level --- excluding the North American Open Pairs, the Grand National Teams and Sectional Tournaments at Clubs --- are counted in these races.

Masterpoint races: ACBL recognizes the players who win the most masterpoints in their categories during the calendar year. The categories include Life Master, Bronze LM, Silver LM, Gold LM, Diamond LM, Emerald LM, Platinum LM, Grand LM, Youth, Junior, Sectional (points won only at sectional tournaments during the year), Senior, Online and Richmond Trophy.

These are the various categories and the requirements for each category at the beginning of a calendar year:

0--5 masterpoints 5--20 points 20--50 points 50--100 points 100--200 points 200--300 points 300--500 points 500--1000 points 1000--2500 points 5000--7500 points 5000--7500 points 7500--10,000 points 10,000 or more points

Youth: age 19 and younger Junior: age 25 and younger Sectional: points won only at sectional tournaments

Senior: 55+ years, points won only in Senior events

Online: points won in online (computer) play Richmond Trophy: awarded to the Canadian Bridge Federation member who wins the most points in a calendar year.

NABC Diary

Honest man

Robin Hillyard and Len Aberbach were impressed by one of their opponents in the 0-5000 Blue Ribbon Pairs. They defended 3NT very well – taking four tricks. Making three, all agreed – all but one, that is. Declarer, Peter Morse, said, "No, down one – I was in 4NT."

Good manners

Jay Whipple of Boca Grande FL dropped by the Daily Bulletin office to offer compliments to two of his opponents in a team event. Earlier in the tournament, Whipple had an unpleasant experience with two expert players, although his team won the match. Later, he lost a match playing against Chris Moll and Bruce Reeve, but found the difference in demeanor at the second table worth noting. "It was a pleasure to play against them," Whipple said.

Say what?

Coming soon – Allan Falk's quiz on lexicography. Caution: Skip it if you suffer from hippopotomonstrosesquipedaliophobia.

Should have skipped dinner

Mark Horton, who has been making outstanding contributions to the Daily Bulletins, was recruited to fill in for a session in the Kent County A/X Swiss Teams. He left the team undefeated and went to dinner, and was chagrined, on his return, to find out that the squad had been blitzed on the first two rounds of the second half and withdrawn, repairing to the bar. "You can always find Austrians in the bar," said Horton.

Émigré?

Jan van Cleeff, expert player and founder of IMP, a Dutch bridge magazine, called the director to the table during a session of the Kaplan Blue Ribbon Pairs because of misinformation. The director ruled in his favor, prompting van Cleeff to declare, "I'm going to emigrate to the U.S. I can win a ruling here."

Director!

There was an editing error in the article for newcomers on page 4 in the Wednesday Daily Bulletin. The scene depicted was one in which a player opener $1 \bigstar$ and an inattentive opponent overcalled $1 \clubsuit$. At that point, the article said, the director was called. TD Mike Roberts thought the timing of the director call was noteworthy inasmuch as the hand shown on the page had only 12 cards.

Lost pencil

Bert Adams of Steilacoom WA was very distressed to lose a Cross mechanical pencil from his convention card during a game on Wednesday. It was a gift from his father and means a lot to him. If you find it, Adams requests that you call his cell phone at 253-682-7405.

Nov. 27 Cape Cod Day

Cape Cod is well-known to travelers as the most famous beach region in all of New England, offering spectacular ocean settings with views of wide dune fields and sandy bluffs. Add to this the charm of numerous harbors, quaint villages and forests with the smell of the sea, and you'll understand the unique lure of this beautiful tourist location.

Besides its sandy beaches, Cape Cod is rich in history and offers a variety of activities to please visitors of all ages. The upper cape bridges serve as the entry way to this elbow-shaped peninsula located in the eastern most portion of Massachusetts. Early American history abounds here with towns founded in the early days of American history. Mid-cape highlights include a natural history museum of Cape

Cod, ferry service to the nearby vacation islands of Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard, whale watch excursions, and Hyannis Harbor tours where you might see Basking sharks, ocean sun fish, dolphins, porpoises and more. Glassblowing and shaping at the glass factory is both educational and entertaining. Heading down cape toward Provincetown, you'll pass the National Seashore and the location of the Marconi early experimental radio transmission station that successfully sent radio signals to Europe for the first time. Provincetown is past the picturesque dunes at Truro and offers a variety of shops that highlight the local arts. The 250 foot tall Pilgrim Tower located there is built on a hill and can be seen from about 15 miles away. Whale watching tours and fishing trips are available from the wharves here to enjoy the bounties of the Atlantic Ocean.

Whether you're looking for colonial history or modern activities, Cape Cod provides a spectrum of entertainment and educational endeavors. Restaurants of all type abound and are famous for their exceptional seafood cuisine. Whether you want to explore America's early heritage, laze on the warm, sandy beaches, shop in the many unique little stores, or commune with nature on the many beautiful nature and bike trails, Cape Cod provides that special getaway with something for all to enjoy.
