Meet your TDs

This is a continuing series of profiles of tournament directors working at the NABCs. Donna Coker is relatively new to the directing profession, but she has the skills of a veteran when it comes to recruiting new members to the ACBL.

In the past three years, the St. Louis resident has personally signed up more than 100 new ACBL members, and she figures a lot more under her influence have joined the organization via the Internet or by other means.

Coker relates extremely well to new members because she has vivid memories of her own shaky start in duplicate.

Long before she discovered duplicate, Coker played the game. Her ex-husband was a corporate executive who was transferred a lot, and she played party bridge as a way of meeting people as they moved from city to city.

Eighteen years ago, she landed in St. Louis and stayed. In the mid-Nineties, a friend took her to a duplicate club, which was a revelation. She didn't even know such a thing existed. Unsure of herself in the new environment, she didn't particularly enjoy her introduction to the new form of bridge.

Finally, however, "I just told myself that I could do it and I came to enjoy it."

At tournaments, Coker observed how the TDs kept the games running smoothly. "I'm an organized person," she says, "and I liked the orderliness."

Soon she was directing games and now runs three club games a week for newcomers at the Gateway Bridge Club, averaging 12 to 16 tables a session. She also has run several 199er tournaments and works at local sectionals.

The Chicago NABC, her first, has been an eyeopener. "It's more people than I pictured," she says, "but each day has gotten better and more

Brod leads Senior Swiss

The Connecticut-based team of Geoffrey Brod, Stephen Earl, Rich DeMartino and John Stiefel led the field of 80 squads in the qualifying round of the Truscott USPC Senior Swiss Teams. The Brod team scored 121 Victory Points (eight rounds, 20-VP scale). In second with 119 was the District 7 team of Joyce Hampton, Lucas Lebioda, Jerry Helms, Robert Bitterman, Ron Smith and Linda Smith.

Goodwill welcomes winners and says fond farewells

It was a day of hellos and goodbyes. The Goodwill Committee meeting welcomed some of the many American winners from the recent world championship and a flag-bearing soldier – and said so long to a few departed members and one living person who has been a part of the NABC scene for a decade and a half.

DAILY BULLET

Goodwill Chair Aileen Osofsky started the meeting with a moment of silence for members who have died recently, including Dorothy Hayden Trusoctt, Ralph Cohen, Mark Molson, Jim Robison and Bette Dudka.

Later, Goo Osofsky Harr called Jay U.S. Baum, ACBL's chief executive, to the podium to speak about Nancy Foy (left), the organization's meeting planner since 1991. Foy is leaving for another job in about a week.

Baum said Foy was as dedicated an employee as there is at the ACBL, especially when it came to the bottom-line figures for the NABCs. During her 15 years running NABCs, Baum said, the ACBL realized about $7.5 million in profits from the big tournaments, a big help in keeping annual dues down.

Ware earns Jane Johnson plaudits

When tournament director Martin Ware travels from his home in western Canada to an NABC, the law book isn't one of his essential pieces of equipment. Ware is part of the crew – nearly all TDs – who set up the NABC and keep it running That doesn't mean Ware never gets any time "on the floor" interacting with players.

In fact, he is so good at his job as a regular TD that he earned the 2006 Jane Johnson Award for tournament directors, the companion to the Jane Johnson award for Headquarters employees. The honor is named after the late head of the Club and Member Services Department.

British Columbia, but he has lived in Vernon (population about 30,000) in BC since he and wife Elaine moved there after their marriage in 1972.

He attended the University of British Columbia with a double major in finance and accounting, but left school to work with his stepfather hauling logs for a couple of years. He eventually became a manager in the provincial government-run liquor store business. He retired from that job five years ago.

Ware learned bridge in college and played at school. He now runs a bridge club in Vernon, where he was first talked into becoming a director. Today, he runs all the sectionals in his area and works at regionals.

At NABCs, Ware and fellow Canadian Brian Russell work with Tom Marsh helping Jeff Johnston (of the ACBL Headquarters staff) set up and manage the logistical side of the tournament.

Forty teams qualified for today's two-session final.

Spingold, Wagar update

Play continues today in round two of both the Spingold and Wagar Women's Knockout Teams. Sixty-four squads remain in the Spingold, which will end on Sunday, while the Wagar has 16 teams still in the event which will conclude on Friday.

In the Mini-Spingold 0-5000 event, 51 teams entered, of which 32 survived to today's second round.

The Mini-Spingold 0-1500 event drew 43 squads, but only 16 made the cut for round two.

Ware is a favorite of Matt Smith, TD supervisor for the area that includes that part of Canada.

"He is unbelievable," said Smith. "The guy does anything that needs to be done, locally and at the NABCs. He's always in a good mood."

Rick Beye, ACBL's chief tournament director, praised Ware for his work ethic and expertise. "He works until the job is done, and he always does it right," said Beye, "and he is one of those TDs who has a players-first attitude."

Ware is originally from Vancouver Island in NABC table count: 6413 through Monday evening. "It's very rewarding," Ware says, "and the crew I work with, we all have a great deal of fun."

He credits fellow TDs Smith, Steve Bates (another Canadian) and Roger Putnam for helping him develop as a TD.

At home in Vernon, Ware still enjoys playing, filling in when needed at his club.

West leads ▲9 against South's 4♥ contract. East wins with the  $\bigstar$ A and South follows with the 2. Hoping to find that West's spade was a singleton, East leads back the  $\blacktriangle 10$  (when giving partner a ruff, the lead of a high card requests that partner return the higher ranking of the two non-trump suits; in this case a diamond).

Here's where West has to be on his toes. West must ruff the spade return with the  $\mathbf{v}6$ , not the 2. He now leads the  $\diamond 8$  (top of nothing) following partner's instruction. Dummy wins with A and leads a trump. East wins perforce knows that it is right to give partner another ruff rather than trying to cash his  $\mathbf{A}$  (which declarer would have ruffed).

Now East

Let's suppose that instead the diamond and heart situation had been slightly different:

West would have ruffed the  $\bigstar 10$  with the  $\blacklozenge$ 2, and East would have now known that partner than five hearts in the closed hand, one diamond ruff in dummy, and three spades. Down one. Without the trump shift at trick two, declarer can ruff two diamonds in dummy and make the contract.

I have tried to discover how the word "echo" made it into the world of bridge; with no success. An "echo" in bridge is a signal, however, one that we hope will perhaps resonate in partner's brain!! In the U.K., such a signal is called a "peter" from Blue Peter, a naval signal flag, which makes some sense at least.

plus trump support, trump leads are usually called for.

As a defender, keep length parity with the dummy. East should not discard a spade holding four spades and looking at four of them in dummy.

Bidding commentary: West has a good hand but no convenient way to enter the bidding. A takeout double with a low doubleton in an unbid major is off the wall. North does best to support hearts rather than bid  $1 \bigstar$ , an unlimited response. If possible, limit a weak hand quickly.

Lead commentary: Looks normal. It takes a brave soul to lead some other suit when holding A-K-Q-(x) in a suit.

Defensive commentary: West must realize that this dummy is good for one thing and one thing only: ruffing diamonds. Club tricks, if there are any, are not going away. West must shift to a trump at trick two, and when in with a diamond play a second trump. Because the spades are blocked, declarer can take no more

When is a finesse not 50%?

By Barry Rigal

Of course, sometimes a finesse becomes marked, but on other occasions the odds on a 50-50 finesse becomes far different for other reasons. One issue is that you sometimes prefer to lose a finesse to one opponent rather than the other because of personality issues.

Glenn Eisenstein recounted this deal (rotated) from the second final session of the Life Master Pairs where his LHO was a many-time world champion. He reached a position where his contract was laydown, but he had the option to take a finesse for an overtrick or undertrick.

The defense cashed the A K and shifted to the  $\forall$ J, which went to the king and ace.

Eisenstein played the  $\diamond K$  and East correctly ducked (West pitched a heart). Declarer could now concede two diamonds and score plus 110, or play a club to the 10. If that held, he would lose only one trump trick and score plus 130. Which line would you follow?

Eisenstein had no doubt: while West should play the **J* on the first round to block the suit, he might not. But the critical issue for Eisenstein was that West was a Grand Master. Leading a club to the 10 and having it lose to the &J would be mildly painful, but taking the finesse and having it win (as Eisenstein did) would let him commiserate sympathetically with his LHO for missing the critical play. That would twist the knife in the wound just a little more sharply!

Picking declarer clean

Mike Cassel and Andy Kaufman, winners of the Bruce LM-5000 pairs, took every trick that wasn't nailed down on this deal (rotated) from the second final session:

Kaufman led the  $\forall 8$  (attitude) which ran to the king and ace. Declarer decided to go after the diamond suit by running the 9, but Cassel won and switched to a low spade. Kaufman won the jack and returned a low spade to the ace. Only then did Cassel play a heart back.

Declarer ducked, so Kaufman won the 10 and continued with the  $\mathbf{v}$ 7, establishing his partner's jack.

When the smoke cleared, the defense had scored three spades, two hearts, two diamonds and a club: eight tricks. Defeating the contract two tricks was worth 20.5 on a 25 top.

They were second on the Bruce Life Master Pairs: Al Blinder and Craig Zastera.

On this deal from the first final session of the von Zedtwitz Life Master Pairs, Brian Senior did what he would never consider at a different form of scoring - he risked going down in a cold contract in a quest for overtricks. He was appropriately rewarded

The notrump game was by no means secure, but after the opening lead of a low spade to dummy's 10, declarer was up to nine tricks. At matchpoints, however, overtricks can turn a good result into an excellent one, so declarer (Senior) still had work to do.

Declarer cashed all four diamonds, South pitching two spades and North one spade. Now Senior could afford to cash his A and K, pitching a club from dummy as South let go of a heart.

Unfortunately, the necessity of cashing the spades meant that declarer had to lead hearts from hand, which should have made the position clear to the defense. Senior exited with the  $\forall J$  to North's queen. Another heart went to South's king. South played a club to the jack and ace, and again Senior exited with a heart. South had to win the ♥A and play another club, and Senior got it right, inserting the 10 for his hard-earned overtrick. Plus 430 was worth 39.5 matchpoints out of 51.

He noted that the situation was a standard defensive position. The defenders should cash all the hearts and exit with a club honor to give declarer a losing option in the suit. Against competent opponents, however, declarer should always get the ending right. Why? Because if both defensive club honors were in the same hand, the defense should arrange to win the last heart in the other hand to lead a club through, ensuring that declarer is held to two club winners.

Henning picked up a 19-count, but was understandably surprised when her partner opened the bidding with 2NT! In their methods, this shows 20 to 21 high-card points, so Henning knew her side was missing 1 HCP at most. She simply jumped to 7NT.

Mallory actually had 21 HCP, so the partnership had all of the high-card values.

Opponent Grant Baze, who was West on this deal, remarked that he had never seen this happen in his entire playing career.

The result, as you might expect, was a push.

Returning to our roots

By Linda Granell

The first national championship of the new American Auction Bridge League was held in Chicago's Hotel Sherman Dec. 1-3, 1927, launching a rich history of bridge in the city that continues today at the 2006 Summer North American Bridge Championships.

The differences and, even more so the similarities, between bridge then and now are striking.

Then

R.R. Richards, first president of the AABL, compiled the book "Championship Bridge," reproducing in detail every bid and play in the finals of the Team of Four championship - along with how he would bid and play the hands.

Now

We watch the bids and plays as they're made on vugraph at Bridge Base Online.

Then

Founding AABL President Richards joined three future Hall of Famers in capturing the title of the tournament's premier event, the Team of Four Championship. His teammates were Ely Culbertson, Theodore Lightner and Baron Waldmar Von Zedwitz.

Now

No doubt that there's a future Hall of Famer among the team members defending the title for this summer's premier event, the Spingold Knockout Teams: Russ Ekeblad, Fred Gitelman, Brad Moss and Ron Rubin.

Then

"The total number of competitors exceeded 300, making a remarkably formidable presentation of high-grade talent."

Now

6000 players are expected from around the world - that's formidable!

Then

Dues in the new AABL were $10 a year (about $113.75 today), including the monthly Auction Bridge Magazine. Membership pitch: "No other move can so plainly reveal true depths of interest in The Greatest of Games."

Now

Members pay just $26 for the first year and $35 thereafter. Membership pitch: "You also get the satisfaction of knowing that you support educational and promotional programs that will ensure that our great game continues to thrive."

Then

North led the  $\blacktriangle J$  to South's ace, and back came the  $\bigstar 7$  to the queen and 10, leaving declarer in doubt as to which defender held the  $\bigstar 2$  and therefore who held the longer spades.

Declarer cashed the clubs, throwing a heart and a spade from dummy (wanting to keep a third heart as a menace). North threw two diamonds, while South pitched the  $\Psi$ 9 and  $\Psi$ 8 (upside-down count).

It looked to declarer as though South was the more likely to hold the  $\diamond Q$ . A heart finesse succeeded (North played the  $\blacklozenge J$ , South the 2). Backing his reading of the situation, declarer ran the  $\diamond 10$ , losing to North's queen. North-South had defended very well to that point but now North played too quickly, returning a spade. Dummy's low heart went away and declarer had the rest. Eleven tricks was not good for East-West, but it was better than the 10 declarer would have made on a heart return – he cannot get both the  $\bigstar K$  and third diamond, and a more thoughtful North should have worked that out – but North no doubt thought the defense's job was done as soon as declarer got the diamond wrong.

West led the *J, covered by the king and ace. East returned the *9. Golden took the queen as West showed out.

How to get nine tricks? You need an endplay somewhere, plus a bit of luck.

Golden found the answer when he cashed the  $\checkmark A$  and  $\checkmark Q$  (East showing out by pitching a club). He then led a spade to the ace and cashed the  $\checkmark K$ , pitching a club from hand.

East was in trouble on the play of the  $\mathbf{\Psi}$ K. If he discards another club, declarer plays a diamond, then plays a spade and gets a ninth trick in the ending. When East discarded a spade on the  $\mathbf{\Psi}$ K, Golden led a diamond, which East had to duck. Now Golden played the  $\mathbf{A}$ Q and had three spade tricks, three heart tricks, one diamond and two clubs for a 12-IMP gain – alas, not enough to win the match.

Lucky 7 – or how to play a mini-Moysian

Note the disciplined pass from West (Koon Kam King) despite the fact that his opponents had bid to the seven level.

Thomas meant his 4♦ bid as a cuebid for hearts, and he was proud of his partner for recognizing it.

One more note for those with an aversion to the dreaded computer-dealt hand: these were created by people. (1) Intermediate (good opening hand).

(2) Lebensohl: relay to 3* to show a bad hand.

West led the  $\bigstar$ A and continued the suit. Robbins ruffed and led a heart to the queen and ace. East returned a trump, taken by declarer with the ace. He then cashed the  $\clubsuit$ K, felling West's jack.

At this point, Robbins reasoned that no one would ruff when he led the  $\checkmark 2$  to dummy's 7. As he expected, West discarded a diamond and the  $\checkmark 7$  won the trick. Robbins tried his best to hold the damage to one down, but the defenders made no more mistakes and he finished two down.

Still, minus 100 was good for 18 out of 25 matchpoints.

Bad trump break

This deal from the second final session of von Zedtwitz Life Master Pairs shows that at matchpoints it doesn't pay to bid pushy games, as Brian Senior can attest. He and Paul Hackett were playing against Sabine Auken and Daniela von Arnim

After partner showed a limit raise, Senior settled for the partscore despite having a bit extra – he could have had a weak 1NT with only four hearts. When von Arnim balanced, Hackett took the push, showing his long suit along the way, and Senior again went quietly. It was just as well!

Von Arnim led the AQ (Rusinow honor leads) to Senior's ace. He ruffed a spade at trick two and continued with a diamond to the A and another diamond. The trump return revealed the bad news.

Senior then led the  $\bigstar J$  and when Auken played low, he pitched a club. Von Arnim ruffed and played a heart. Senior played the A and ruffed a club, then the ♥A and his last heart. Von Arnim won but had to concede a trick to the  $\blacktriangle J$  at the end, declarer's ninth trick for plus 140 and 42 out of 51 matchpoints.

On the road to victory

There are a lot of twists and turns for players in a six-session event such as the von Zedtwitz Life Master Pairs. This is especially true for the winners. Just ask Bart Bramley and Bjorn Fallenius, who captured the championship the first time they played together (they were teammates on the silver-medal squad in the Transnational Open Teams in Estoril, Portugal, last fall).

Here are some deals that helped them to victory. The first is from the second semifinal session

There wasn't much to the play. The key was in the auction, where North's  $2 \blacklozenge$  overcall actually helped in the bidding. Playing 2/1 as a game force, many players would start with a forcing 1NT with the East cards. The situation changes when there is an overcall. Bramley could freely bid 2♥ without fear of overstating his values. He liked his hand a lot when Fallenius made a splinter raise of hearts, and the slam was reached. Bramley lost a trick to one of North's heart honors, but getting to slam was worth 72.5 out of 90 matchpoints.

The next deal was also from the second semifinal session (hands rotated).

Fallenius opened 1NT (15-17) as South and played it there. West led a low club, which went to the 3, 9 and ace. Fallenius attacked spades right away, playing low to the queen. Both players ducked, maintaining communication. In dummy with the spade, Fallenius tried a low diamond. East put up the king, so Fallenius won, cashed the  $\diamond Q$  and exited with the 10. West won the  $\diamond J$  and played a club to the jack in dummy. Fallenius had the  $\mathbf{A}$ 7 as an entry to the  $\mathbf{A}$ K, so he didn't need to cash it. He simply played a heart to his king. West won the ace and the defenders cashed three spade tricks, but they were limited to five tricks. Plus 120 was worth 38.5 out of 51 matchpoints.

Successful matchpoint play is not always about plus scores. It is often important to limit the minuses, which Bramley managed on the next deal (hands rotated) for another excellent score.

East's 2 opener showed a weak hand with five spades and five of a minor.

West started with his singleton spade, which Bramley took with the ace in hand. He initially thought that East's minor suit was diamonds, so he want to dummy with the  $\mathbf{\Psi}$ K and played the  $\mathbf{\Phi}$ 3: 8, 9, jack. Back came the +10 and Bramley, now changing his mind about which minor East possessed, played the jack, winning the ace when East covered with the queen.

Now a diamond went to the 10 and king, and the AQ came back. West discarded the 4 instead of ruffing. Bramley won the  $\bigstar K$ , then played a trump to his ace, cashed the  $\mathbf{v}Q$  and put West in with his trump trick. West could cash the A, but when he played a fourth round of diamonds, East was squeezed in the black suits. Down one was worth 41 out of 51 matchpoints.

Knockouts - BAM - Swiss Senior Pairs & Senior Swiss Side Pairs - Fast Pairs Newcomers & Intermediate Program cuebid in support of his partner's overcall. Bramley didn't want to double with such poor diamonds or bid hearts (that suit was anemic as well), so he felt he had to pass. Fallenius, inferring that Bramley was short in spades and therefore more likely to have support for his suit, freely bid 3. over East's 2. signoff. That was good enough for Bramley, who took the push when West bid on. The questionable double ended the auction.

West started with a spade to dummy's ace, and Fallenius continued with a low diamond. East won the  $\blacklozenge 9$  and exited with the  $\blacklozenge 10$ , which Fallenius took in hand with the king. Another diamond went to East's Queen, and a heart went to dummy's ace. Fallenius continued with a diamond ruff with the ♣2, a spade ruff and a diamond ruff with the ♣3. He then cashed the A and played the losing heart from dummy. Fallenius was down to the &K 9, so he claimed when West won trick 11. Plus 510 was 89.5 out of 90 MPs.

Wernher Open Pairs begins today

The Wernher Trophy was donated in 1934 by Sir Derrick J. Wernher and presented to the winners of the National Men's Pairs Championship. The event was contested at the Summer NABC until 1962. It moved to the Spring NABC in 1963 where it remained for 40 years. In 2004 it returned to the Summer NABC lineup. From 1969 through 1971, it was contested as a three-session championship.

In 1992 the event became Open Pairs II, a four-session event which consists of two qualifying rounds and two finals rounds.

Wernher (1889-1947) was a resident of London, England and Deal NJ. A leading personality in American bridge in the Thirties, Wernher was president of the American Bridge League (ABL) in 1933, chairman of its Master Plan committee and a member of the board of directors of the American Whist League (AWL).

Wernher placed second in the Asbury Challenge Teams (now the Spingold Knockout Teams) in 1936 and won the Reisinger (played in conjunction with the New York regional) in 1930.

Robinson received the lead of the  $\bigstar 4$  which ran to the 10 and ace. From the auction and the play, Robinson knew spades were 5-1. When he played the  $\bigstar A$  and a heart to the king, East's discard revealed the trumps to be 4-1.

Robinson next played a low diamond toward the closed hand, covering East's 8 with the 9 as West won the jack. West now erred by banging down the  $\diamond$  A, dropping East's king, revealing a 6-2 split in that suit. Robinson could now count the entire layout, and he knew East started with a 5=1=2=5 pattern that likely (because of the auction) included the  $\diamond$ Q. He could also see that East was hopelessly squeezed.

Robinson covered the  $\Rightarrow$ 10 exit with dummy's jack and won East's queen with the ace. The  $\checkmark$ Q and a heart forced West to take his trump winner and forced East to make two discards. This was the ending:

If West exits with a diamond, the  $\bigstar 9$  will be pitched from dummy and East must let go of a club. A club to the king will be followed by the  $\bigstar 8$ , to which East has no answer. If he covers, declarer will ruff and cross back to the  $\bigstar K$  to enjoy the good club. If he ducks, declarer pitches a spade loser.

East can't improve by exiting with a club in the diagrammed position since declarer will simply win the king and take the known ruffing finesse against East's 9.

North-South were vulnerable, and Wolf opened the South hand  $1 \blacklozenge$ , to allow him to bid both of his suits conveniently. The partnership had little trouble reaching  $6 \blacklozenge$ . Along the way, they used a variation on Blackwood they had developed to specifically identify the heart void.

The contract is excellent and can survive bad breaks in both minor suits. Declarer won the spade lead, drew two rounds of trumps, and because of the club intermediates, was able to ruff out West's &J. Plus 1370.

At the other table, South opened a Precision 2\*and North bid  $2 \diamond$ , probing for a major-suit fit. Frances Schneider, West, now stepped in aggressively with a 3\* cuebid, describing a distributional hand in the majors. South bid  $3 \diamond$ , and I (West) jumped to  $4 \heartsuit$ . North now had a dilemma, and his double ended the auction. Playing along crossruff lines, West made eight tricks, for down two, minus 300 and a net pickup of 14 IMPs.

Spingold and Wagar math

In the Spingold KOs their were 78 teams and the top 24 seeds received byes. Of the remaining 54 squads, 52 played in four-way matches, each of which produce three qualifiers: 39 teams. The other two teams played a head-to-head match with, of course, one winner. The math: 24 + 39 + 1 = 64.

In the Wagar there were 28 entries. The top two seeds received byes. Of the other 26 teams, four played in a four-way match (three qualify) and 22 played all-day matches (11 qualify). Wagar math: 2 + 3 + 11 = 16 teams for Round 2.

Coker says she is grateful to the bridge players of St. Louis who encouraged her in her directing job, and she is looking forward to the 2007 Spring NABC in her home town.

Meanwhile, she will continue to do her best to make new players glad they found duplicate. "I'm very protective of them," she says. "I want them to enjoy the game and not be intimidated."

Goodwill

Baum said also that he learned what a great team player Foy was. "I never asked her to do anything that she didn't say yes. I feel good for her (that she is moving to a new job), but I feel bad for me and for all of you."

Roni Gitchel Atkins, who was chair of the 2005 Spring NABC in Pittsburgh, worked closely with Foy. She told the Goodwill meeting that she learned a lot about running tournaments from Foy, "but I also gained a friend."

Foy took the podium and noted that her son, Logan, was three years old when she signed on with the ACBL, "and now he's going away to college." She said: "I owe so much to so many of you, and I now have friends in just about every city."

38.0 Tables

Another highlight of the meeting was a presentation to the ACBL by U.S. Army Col. Gary Helman, who has had five tours of duty in Iraq and Afghanistan and has established bridge clubs at bases in both countries.

Helman, a dentist, presented an American flag that flew over the bridge club he set up at the Bagram Airfield in Afghanistan.

Helman is from New York, as is Osofsky, and she said she had seen him at bridge clubs and tournaments in that state previously but did not know about his background or occupation. "You never know about the other lives of players," she said.

On his introduction, Goodwill members gave Helman a standing ovation.

Osofsky surprised ACBL President Harriette Buckman after telling the group that she had been searching for a bridge teacher to acknowledge in the Chicago area - "and Harriette's name kept coming up."

Osofsky also enjoyed presenting medals to the American team that came in second in the Senior Teams at the World Bridge Championships in Verona, Italy, last month. They did not receive their medals at the closing ceremony because they left the tournament shortly after the event ended. The silver medalists are Lew Finkel, Gaylor Kasle, John Mohan and, John Sutherlin.

That team's success was only part of a near sweep of the medals by Americans, all of whom were acknowledged – most in person – at the Goodwill meeting:

Rosenblum Cup (open teams): Rose Meltzer, Kyle Larsen, Roger Bates and Alan Sontag. Their Norwegian teammates, Geir Helgemo and Tor Helness, were also present (the squad is competing in the Spingold Knockout Teams), gold; Christal Henner-Welland and Marc Jacobus, silver (with four Swedish teammates).

Open Pairs: Bobby Levin and Steve Weinstein, silver.

McConnell Cup (women's teams): Carlyn Steiner, Marinesa Letizia, Tobi Sokolow and Janice Seamon-Molson (with two Russina teammates), gold; Hansa Narashimhan, Irina Levitina, Jill Meyers, Jill Levin, Debbie Rosenberg and JoAnna Stansby, silver.

Convention card reminder

Each player is required to have a convention card filled out legibly and on the table throughout a session. Both cards of a partnership must be identical and include the first and last names of each member of the partnership.

If a director determines that neither player has a substantially completed card, the partnership may play only the ACBL Yellow Card and may use only standard carding. This restriction may be lifted only at the beginning of a subsequent round after convention cards have been properly prepared and approved by the director. Further, the > partnership will receive a 1/6-board restriction is lifted. In IMP team games, penalties shall be at the discretion of the director.

If the director determines the partnership has at least one substantially completed convention card but has not fully complied with ACBL regulations, the director may give warnings or assign such penalties as he deems to be appropriate under the circumstances.

The objective of these warnings and penalties is the encouragement of full compliance with ACBL regulations.

Finding the right discards

By Barry Rigal

Walid Elahmady and Tarek Sadek are becoming one of the best known pairs on the U.S. circuit. On the following deal from the first semifinal session of the Life Master Pairs, they would like to conceal their auction from you: after all, they said, anyone can reach 6♥ and make it with the winning club finesse. It takes "experts" to reach 6NT here.

▲ Q 9 ♥ K Q J 2 ◆ Q 7 ♣ K 7 6 5 4 ▲ 10754 ▲ J 8 2 ♥ 10 5 ♥763 ♦ 983 ◆ J 10 6 4 2 AQ93 ♣ J 8 🛦 A K 6 3 ♦ A 9 8 4 • A K 5 * 10 2

Note that even with the club finesse working you appear to have 11 tricks . . .no more, no less.

But Elahmady noticed his slim chances of a squeeze if West had four spades as well as four clubs. Since there was nothing else to go for he won the opening diamond lead and cashed four hearts. West pitched a diamond and a club, so declarer cashed two more diamonds. This was the ending as the last diamond was led:

Chicago 1998: A look back

A simple falsecard

The whole course of a deal is altered by a simple falsecard. That was the case on this deal from the first semifinal session of the Life Master Pairs.

It looks like a simple enough hand — win the opening lead of the  $\bigstar J$ , clear the diamonds and score up the game with four diamonds, four spades and a heart. But that's not the way it happened.

Declarer took the first trick with the  $\bigstar K$  and led the  $\bigstar$ A. But Steve Ray followed with the queen! Of course he had another good reason besides misleading declarer. He didn't want to be left with the lead when declarer led another diamond — he wanted partner to break clubs. Declarer felt that either the diamonds were coming home (if West held the queen-jack doubleton) or they were hopeless (if the queen was a singleton). So there was no hurry about the diamonds, he decided. He proceeded to cash the rest of his spade tricks, then took a finesse to the ♣J, losing to the queen. When the spades were being run, Brian Senior, North, was careful to play spades from the top down. So Ray had no problem leading a heart when he won the first club. Now suddenly declarer had no hope of making his contract. All he could take were four spades, two diamonds and a heart. The falsecard had earned Ray and Senior 63 out of a possible 64 matchpoints.

According to Retek, if unit and district officers complete the form for the insurance and send it in by July 26, their coverage will be retroactive to July 11. Coverage for those who miss that deadline will begin upon receipt of the form.

Retek said unit and district officers are encouraged to consult their legal advisors to determine if the new insurance is appropriate for them. They are also encouraged to consult their legal advisors before terminating any other insurance.

Insurance forms should be completed and sent to Bill Parks, 4905 W. Tilghman St., Suite 200, Allentown PA 18104 with a copy to Stan Katz at the ACBL: 2990 Airways Blvd., Memphis TN 38116-3847. If West pitched a spade, he was conceding at once, but a low club – or, indeed, any club — was equally hopeless. Declarer could attack clubs while keeping East off play (since that player had diamonds to cash) and set up the 12th trick that way.

So was this just unbearably good luck for the Egyptians? Not so! There is a defense, though not in the diagrammed ending. West, to set the contract, must keep his spades and pitch both his A and Q as his first two discards in the club suit.

Everyday, over 1500 units of blood are needed by Chicago area patients, yet only about 1,000 units are collected. To help increase collections, the ACBL has graciously offered to host a blood drive. Each unit of blood collected provides three products: plasma, platelets and red blood cells that can help save the lives of "three" individuals!

To schedule an appointment, please stop by the LifeSource Information table or call:

1-847-803-7943

Chicago Contract Bridge Association Day

Chicago Unit 123 is celebrating its 50th anniversary this year. In honor of this, the unit has donated money to fund the Second City comedy performances you are seeing here at the NABC.

Jackie Addis, 2006 Summer NABC tournament chairman, resides in our unit. We are very proud of all the work she has done to make this tournament successful. We welcome you to our fair city and we hope you enjoy yourselves here!

Lights, Camera . . .

A film company will be in Chicago July 13-23 for an upcoming documentary on professional bridge players. Please extend your courtesy to director-producer Kimberly Dawson and directors of photography Noah Bean and John Orebaugh. Most filming will be in the GNT and Spingold areas following the Lynch team. The producer is interested in hearing great stories (no hands please!) related to people's obsession with the game and the extreme measures they take to be able to play. Please feel free to e-mail her at bridgedocumentary@yahoo.com.

We will make every effort to ensure that filming does not disturb play. If you have any concerns, speak to a tournament director or contact Linda Granell, director of marketing, in the Daily Bulletin office. Remember that these opportunities help promote our game. You also should be aware that your entry blank includes the statement: "The submission of this entry blank constitutes an agreement binding on all players listed hereon: that this contest is governed by the rules, regulations and procedures of the ACBL ... " Among those rules and regulations is the following (adopted by the Board of Directors in 1983): "By participating in any ACBL sanctioned event, each contestant, official, or observer of any such bridge contest agrees that said event, or

Today's memorial games

Eleanor Dalton was a bridge teacher and director for more than 25 years. She operated the Naperville Duplicate Bridge Club from 1977 to 2005. She suffered a fatal stroke on Nov. 2, 2005, at the age of 80, four days after directing her last game.

Bid Box Alerts and Announcements

When using bid boxes, ACBL suggests that players tap the Alert strip and say "Alert" at the same time.

When making an announcement, use the announcement word — such as "transfer" — and tap the Alert strip at the same time.

Players who wish to use Mid-Chart methods (in events that permit them) must check the ACBL Defense Database for rules governing their use.

If you choose to play a method permitted by the Mid-Chart, you are required to do the following:

1. Pre-Alert the opponents about your method prior to the auction on the first board.

2. Have a complete written description of the method available for your opponents.

3. For certain methods, you must provide your opponents with an approved defense from the database. Visit the ACBL web site at www.acbl.org for details.

ACBL players: help players from outside North America who wish to use Mid-Chart methods to be aware of these rules.

portions thereof, may be filed, recorded or otherwise documented or publicized at the discretion of the sponsoring organization."

A player who Alerts or announces a bid should make sure his opponents are aware that an Alert or announcement has been made.

Notice to players

Each player must have an ACBL convention card filled out and on the table. Please note that other types of convention cards, such as the WBF convention card or homemade cards that do not sufficiently resemble the ACBL convention card, are not acceptable substitutes.
