Bill Gates

When you hear the names Bill Gates and Warren Buffett, what's the first thing you think of? That's right -- money! Both spend long hours -- Gates with computers and Buffett with investments -- making everything work just right. But they need relaxation once in a while, just like everyone else. And they've found that relaxation in bridge, just as we have.

Buffett has been playing bridge for years, but Gates is new to the game. In fact he won his first masterpoints (gold at that) at the first regional he ever attended. He played in Everett WA about two weeks ago.

He tried the Stratified Pairs, partnered by Sharon Osberg, a world champion who also is a close friend. They scratched in the first session with 51.5%, but they came on strong in the second, tallying 62.5% and finishing second in their group. Since the group com-

Senior KO final: Budd vs. Sternberg

Teams captained by Richard Budd and Jim Sternberg won their respective matches yesterday to advance to the final round of the Microsoft Senior Knockout Teams.

BUDD (Budd, Portland ME; Robert Ryder, Caldwell NJ; Shome Mukherjee, Randolph MA; William Hunter, Reading MA) narrowly defeated the team of Jan NATHAN (Nathan, Manhattan Beach CA; Steve Mager, Hermosa Beach CA; Si Dombu and Adis Dombu, Las Vegas NV; Jerry Pietscher, Elk Grove CA) by a score of 108-105.

In the other semifinal matchup, the team of Jim STERNBERG (Sternberg, Jupiter FL; Bernie Chazen, Tamarac FL; Allan Cokin, Palm Beach FL; Billy Eisenberg, Boca Raton FL; Richard Reisig, Delray Beach FL; Robert Lipsitz, Palm Harbor FL) defeated the squad of Hamish BENNETT (Bennett, Menlo Park CA; Gene Simpson, Redlands CA; Jim Robison, Las Vegas NV; Garey Hayden, Tucson AZ) by a 128-100 total.

Scores by quarter:

Millard Nachtwey and Betty Bratcher

What it's like to be head directors

Berkowitz-Cohen lead Blue Ribbon

At the end of the second semifinal session of the Edgar Kaplan Blue Ribbon Pairs, David Berkowitz and Larry Cohen lead the field with a score of 3028.35. Berkowitz and Cohen won the event in 1995. Cohen has won the contest on three other occasions, playing with partners Ron Gerard in 1981 and Marty Bergen in 1983 and 1988.

The leaders have a one-board edge over Russ Ekeblad and John Sutherlin, who posted a 2946.48 score.

In third place is the new partnership of Geir Helgemo and Richard Freeman with 2917.20. Perennial pair-event contenders Eric Greco and Geoff Hampson are in the fourth-place slot, while defending champions Zia Mahmood and Howard Weinstein are currently in sixth place.

The two final sessions will be played today.

Attendance: 9212 tables

Attendance through Wednesday evening was 9212 tables, outpacing the estimated 8340.

Total projected attendance is in the 13,000-13,500 range.

What's it like to move from giving rulings to ruling directors?

"I don't mind the decisions and administration," said Millard Nachtwey, serving his first term as chief director for a North American tournament here. "But I sure miss dealing with the people. It seems that the only people I deal with in this job are those who have problems."

"I love it -- it's a challenge," said Betty Bratcher, assistant chief director for the first time. "Most of my work is with my fellow directors, and I love the directors -- they're great."

"My work here is exciting," said Nachtwey. "There were lots of problems at the beginning, but I'd rather have the kind of problems that come up when the tournament is bigger than expected than those you face when the tournament falls short of expectations. It was extremely hectic at the start because of the wonderful attendance, but things have settled down now.

"I've had to learn all kinds of different processes in order to cope with a tournament this size. None of Continued on page 4  hour, and torrential rains were attacking his home in the Virgin Islands. Homes around him were losing their roofs and being flooded. The hurricane had hovered over the area for many hours (12 before it finally moved on), and the situation was becoming desperate.

Just then the phone rang. It was John Sutherlin. "John, we've got to go over our system for Boston," said Sutherlin.

"I'm on the verge of losing my roof and I'm trying to keep my house from being flooded. Hurricane Lenny is blowing up 150-mile an hour gusts. I can't talk."

"Oh, I understand," said Sutherlin. "I'll keep it short. Let's just talk about we're going handle weak-twos and Flannery."

No question about it -- bridge is the No. 1 priority for bridge players.

(Despite the severity of the storm, the damage to the Virgin Islands was only cosmetic, and the islanders were back on their feet within 24 hours, according to Mohan.)

Just like everybody else, North-South reached 3NT and got a heart lead. Declarer, North, captured the second heart, then cashed four diamonds. Now he led a spade from dummy and accidentally put the  $\bigstar$ 4, not a high spade, on it. Jeff looked at this for a while and took it with the ACE, then cashed out his hearts for down one.

Deceptive opening lead

After his opponents arrived in 6NT in only four bids, Jim Bachelder was somewhat leery about leading away from a king. It so happens that leading fourth best from his longest and strongest would have worked, but it seemed foolhardy at trick one. The deal is from the second qualifying session of the Blue Ribbon Pairs.

After his funeral he throws a party

Even in death Tom O'Connor of Edmonton AB managed one last bridge game.

True, he wasn't there in body, but his spirit certainly sat in with the 230 players who turned out at the Edmonton Bridge Centre for the bridge session he gave them last Saturday. Everybody played for free, there was lots of food, and there were many prizes, including three bottles of champagne.

"My dad believed he was dealt a pretty good hand," son Kevin told the players at the memorial tournament. "In bridge, as in life, he understood the importance of playing every card to the best of his ability. Thank you for sharing my father's journey."

Tom himself had done the planning for this tournament, even though he knew his cancer was killing him. Bart Symons, one of the players, said, "Tom's parting gift was typical of him. He was an avid enthusiast and an absolute gentleman."

One of us is definitely getting older

By David Berkowitz

I want to thank everyone who has wished me a happy birthday. I was considering my advanced age when I looked across the table and watched Larry Cohen, who recently turned 40, fidgeting with his glasses, having problems getting them focused. Perhaps that explains Board 10 from the second Blue Ribbon session against Lew Stansby and Steve Weinstein

A strong club sequence landed us in 3NT from East, and Stansby led a diamond. Now the pin holding Larry's glasses together fell out and everybody was trying to put them back together.

Larry won the diamond, squinted a bit, crossed to his spade and floated the  $\clubsuit10$ . He then led a club to the jack, cashed the ace and claimed five. He stated he would unblock the diamonds, play a spade to his hand, cash the  $\blacklozenge Q$  and finish the spades. Five spades, three diamonds and three clubs make 11. As he worked on his spectacles, the opponents informed him that the spades were 5-0, Larry having missed the discard (a red card yet!) But look! On the fifth spade (his stated line) Weinstein had to win and give the declarer the ♥K. Making five, as advertised. Shades of the Rueful Rabbit!!

The kicker to the story -- the contract was 3NT doubled, so his plus 200 was still a complete top -- but kudos to Meckstroth anyway.

At the Westin, tournament directors Steve Bates and Henry Cukoff will accept entries from team captains or representatives until 8 p.m. Thursday. TD Terry Lavender will accept entries at the Marriott in the Boston College Room, 3rd floor. The event begins 1 p.m. Friday.

1NT Pass 6NT All Pass Bachelder ruled out hearts and clubs for his opening lead -- too much chance he might be giving away the 12th trick since partner was marked for close to a yarborough. He finally decided on the ♠J. Declarer won with the queen and unblocked the diamonds. Declarer could see 11 tricks with a 12th trick if the spades broke 3-3. But he of course decided that a 3-3 break was highly unlikely based on the opening lead. And note that useful entries to dummy were few and far between.

So he led the $9, reasonably sure LHO had four to the jack-10. He hoped that South had been dealt the doubleton 8. But even if North had J-10-8-X, North wouldn't not be able to stop declarer from taking four spade tricks on a subsequent finesse to the 7. But all this careful planning came to naught -- when declarer let the ♠9 ride, South, Helen Baumann, was most surprised to win a trick with the 10. Subsequently declarer was forced to take the heart finesse. When this failed, he found himself down one as a result of Bachelder's deceptive opening lead.

I leave it to the reader to determine which one of us is handling his old age better.

As Mary I of England said, "When I die, the word 'Calais' will be found on my heart." If Eddie Kantar is to have an inscription on his grave, it will be  $\clubsuit$ K-10. (Kantar lost a world championship to the famed Italian Blue Team when the Italians reached a grand slam in clubs with Kantar, on lead, holding the  $\clubsuit$ K-10. Unfortunately, the dummy came down with the  $\clubsuit$ A-Q.) Look at Board 5 from the second qualifying session of the Open Board-a-Match Teams.

Both tables in Kantar's match reached  $4 \triangleq$ , and the North players weren't able to attack trumps. The  $\blacklozenge Q$  was led to the ace for a trump shift. Declarer ruffed a diamond and led the  $\clubsuit Q$ . Kantar's teammates covered and North was subsequently squeezed in the minors for 480.

By contrast, Michael Rosenberg, playing against Kantar, DUCKED the  $\clubsuit Q$ . Now the entries for the squeeze are destroyed, so that was yet another chapter to be added to the Kantar misfortunes involving the  $\clubsuit K$ -10.

North led the  $\blacklozenge$ A and shifted to the  $\blacklozenge$ 9. Baker rose with the  $\bigstar K$ , and played a club to the king and North's ace. North made the good play of a low diamond, allowing South to ruff. South got out with a spade and Baker ducked, winning the 10 in dummy. Trumps were drawn in two rounds and Baker played a heart to the 10. South ducked, trying to avoid the endplay, but she couldn't get off the hook. Baker returned to her hand with a diamond ruff and played a second heart, covering North's queen with the king. South won the ace, but either had to put declarer back in the dummy with the good hearts, or lead away from the  $\bigstar Q$ .

Plus 110 was a valiant effort Baker in a losing cause --- the team lost the board anyway.

The right spirit

A pair told a tournament director they weren't signed up for any game but would be willing to fill in if needed. The director knew there was a half-table hole in the 199er Pairs, so he asked them to fill in. It turned out they weren't eligible -- too many points, but they were willing to play just for fun -- no points. As they were heading for the game, they suddenly went back to the director and said, "Would it be better if we ditched our usual system? We're perfectly willing to play straight Standard American so that none of our opponents will feel intimidated."

Robinson's opening bid showed a solid major with one outside ace or king. Boyd had no trouble working out that spades was Robinson's suit and that Robinson also had a red king. He could count 12 top tricks, and he knew there were multiple chances for a 13th, so he bid the grand.

Nachtwey graduated from Bucknell University in 1974, where he majored in English with a concentration in drama -- just the way to get ready for a directing career. He became a tournament director a year later and became a full-time director in 1984. He was promoted to national director in 1995. In addition to being a National Tournament Director, he is also field supervisor for directors in Districts 6 and 7 (the Mid-Atlantic area).

He had high words of praise for Bratcher: "Betty is immensely good at all the detail work that is such an essential part of her job at this tournament."

Bratcher returned the compliment: "It's wonderful working with Millard."

She says the biggest part of her job here is managing the staff -- "I have to make sure I put all the right directors in the right places. It's highly detail oriented, and I've always loved detail work. I love being out with the people the way I always have been at NABCs, and I miss that. But I welcome the change and the challenge. And it's great to be working so closely with the directors."

Hers is a two-director family, although husband Bob now only works part-time. "Bob and I have been working sectionals and regionals almost exclusively together since he dropped to part-time," Betty said. "You realize, of course, that Bob was my mentor. Whatever success I have had in directing I owe to him."

Your editor vividly remembers Betty. "Back in the days before computers, Betty used to come to tournaments with nothing to do, and we put her to work typing results for the Daily Bulletin," said Henry Francis. "She was great, and Sue Emery and I were sure sad when she made the move to directing in 1980. We certainly missed her, but we cheered her as she made her way up the ladder -- Associate National in 1995 and National as of last summer."

Betty really showed her worth as a director when she started running the Intermediate/Novice games at NABCs. She was a model of efficiency and graciousness.

Like Nachtwey, Bratcher is a field supervisor -her area is Districts 21, 22 and 23 in California. She took over in July when Tom Quinlan resigned the position.

Both Nachtwey and Bratcher are having their baptism of fire here in Boston, but they're coming through just fine.

Gates

prised two 15-table sections, the points for second place were gold.

Gates has played most of his bridge on the Internet, both on OKbridge and the Microsoft Zone. "I love the game," he said. "And I've made many bridge friends on the Internet." Monday after the tournament. As often as possible? Yes -- maybe twice a year!

One of the reasons Gates likes the game so much is because it requires problem solving ability and analysis, two of his strongest points, as his career with Microsoft has proved many times over.

Gates' most frequent partner on the Internet is Fred Gitelman of Toronto, a powerful internationalist who finished second in the Bermuda Bowl in China in 1995. He also has been instrumental in updating the Microsoft Gaming Zone internet bridge site. When Gates and Gitelman play together, they usually compete in a set game against Buffett and Osberg.

Gates got into bridge with Osberg's help. Gates' dad, Bill Sr., had played some before, and he got into the game before his son. But Bill Jr. was intrigued by the interest his father showed in the game and decided to try it himself. Now he's really into the game.

How did Buffett get started? Many players recognize Buffett as one of the players on the Corporate team that has played matches against Congress several times. It all started years ago when Osberg played with Carol Loomis in the Empire State Building version of the Epson Pairs. Loomis and Osberg became close friends, and Loomis introduced Osberg to her friend Buffett. Buffett wasn't too interested in all this until the word "bridge" came up, but his attitude changed when he heard the magic word.

"Bridge is an amazing game," said Buffett. "The more you play the more you realize how little you know. It's a very humbling game."

Bidding coup

By Barry Rigal

Valerie Westheimer, playing with Hjordis Eythorsdottir, was full of praise for a coup in the auction by Lynn Deas. The board in question came from Friday's second qualifying session in the Life Master Women's Pairs. When Lynn picked up with both sides vulnerable, Lynn heard 1  $\bigstar$  on her left and 2NT on her right -- a game-forcing raise in spades. Without hesitation Lynn bid 3  $\bigstar$ ! She wanted a club lead and she had complete safety in hearts if necessary. In fact her opponents bid on to the spade game, and the defense swiftly cashed out for down one as a result of the club bid -- partner led a club and got her third-round ruff. This was the hand:

▲ 4 ♥ Q J 10 9 7 2 ♦10 7 ♣ A K 9 6,

Had Lynn stayed out of the auction altogether, wouldn't North have led a diamond or a trump? Who can say?

have led the suit if he did. So it was highly more likely that South had a singleton  $\mathbf{\nabla} \mathbf{Q}$  or  $\mathbf{\nabla} \mathbf{K}$ , in which case the right play in trumps was to start with the ace.

Eventually I made the supreme journalistic sacrifice and led out the ace, sacrificing my column material and creating the maximum aggravation for myself when I got to see all 52 cards. What were his impressions of his first regional? It was quieter than he expected. He thinks that was due to the bidding boxes, something he had never seen before. He also was surprised that there were so few young people. He liked the regional game so much that he plans to play as often as possible now that he is an ACBL member -- yes, Osberg signed him up the

The Facts:  $6 \blacklozenge$  made six, plus 920 for N/S. The Director was called after a review and explanations but before dummy was tabled. E/W reported long hesitations before the  $5 \clubsuit$  and  $5 \blacklozenge$  bids. N/S said that there were other long hesitations. The Director changed the contract to  $5 \blacklozenge$  made six, plus 420 for N/S (Law16).

The Appeal: N/S appealed the Director's ruling and were the only players present for the hearing. They stated they had a progressively slower auction as the bidding got higher. 5 was a suggestion of a contract, 5  $\diamond$  confirmed good diamonds, thus 6  $\diamond$ . The Committee explored the N/S agreements in some depth. South could not rebid 3 because his hand was not strong enough; 4  $\checkmark$  over 3  $\bigstar$  would have been a splinter but South did not want to bypass 3NT.

The Committee Decision: The Committee believed that there was no unusual break in tempo for a complex slam-possible auction. Therefore, there was no unauthorized information present. The table result of  $6 \blacklozenge$  made six, plus 920 for N/S, was restored.

The Fa	cts: 3 🕭 made	four, plus	s 130 for N/S. North

The Facts: 3♣ made four, plus 130 for N/S. North asked East for an explanation of the double. Before East could finish the explanation, North requested that he stop the explanation. After 2♥ was Alerted, East stated that he asked for no explanation of the bid; after which South volunteered that the bid showed hearts and spades. After East bid 2♠, E/W alleged that there was a break in tempo before South passed. The Director was called when the dummy was put down. N/S contended that there had been no hesitation but that South did state, "I had a problem." The Director ruled there had been a break in tempo and that pass was a logical alternative for North. The contract was changed to 2♠ made three, plus 140 for E/W.

The Appeal: N/S appealed the Director's ruling. N/S stated that they did not notice any break in tempo. There was a discussion between East and South concerning the meaning of  $2\Psi$  which interrupted the auction. North did not think South had much in the majors when he didn't double  $2\clubsuit$  or bid  $3\Psi$  so he was likely to have a club fit. South said he was considering whether to double  $2 \clubsuit$  (which he clearly would have if 2 had showed hearts and spades) so it must have been noticeable to North. When asked, North said that South's pass was slightly slower than his other passes but that the situation was difficult to assess because the flow of the tempo changed with the table action after 2. E/W estimated that South's total hesitation after  $2 \triangleq$  and the discussion that followed  $2 \triangleq$  (about the meaning of  $2\Psi$ ) was "5-6 seconds, maybe less, maybe more, but it was a definite break in tempo."

The Committee Decision: The Committee found that it was likely that South had committed an unmistakeable hesitation over 24. In reaching this conclusion, the Committee focused more on the agreed upon statement by South ("I was considering doubling 2♠") and the nature of the South hand (rendering some thought virtually certain) than on the length of the hesitation, as to which there was no clear agreement. Having found that an unmistakeable hesitation occurred, the Committee held that pass was a logical alternative to  $3\clubsuit$ , that bidding was demonstrably suggested and that North's 3 bid was therefore disallowed. While South might have been considering action on a hand on which no eight-card fit was available (i.e. 3-2-5-3), the indication of extra values beyond a minimum suggested that North's three-level contract would be well placed. The Committee believed that while North's first two bids were marked given the decision to open 1NT, taking further action was not. The contract was changed to  $2 \bigstar$  made three, plus 140 for E/W.

Subject (Revoke): Event: Life Master Pairs, 20 Nov 99, First Final Session Anita Heitler Bd: 3 Dlr: South ♦ K J 3 ♥ 10 7 3 2 Vul: E/W ♦ J 5 뢒 J 9 6 3 Win Allegaert Mark Gordon ▲A96 ▲Q82 ♥ A K Q J 6 ♥98 ♦ Q 7 4 3 10982 ♣ A O 8 7 £ 5 Don Heitler ▲ 10754 ♥ 5 4 ♦ A K 6 ♣ K 10 4 2 West North East South Pass 1♥ Pass 1NT Dbl 2♦ Pass 3♦ Pass 3♠ Dbl 3NT All Pass

The Facts: Against 3NT South led the ♠4 (fourth best) to North's king followed by the ♠J won by East's queen. When declarer next played the 10 South rose with the king and cleared the spades on which North revoked, playing the ♣6. East next ran dummy's hearts, South pitching a diamond and two clubs while North pitched her third spade. East then played a club to the ace expecting South's king to fall (assuming South began with five spades). This was the first board of the round and the revoke was not noticed until after the second board was finished. North remarked at some point, "I guess you didn't see my spade discard." The Director was called. The Director determined that the equity provisions of Law 64C applied since the penalty provisions for the revoke (Law 64B4) did not apply due to when the revoke was noticed. The Director ruled that East had not been damaged by the failure to make the endplay on South -- North's third spade had appeared before he made his key decision. The table result was allowed to stand.

The Appeal: E/W appealed the Director's ruling. East (declarer) stated that he had figured South for 5-2-3-3 after North discarded on the third spade so he played South to have blanked the marked  $\clubsuit$ K. He was perplexed when the king didn't drop under the  $\clubsuit A$ , but he didn't say anything after the hand. It wasn't until the next hand that he asked about the distribution. He wasn't sure that North had discarded a spade on the fifth heart but thought perhaps it had been a club. He thought it unfair that he should go down when he likely would have made three without the revoke. North stated that she had definitely thrown her spade on the fifth heart and that if she had been trying to conceal the revoke she wouldn't have pitched it on a red card. She said she had to keep the  $\blacklozenge J$  and three clubs and that East had clearly not seen her spade discard.

The Decision: The Committee found that both East and West had been careless and forfeited their right to any equitable adjustment under Law 64B4, East by not noticing the spade discard and failing to call attention to the revoke and West by not calling attention to the revoke after the conclusion of play (as is dummy's right). Had either player drawn attention to the revoke, a one-trick penalty would have ensued. Since the failure to survive the grace period for calling attention to the revoke was entirely due to E/W's carelessness (North not being obligated to call attention to her own revoke), no equity adjustment was appropriate. There was some sentiment that E/W's appeal was without merit since it was questionable whether East could reasonably have believed that he was entitled to an adjustment. The majority of the Committee believed that the appeal had merit, especially since it was not clear how detailed the Director's explanation of the reason for the ruling was. Even if East knew that his own carelessness caused the denial of his appeal, the particular law is an obscure one and the standards for applying it are not well publicized. The Committee therefore did not treat the appeal in the same light that it might have had the subject matter been more familiar.

Bid Box Alerts and Announcements

When using bid boxes, ACBL suggests that players tap the Alert strip and say "Alert" at the same time.

When making an announcement, use the announcement word -- such as "transfer" -- and tap the Alert strip at the same time.

A player who Alerts or announces a bid should make sure his opponents are aware that an Alert or announcement has been made.
