Junior Corps adds 8 members

The Junior Corps, whose members promote the game through their dedication to bridge, inducted eight new members at the Junior dinner last evening.

The ceremony was opened by Aileen Osofsky, chairman of the National Goodwill Committee, who welcomed the large group of attendees. Osofsky also welcomed special guests representing the successful Illinois Youth Bridge Group as well as members of the Swedish and Danish Junior teams who are visiting the U.S.

Osofsky said that the Junior Corps is for those "who not only know how to handle their cards at the table, but also know how to handle themselves."

Osofsky noted that since its inception in 1990, the Junior Corps has inducted 110 members, 47 of whom are still young enough to be classified as Juniors (under 26).

ACBL President Dick Anderson was also in attendance and was asked to induct the first member, his daughter Erin Anderson.

A joking Anderson began by announcing, "I am delighted to be able to induct Erin into the ACBL Bridge Hall of Fame....Oh, sorry. I'm getting ahead of myself."

Erin, 15, attends Campbell Collegiate School in Regina SK.

District 2 Director Jonathon Steinberg inducted three members from his district.

Levin, Rosenberg lead LMs

Robert Levin of Windermere FL and Michael Rosenberg of Tuckahoe NY led 104 pairs into today's final two sessions of the Life Master Pairs. However, their margin over the runner-up father-son combo of Richard Pavlicek and Rich Pavlicek Jr. of Fort Lauderdale FL was quite narrow, 1735.55 to 1720.80.

The only other pair to break 1700 was a new partnership -- Fred Gitelman of Toronto and Brad Moss of New York City. Their tally was 1702.76.

Levin won the Bermuda Bowl in 1981, at 24 the youngest player ever to win a world championship. He became a Life Master at the age of 16, the youngest ever to do so up to that time.

Rosenberg, originally from Scotland, came close to winning the World Team Olympiad in 1992, losing in the final to France.

The qualifiers will play two sessions of 26 boards with a 51 top today.

GNT-C winners Marek Dalecki, Jerzy Jelen, Tadeusz Ryll, Zbigniew Muszynski, Roman Mindak and Wieslaw Kalita.

Chicago-based squad wins GNT-C

Chicago bridge players may be graciously welcoming participants to the 1998 Summer NABC, but don't let them fool you --- they still play tough.

That's exactly what members of the District 12 team from Michigan found out when they ran up against a power-

They won the Grand National Teams A: Mark Itabashi, Jon Wittes, Ross Grabel, Gene Simpson and Fred Hamilton.

California wins GNT A

The squad from District 22 (California) jumped ahead of their District 16 (Texas) rivals after the first quarter and never looked back to win the 1998 Grand National Teams, Flight A.

The winning team: Fred Hamilton, Fresno; Mark Itabashi, Murrieta; Gene Simpson, Redlands; Jon Wittes, Claremont; and Ross Grabel, Huntington.

The Californians defeated the team of Malcolm Brachman, Mike Passell and John Sutherlin (Dallas), Eddie Wold (Houston), and Bobby Goldman (Highland Village) by a score of 169-108.

"It was very rewarding to win this event," said Itabashi. "We've played several times before in this thing, but this is the toughest field I've ever seen."

Itabashi played the entire match, half with Simpson and the other half with Hamilton, while Wittes and Grabel played together at the other table.

The Grand National Teams is contested for the Albert Morehead Trophy.

The initial stages are played over the course of several months. Originally this was a North American event with all 25 ACBL districts participating. Now it is a U.S. contest, with only the 23 U.S. districts participating. The district winners play off for the championship at the Summer NABC.

This is the first win in the event for each member of the District 22 team. Fred Hamilton was on the runner-up team in 1974 playing with Chuck Burger, Howard Perlman, Stanley Smith, Jeffrey Star and Dick Yanko.

The victors in this year's contest were understandably elated.

"It's an exciting win," said Wittes. "Everyone seemed to play well."

The District 16 runners-up in this year's event graciously congratulated the winners after comparing scores.

"You played an excellent match," said Passell to members of the California squad as handshakes were exchanged.

GNT B winners: Jacques Carel, René Pelletier, Hervé Chatagnier, Richard Wildi, Jocelyn Bernier and Robert Latulippe.

GNT B title goes to Canada

The winners of the international Flight B Grand National Teams final are the District 1 representatives from Quebec City. They came from behind to score a strong victory, 122-89, over the District 6 team from Maryland and Virginia.

The winners, all of Quebec City: Robert Latulippe, Jocelyn Bernier, Richard Wildi, Jacques Carel, René Pelletier and Hervé Chatagnier. They defeated Richard Wegman, Bethesda MD; Kefu Xu, Laurel MD; Yi Zhong - Weizhong Bao, Fairfax VA.

District 6 took a 10-point lead in the first quarter, but Quebec surged back to lead by 6 at the half. The Canadians had a strong third quarter, pulling ahead by 44. District 6 made a comeback over the final 16 deals, but the surge fell 33 IMPs short.

Wildi and Bernier have been playing together for three years. They play a standard system except for 12-14 notrumps.

Wildi's wife Suzanne is considered by many to be the best woman player in Quebec City, but she prefers social bridge to highly competitive duplicate.

ITT Meeting

The International Team Trials Committee will meet this morning at 10:30 in Conference Room 4K, on the fourth floor.

The agenda will include a review of the 1998 Trials, drug testing of international representatives and possible Vanderbilt/Spingold seeding modifications.

Suzi can play, too

As publicity chairman for the NABC, Suzi Subeck has been extremely busy trying to keep you informed of tournament happenings. Here, she demonstrates her card-playing skill on Board 2 from the first session of the Life Master Pairs.

Board 2	♠ K Q 3
Dlr: East	♥ A 8 6 5 2
Vul: N-S	♦ K Q 6 5 4
♠ 10 7 2		♠ A 6 4
♥ Q 7 4		♥ J 3
♦ A J 10 7 3		♦ 8
♣ A Q		♣ K J 8 5 4 3 2
	♠ J 9 8 5
	♥ K 10 9
	♣ 10 9 7 5

As many of you know Suzi is not a "shy" bidder. When you bid a lot you must play the cards well. The auction (with Suzi as North):

West	North	East	South
		Pass	Pass
1♦	1♥	2♣	Pass
Pass	2♦	3♣	3♥
3NT	4♥	Pass	Pass
Dbl	All Pass

The opening lead was the singleton ♦8. West won and returned the ♦10, which was trumped by East, who now led ace and a spade to Subeck's king. Suzi trumped a diamond while East discarded his last spade. Subeck next shortened her trumps by ruffing a club back to her hand. Next she led a trump to dummy, felling East's jack. Suzi returned to her hand with a second club ruff, cashed the ♠Q and trumped a diamond in dummy. The end position:

		♥ A 8
		♦ K

♥ Q 7			♥ --
♦ J			♦ --
♣ --			♣ K J 8
	♠ J
	♥ --
	♣ 10 9

Subeck led the ♠J and showed her hand to West — making 4♥ doubled for +790 and 63 out of 64 possible matchpoints.

Smoking Policy

Smokers playing on the lower level are asked to smoke only in the designated smoking areas in the SouthWest and SouthEast Exhibit Halls.

Smokers playing in the International and Continental Ballrooms should step outside the Eighth Street entrance of the hotel to smoke. Remember we must keep passageways between the playing areas and restrooms clear of smoke, and players in the Continental Ballroom must pass through the lobby to get to the restrooms. Therefore, the lobby area where registration and partnership desks are located must remain smoke free.

Players in the Williford Room on the third floor may use the ash urns in the elevator lobby.

Parking Info

Parking is available at the Chicago Hilton and Towers as well as the four Allright Parking Lots near the host hotel.

Flyers are available at the tournament that are good for a $1 discount at any of these Allright Garages: 901 S. Wabash, 835 S. Wabash, 30 East 8th St. and 651 S. State St.

The flyers are good through August 2. The discount does not apply to parking at the Hilton.

Picking our spots: how cities are chosen to host NABCs

Part 1

It has been nine years since Chicago hosted an NABC. In the meantime, the ACBL has conducted tournaments all over North America -- from Boston to Seattle, San Diego to Miami Beach and Minneapolis to Albuquerque.

In the fall, the ACBL will set up shop in Orlando. Next spring, the show will go to Vancouver BC for the second time.

You may be wondering how a city is selected to host an NABC. Nancy Foy, ACBL's director of meeting services, explains how it works.

Question: What do you look for when you're searching for a place to host an NABC?

Answer: There's no one answer to that question, but we take a number of factors into consideration.

On the short list, it's most important that the hotel or convention center have suitable playing space. That doesn't just mean enough square footage to hold all the card tables we'll need. It means that the meeting space breaks down into rooms appropriately sized for the different events at an NABC, that the lighting is at least adequate, that the atmosphere is esthetically pleasing and that sound won't bounce all around the room.

Second, will players enjoy the city? We look for cities that offer full-service and lower-cost hotels, a variety of shops and restaurants and other attractions such as theme parks, golf and touring opportunities.

Next, we must consider cost. Since many of the cities bridge players enjoy -- such as Chicago -- are more costly, we will never be able to get an $89 room rate in a convention hotel that could host a tournament as large as an NABC. Our goal is to negotiate rates that are comparatively lower than they would be for other convention groups or individual travelers. We must also offer destinations that are less costly for players who might never go to an NABC if they were always held in top-tier, somewhat expensive destinations. That's why you'll see cities like Kansas City, Cincinnati and yes, even Birmingham, on the schedule.

Q: Since you mentioned Birmingham, some people don't think it's such a great idea to go there. Why did you recommend it to the ACBL Board of Directors?

A: Birmingham is scheduled for November 2000 and falls among three great destinations -- Anaheim in the summer of 2000, Toronto in the summer of 2001 and Las Vegas in the fall of 2001.

We knew whatever we scheduled in the fall of 2000 and spring of 2001 would likely be a bit smaller in terms of attendance, so we looked for cities with strong local support -- by the local bridge community and by the city's hospitality industry. We wanted a location that would offer lower hotel rates for players and lower overhead costs for ACBL.

The Birmingham Sheraton Hotel is connected to the convention center where we'll be playing and is as fine a convention hotel as can be found. The room rate will be less than $85 in 2000, and another hotel across the street from the center will be offering a rate in the $50 range. The city offered the convention center on a complimentary basis and is supplying carpeting for the exhibit hall at no cost to ACBL. Southwest Airlines serves Birmingham, so you can get there easily and inexpensively.

Birmingham is a large regional medical center. As a result of all those doctors in town, the city offers a wide range of restaurants and boutique shopping areas that are just delightful. The local bridge players made it very clear that they want to show off their home town and welcomed the opportunity to host an NABC. They've raised quite a bit of money to add to the funds ACBL provides and plan to ensure that no one goes home disappointed.

Q: You mentioned room rates. How can you be sure we have the best room rates?

A: You do your research and ask lots of questions. Many hotels will do a printout that shows what rates other groups have during the same time of year or they'll refer me to another meeting planner for a reference and I'll ask what their rate was. I'll even ask other hoteliers in the city what their best rate is to see if our host hotel's rate is not just competitive, but better for us.

Q: Any guarantees?

A: As a matter of fact, yes. Our standard contract includes a clause that asks the hotel to guarantee that we have the lowest publicly offered rate in the hotel.

Q: Publicly offered?

A: Well, many hotels have corporate or airline crew contracts that are incredibly low and which they could not match for a large group. Those rates, however, are not available or sold to the public -- only to those who work for that particular business or airline.

Q: What about entertainment cards?

A: Oh, yes. Hotels sell rooms in similar fashion to the way airlines sell seats. You may pay $500 for your ticket and the guy sitting next to you paid $750, but the guy on the other side paid $250. Hotels want to achieve an average daily rate -- some rooms are higher, some are lower -- but mostly they want to sell rooms. A hotel may put aside a few rooms to be sold at a great discount as with an entertainment card, but that would generally be available only when the hotel has plenty of rooms to sell. They would never sell more than a limited number of rooms at such a discounted rate.

Q: Didn't some people have lower rates at the Reno Hilton?

A: Yes, they did. Because of the nature of the gaming business, casino hotels will generally not guarantee the lowest rate. Let's face it -- they're giving away rooms. While we had the lowest group rate, some people called the casino directly and got lower rates. Dealing with a casino is far different from dealing with other convention hotels. Casinos earn most of their revenue from gaming, whereas convention hotels earn most of their revenue from selling guest rooms, so casino hotels are less concerned about their average daily rates. They're happy as long as they fill their rooms with guests and their casinos with gamblers.

We also have to deal with the way hotels keep their inventories. It's another situation comparable to buying airline seats, but as you get closer to arrival, hotels generally discount their rooms. Airlines increase the price of seats as the departure date nears, but no matter how far out you book your seat, they will sell only a certain percentage of their seats at the low supersaver fare.

At the Reno Hilton, we had 1200 rooms blocked for ACBL at $79. Some folks got $59 rates. The Hilton sold only about 50 rooms at $59. For every one they sold at $59, believe me, they sold another at $99. Their normal rates range from $49 during the week up to $119 on weekends, so for a group as large as ours, $79 was a great rate.

(Tomorrow: There's more involved in running an NABC than setting up bridge tables.)

Clarice Bayer Gordon

Linda and Robb Gordon sadly announce the death of Robb's beloved mother Clarice. Clarice, 81, was the widow of Jack Gordon, a regional tournament director from 1956-1968. Clarice was a fine player with several regional championships to her credit. She continued to play four or five times a week until just a few months before her death. She died peacefully on the 10th wedding anniversary of Linda and Robb.

Dr. Henry Shivitz cared for Clarice with love and compassion throughout her illness.

Today's Moeller-Thomas-Wingard Stratified Open Pairs is so named to honor these three individuals who are retiring from the ACBL Board of Directors. Don Moeller of District 5 (Ohio), Jayne Thomas of District 9 (Florida), and Bob Wingard of District 17 (Las Vegas) will be sorely missed by their colleagues on the Board. All of them have served the ACBL tirelessly for many years.

FYI

The 8:00 p.m. single session Board-A-Match has been named the Sally Chiszar Stratified BAM in memory of Chicago Area Bridge director Jim Chiszar's wife. Sally was a well liked regular at club games in and around Chicago and always had a smile for everyone. Sally was ill for quite some time, but no matter how poorly she was feeling, when you arrived at her table, she asked about you and your family. Weekly duplicate games are not the same without Sally, and everyone here misses seeing her very much.

A hand from a columnist

Steve Becker, former editor of The Bridge Bulletin and now a syndicated bridge columnist and teacher, wishes that his singleton spade on this hand had been the deuce instead of the 8.

Board 18 ♠ 10 7 6 3 2
 Dir: East ♥ 7 5 2
 Vul: N-S ♦ Q
 ♣ A Q 9 5

♠ -- ♠ A K Q J 9 5 4
 ♥ A 10 9 6 4 3 ♥ 8
 ♦ J 7 6 5 3 ♦ 9
 ♣ 10 2 ♣ J 8 7 3

♠ 8
 ♥ K Q J
 ♦ A K 10 8 4 2
 ♣ K 6 4

West	North	East	South
		4♠	5♦
Pass	Pass	Pass

Steve could have doubled instead of bidding 5♦, but he decided on the overcall because the suit was a six-carder. It looks as if West had a double, but he was much better off passing since he didn't find the killing opening lead -- the ♥A followed by a second heart.

Instead he led the ♣10, taken with the queen. Steve cashed the ♦Q, noting the fall of the 9 from East. Next came a heart to West's ace, and West continued with his other club. Steve took this in hand and cashed his two top diamonds. Then he led another diamond to drive out the jack. He won the heart return and ran the rest of his red cards. As he cashed his last trump, he was left with a club and the ♠8 in his hand and the ♣A-9 in dummy. East had to make a discard holding the ♠9 (he had discarded all his high spades, hoping declarer didn't notice that the 9 was still out) and the ♣J-8. No matter which card he discarded, Steve had the remaining tricks -- 5♦ bid and made.

Why did he wish he had had the deuce of spades instead of the 8? Because of the thrill he would have experienced taking the last trick with the good deuce in a suit that had never been led.

Canada Bridge Week

All three of Canada's major events were held during the first ever Canada Bridge Week in Laval PQ. The tournament was so successful that the format will be repeated next year in Toronto.

Doug Heron, president of the Canadian Bridge Federation, had an especially thrilling and exciting week -- he won the Canadian Open Pairs with his son Alex.

The team captained by M. Hargreaves won the Canadian Open Teams Championship. They defeated the team captained by Nick Gartaganis in the final. Playing with Hargreaves were J. Silver, A. Graves, G. McOrmond and B. Maksymetz.

The women's team that has represented Canada in many world championships took top honors in the Canadian Women's Team Championship -- but they had to come from behind in the final to accomplish this. On the team were Dianna Gordon, Beverly Kraft, Rhoda Habert, Francine Cimon, Barbara Saltsman and Sheri Winestock. Sheri replaced long-time star Sharyn Reus, who has decided to retire from international competition.

Doug Fraser was chairman of the organizing committee, assisted by Kevin Gregoire, Nicole Brisbois, Jean Guy Doust, Jean Beaulieu and Doreen Primeau, with George Retek as adviser.

Volunteers' Room

Jackie Addis, tournament co-chairman in charge of volunteers, reports that there is a "volunteers' room" where weary volunteers can rest their feet. Chips and soda pop are provided as energy boosters. To obtain information on where and when the room is open, volunteers should check with Jackie or the chairman to whom they are assigned.

Novices ask questions -- Rodwell answers them

When you're a novice and you have a bridge problem, wouldn't it be wonderful if world champion Eric Rodwell were there to answer your questions? Well, that's exactly what happened yesterday at the Novice-Intermediate reception. Rodwell spent a full hour on the podium answering all manner of questions concerning problems encountered by novices and intermediates at this NABC.

As most people know, Rodwell plays some of the most involved methods to be found anywhere in the world. But you wouldn't know it from the way he answered. He kept his answers simple, using the bids and terminology familiar to his audience.

David Silber, the new CEO for the ACBL, welcomed the crowd, but left the podium after a few words to leave more time for Rodwell to answer questions.

As your reporter wandered about the room, he met several interesting people. The first were Sandra Silver and Charles Gianasi of Chicago, both 0-5 players.

Sandra has been playing bridge a long time. She used to have a bunch of friends who just loved to play card games -- any card games. If she wanted to be a part of the group, she had to play cards. So she did -- and she liked it. For many years she played social bridge, but then she met Charles, and they decided they wanted to try the challenge of duplicate.

Charles and his late wife played some duplicate when they went to Florida for the winter, but he stopped when his wife died. He didn't return to duplicate until he formed the partnership with Sandra a year and a half ago.

"I love the challenge of a duplicate game," said Charles. "That's why I keep coming back."

Sandra's comment: "If you find the accomplishment of a finesse to be exciting, then bridge is for you."

Mary and John D'Amboise of Bedford TX "like everything about the game except the fact that we don't win. We like the people, the atmosphere, the camaraderie. We love the stimulus of the game." They certainly are not a new partnership -- they will celebrate their 51st wedding anniversary next month.

Jim and Chris Doubleday of Hartford WI were hooked the first time they tried duplicate. Here's how Jim put it.

"On April 21 of this year we played in our first duplicate game at the Hartford Bridge Club. We came in first in the five and a half table game -- and 16 of the 22 players were Life Masters. But the problem with winning your first time out is that there's nowhere to go but down. We came in last the following week."

Why did they go to the club that night? "The club was in trouble," said Chris. "It was in danger of disappearing. The club needed support, so we pitched in."

"Not that it was all that easy," said Jim. "Tuesday, the game night, is also my night for playing basketball. And I don't want to give up basketball. But I was perfectly willing to play duplicate when the hoop season was over."

Chris learned the game from her parents. Quite often she heard the words, "Come on, Chris, we need a fourth." Later she and her husband and a couple of friends started reading books on the game, then playing a few hands to practice what they had just read. "But that ended -- we moved on but they didn't."

"Once I discovered this was a game of skill," said Jim, "I had to keep on playing. The mental challenge is a thing of wonder."

ful squad from the host District 13. District 13 won the contest handily, 210.5-144.

The winners: Jerzy Jelen, River Grove; Marek Dalecki, Gurnee; Ted Ryll, Des Plaines; Zbigniew Muszynski, Itasca; and Romuald Mindak and Wieslaw Kalita, Chicago.

The runners-up: Ed Williams, Dearborn; Kurt Dasher, Petersburg; Thomas Reband, Shelby Township; and William Gliesman, Macomb.

"We've all played bridge awhile," said Dalecki, "but we're new to ACBL events."

The Chicagoans led throughout the match, and after three quarters had built up a blistering 178.5-78 lead.

Despite this, the Michigan squad maintained a good sense of humor.

"Our goal is to keep the final difference to less than 100 IMPs," said a joking Dasher at the start of the last set.

Michigan played exceptionally well in the last quarter, winning the set 66-32, but it wasn't enough as District 13 won by 66.5. □

Danny Miles, 21, of Winnipeg is a student at the University of Waterloo in Ontario. He is studying math and business and is the president of the UW Bridge Club.

Colin Lee, 22, is also a student at UW, studying math (combinatorics) and computers.

Mike Nadler, 24, of Toronto is the owner of the bridge club Doubles. ("Juniors play free," said a very salesman-like Nadler.)

Nadler and Lee represented Canada at the World Junior Championships in Hamilton in 1997.

Also inducted, but not in attendance, were Craig Barkhouse (District 2), Brad Bart (District 18), Vijay Bal (District 21) and Joe Grue (District 14).

G.S. Jade Barrett, a former member of the Junior Corps and current non-playing captain of the U.S. Junior Team, reminded the Juniors present that, "when you play, you play not just for yourself but for your country. You reflect on the Junior program as a whole."

ACBL's Education Department Manager Julie Greenberg concluded the ceremony filling in for Junior program coordinator Charlotte Blaiss (whose husband Gary Blaiss is recovering from surgery).

Greenberg announced a second dinner will be held next weekend to explain the details of the upcoming Junior Camp, which will be held immediately following the Chicago NABC. Greenberg also said that interested Juniors could still apply to attend the Camp, an annual event to promote Junior bridge. □

However, Wildi, a math teacher, thoroughly enjoys the challenge of duplicate.

Bernier spends quite a bit of time at his computer, playing Okbridge as Berjo.

Chatagnier and Carel also are big Okbridge fans. They are known as Chat and Wert respectively. Chatagnier is an environmental engineer for the province of Quebec, while Carel is a math teacher.

Carel gives a great deal of credit for the success of the partnership to Raymond Fortin, who has represented Canada internationally. Fortin helped them build their system and has given them the benefit of his experience. They play a modified form of Kaplan-Sheinwold.

Latulippe and Pelletier are a well-seasoned pair -- they've been playing together for 13 years. Both got their background for bridge by playing whist -- both were experts in the game. Latulippe got interested in bridge when a friend told him, "If you can play whist well, you must try bridge." So he did.

Latulippe, a retired math teacher, and Pelletier both are bridge teachers. They play a standard system. □
