Arvedon, Sessler win Mixed on score change

First in the Rockwell Mixed Pairs: Lloyd Arvedon and Carolyn Sessler.

Just as they had apparently lost out on Wednesday night to a score correction, Lloyd Arvedon and Carolyn Sessler were returned to first place in the Rockwell Mixed Pairs on Thursday by another score change.

The pair in first place when everyone went to bed on Wednesday – Gail Greenberg and Jeff Hand – dropped to second.

The original margin of victory for Arvedon and Sessler was four-tenths of a matchpoint. It appeared that Greenberg and Hand had won by sixth-tenths. The new standings put Arvedon-Sessler back in first by their original margin.

The winners were playing together for the first time in about five years. Arvedon, of Natick MA, is a full-time player. Sessler, of New York City is a retired high school guidance counselor and realtor.

The win was Sessler's first North American championship. Arvedon now has three.

After the scoring change that put them back in first place, Arvedon commented, "Life is full of surprises – and some are even pleasant."

Couple thrilled to play the "big boys"

"You'll get knocked out right away and lose by 200 IMPs," said someone at Carol Ratmiroff's bridge club when they heard she and Barbara Paddock were going to play in the Vanderbilt Knockout Teams. Ratmiroff and Paddock, both of Louisville, are new Life Masters – Paddock earned the rank last month and Ratmiroff in November.

The pair played the first day (most teams had byes), won a match and advanced to the round of 64 on Tuesday. The second day they played the No. 1 seeded Monaco Z Team, the defending champions.

"We felt we had nothing to lose," said Paddock. "We hoped someday we would play at an NABC against the big boys, and it happened."

If it's true that everyone's Irish on St. Patrick's Day, that would go for the former Sylwia Uniwersal, now Sylwia McNamara, who got into the spirit from head to toe (her long green socks are not showing in this photo).

No. 1 seed falls In Vanderbilt

The top-seeded Team Monaco, with four members of last year's winning squad, are on the sidelines today after being trounced by the original No. 17 seed, captained by Seymon Deutsch. They ousted the top seed 151-87.

The No. 2 seed, Nick Nickell, had to rally in the fourth quarter for a 108-105 victory, while No. 3 John Diamond cruised against No. 14 Richard Schwartz. No. 4 James Cayne routed original No. 20 Barbara Sonsini.

The No. 5 seed, led by Aubrey Strul, was ousted by Joe Grue, originally seeded No. 21, and No. 7 Carolyn Lynch was defeated by No. 22 Mary Ann Berg.

As this issue went to press, one match – Meng Kang versus George Jacobs – was undecided pending an appeal.

Open Pairs wraps up today

Seventy-eight pairs qualified for today's final of the Silodor Open Pairs. Leading the way are Stan Tulin of Highland Beach FL and Jacek Pszczola of Chapel Hill NC. Their carryover of 184.91 leads Ulf Nilsson of Darby, Sweden, and Tadashi Yoshida of Tokyo, Japan. The carryover for the second-place pair is 178.69.

The leaders had a huge 69% game in the afternoon and followed with 61.89% in the evening.

Rose Meltzer and Kyle Larsen are in thirdplace and Richard Oshlag and Paul Munafo are in fourth

Texas pair has slim Women's Pairs leads

Shawn Quinn of the Houston area and Petra Hamman of Dallas enter today's final two sessions in the Whitehead Women's Pairs with a carryover lead of less than a matchpoint.

Their carryover of 75.52 is just ahead of Hjordis Eythorsdottir, of Huntsville AL, and Valerie Westheimer of New York City, who will start the day with 74.58.

Right behind them are Janice Seamon-Molson, Hollywood FL, and Carlyn Steiner, Seattle WA, with 65.21.

Two tied for lead in Red Ribbon

Michael Gecht of Staten Island NY and Harvey Somers of Bronx NY are tied with Bradley Barton and Matt Cory, both of Indianapolis IN, for the lead among qualifiers in the Bean Red Ribbon Pairs. Each pair has a carryover of 150.82. Both pairs were above 60% in each qualifying session to be the co-leaders.

Galt House Parking

In order to receive the Galt House parking discount, you must do the following:

Self Parking - $7

Players who drive in each day: Show your convention card at the concierge desk in the lobby of the Galt House to receive a parking validation ticket. You will need to pick up a ticket each day of the tournament. If you leave during the day and come back, you will need to pick up a new ticket. Your parking validation ticket is good for 17 hours (for example, 8 a.m. to 1 a.m.).

Galt House guests: Your room key will be used to go in and out of the parking garage. Please be sure to tell the front desk agent that you are with ACBL.

Please take care

With the increased use of electronic scoring devices, it is incumbent upon players to properly check and verify scores that are entered at the table. Scoring errors have resulted in numerous changes in qualifiers, event rankings and even event winners. Please take the time to make sure the scores have been entered correctly so as to minimize the number of scoring corrections that are necessary.

Brilliancy prize redux By Barry Rigal

Let's start with today's problem (hands rotated) and then get to the back story.

A A 9 3 V A Q J 2 A K Q 4

After East passes, you open 1NT and play there. West leads the &J. Plan the play.

 8 7 5

While you are thinking about it, Danny Kleinman, who provided me with this deal, fills in the details

Apparently Danny had played a duplicate session with Eddie Kantar a few years ago. Finding a line of supreme virtuosity, Kantar had carefully garnered seven tricks in his contract of 3NT. Opening the traveler, he discovered that all the other, less-gifted, declarers had followed a less-transcendent line to nine tricks. Nevertheless, Danny had congratulated Kantar on the elegance of his play.

Back to the Rockwell Mixed Pairs, second final session, where Danny had a chance to emulate his mentor.

Reading the lead of the &J as being from length, Danny ducked the first trick, hoping that West had started with five clubs. When the jack held, no ace appearing, West persisted in clubs. Danny, showing the courage of his convictions, ducked again!

This was the full deal:

♥ 9 6 5 2
♣ J 10 6

▲ A 9 3♥ A Q J 2◆ K Q 4♣ 8 7 5

After two rounds of clubs, a diamond shift saw declarer win the second diamond to play the ♥A and ♥Q. He now collected two hearts, two diamonds and one spade for two down. Danny maintains that he had outdone Kantar, who had dropped only two tricks, while he had made three or four tricks fewer than everyone else in the field.

The Insider

The Insider has heard many good comments about the tournament so far. The local folks have provided excellent entertainment — don't miss the Monarchs tonight — the Bulletin Boys have kept us up to date, Ask Me Girl has answered many questions — some over and over again -- the S.C. is heading home today, Boss Baum has been playing bridge and the Insider has been trying to figure out what can be boxed up early and what needs to be left out for play. He has decided to leave the tables set, the cards in the boards and the convention cards on the supply tables. The Services guys will begin the four-day process of loading the trailers this afternoon so be on the look out for carts rolling towards the back door.

As promised, the Insider will now disclose the real ACBL reporting structure. The ACBL Board makes policy decisions. Boss Baum has responsibility for the day-to-day operations of the league. He has several managers based in the greater metropolitan Horn Lake headquarters that implement the decisions he makes. There are eight Field supervisors who manage the 140-plus Tournament Directors in the field. Then, there is the S.C. Officially, he has no position on the org chart but nothing happens anywhere in ACBLand without his knowledge, input and direction. He refers to himself in those few candid moments where he speaks to any of us as a benevolent dictator. He is the final authority. He is, after all, the Supreme Commander. All the real decisions are made by him in consultation with the members of the Supreme Round Table — a secret group of advisors who make up SupComCon. This group is so secret, even the S.C. doesn't know the membership. They typically meet by conference call at 2 a.m. on alternate Thursdays. Voice-altering software further protects their identities, even from one another. It is this group that recently imposed a three-IMP penalty for possession of more than three golf pencils — a cost-cutting move that will save the ACBL more than $17 million in the next five years. So, Boss Baum defiantly reports to the S.C., as do all the rest of us.

If you are enjoying the Louisville NABC, make plans now to attend Toronto and Seattle. The big tent will be moving to those cities next followed by a huge 75th anniversary special NABC in Memphis — a suburb of greater Horn Lake — next spring. The Museum and Hall of Fame await your visit. The staff at Headquarters is anxious to show off their new digs and the S.C has promised to put on a special gala at his palatial home on the eve of the Spring 2012 NABC. Even the Insider is looking forward to seeing what is behind those 12-foot stone walls high above the Mississippi.

JUST FOR NEW PLAYERS

Picking winners By Marti Ronemus

Another wonderful day of bridge for you...I hope you are appreciating everything around you. I'm stuck at home with a broken leg, so I've been depending on you to e-mail me about what's going on, and you've been wonderful! I love gossip even when it's about people I've never met! And have my Faithful Readers come through for me!! A deluge of e-mails, all nice as can be with lots in the strange category also. Witness this exchange: "Dear Marti, Sorry to hear about the broken leg... I've enjoyed reading these articles about horses, and I'd like some advice. How do you pick a winning horse? You must have some recommendations. Signed, Broke."

Dear Broke: If I had the slightest clue how to pick a winner at the track, I would not be working for a living. I've tried everything: Picking by color, name, driver, random numbers, favorites, phases of the moon, throwing darts and asking strangers. This is the only subject on the planet earth on which I have no advice. Sorry I can't help you.

"Well, if you can't help me pick a winning horse, can you help me recognize a winning hand? I'm discovering that it isn't just the point count. Your friend, Broke."

Dear Broke: NOW you'll get some advice! First, good for you for recognizing that it isn't just point count. Here are three little ideas for you to think about.

1. Position. The value of your hand changes dramatically based on where you are sitting. You hold ♦843 ♥Q65 ♦KJ85 ♣A83.

You've got a nice support hand, don't you? Question: Does the value of your hand change if your RHO (right hand opponent) bids diamonds as opposed to if your LHO bids diamonds? Absolutely, yes. If your RHO bids the diamonds, your ♦K and your ♦J are much more likely to be winners than if the person behind you bids diamonds. Make sense? (Humor me: Say yes.)

2. Honor placement. Look at these two hands and tell me which one is more valuable.

a) ♦842 ♥854 ♦92 K J 7 2 b) ★AKJ ♥854 ♦ \92 ♣8

Each hand has 8 HCP, but hand a) is a trick-taker. That club suit will grow up. The spades in hand b) are super, but unless your partner is in spades, the hand doesn't offer the number of tricks, especially in notrump.

3. Honorettes. I like to think of 10s, 9s and 8s as "honorettes" so that they get the respect they deserve. (Personally, I think a 10 is an honorette, unless it's combined with a J.) Which hand is more valuable and why?

a) ★K Q 9 8 ♥A J 10 9 8

♦53 ♣53

b) ∧K Q 4 2 ♥A 5 4 3 2

♦J2 ♣53

Each hand has 10 HCP, but hand a), because of the honorettes, is a much nicer hand, bringing a lot more to the

So, Broke, work on those ideas, and if you happen to pick a winning horse, be sure to tell me how you did it!

And this one.

"Dear Marti, too bad about that leg. And a word of caution: Just because your husband hasn't smothered you yet doesn't mean he won't do it. When my husband had his hip replaced, he missed my smothering him by one diamond ring!

"I was interested to read that people just sell horses when they don't work out. Do you have any advice for getting rid of a bridge partner? Is there an auction somewhere? Please let me know. I'm getting desperate. Signed, Gritting My Teeth in Texas'

Dear Gritting: At our club, we usually offer the 5th round as Partner Exchange Round. We do warn our players however, to take a good long look at who they might be exchanging their partner for! Funny...that usually encourages them to keep their existing partner!

First, I encourage you to think about why you aren't happy with your partner. You didn't give me any clues. How long have you been partners? Is it your partner's bridge you're unhappy with, or personal habits? Are you sure it's your partner's fault? Maybe s/he is feeling the same way about you...hmmm.

My advice on this one is simple. Take your pard to the bar and be open and honest about it. Explain that you feel you could do with a "temporary separation," that you two seem to be locked at a standstill. If you are open, and treat your partner with the respect that your relationship deserves, you may be able to work it

If not, nice people await at the partnership desk! That's sort of like an auction for partners, but you won't have to shell out any cash!

Well, that's my story and I'm stickin' to it! Thank you for your shower of e-mails and please keep them coming. I need the laughs. mronemus@comcast.net

2. As declarer, when leading up to one of several equal honors, play the higher or highest for deceptive purposes. This also applies when finessing or taking a trick.

Opening lead: $3.

Bidding commentary: Your 2♦ bid is the key bid in the auction. After partner redoubles and you then bid a lower-ranking second suit or repeat your original suit before partner has a second chance to bid, you are describing a minimum unbalanced opening bid. In the case of bidding a second suit $(2 \spadesuit)$, you are showing 5-5, possibly 6-5 or 5-6, with 10-12 HCP. With stronger distributional hands (15+ HCP), jump immediately. With 13-14 HCP and a distributional hand, pass first, confirming a decent opening bid, and then show your unbalanced distribution. As South, you clearly have enough to compete to $3 \spadesuit$, and North, knowing that you have a minimum, should be content with that contract and not even think of bidding 3NT!

Play commentary: As South, win the ♣A and lead a heart to the king (the higher equal when leading up to equal honors in the closed hand for deceptive purposes) and ace. If West wins and continues with the *K, ruff, cash the ♥Q and lead a low heart in line with the important general principle of establishing a long, relatively weak side suit, before drawing trumps. The most the defenders can take is two diamonds, the \forall A and the \blacktriangle K.

1. After an opening bid, a takeout double, and a redouble, if the opener bids a second suit or repeats the original suit at a minimum level before the redoubler has a chance to bid, opener shows a weak distributional hand.

Where's Eddie Kantar when you need him? By Barry Rigal

The early-bird two-session pairs on Wednesday threw up a couple of key-card teasers that left me struggling. Neither of the deals offered much in the play but let's look at the bidding – just in case the reader and his partner are equally unprepared as I was to deal with RKCB nuances.

If opener has shown a strong hand (and thus cannot have zero key cards), is 5♥ now to play with a hand such as ♦ K Q 8 7 ♥ 6 5 2 ♦ K Q 6 ♣ K Q 5, or is it the queen ask? If 5♥ is to play, does 5♠ ask for the trump queen, or is that to play? As a separate issue, how do you get to 6NT and avoid the grand slam, which would be cold if the strong hand were 1-7-2-3 and playable facing any doubleton spade.

The next deal proved too challenging for many in the field.

Yes, if you are going to play a grand slam it should be 7NT, and West can bid it over 7♦ because responder cannot have a singleton heart, or he would bid 7♠ over 5♠ and leave it to you to convert to 7NT only with solid hearts. But how does responder find out about the ♥K when any heart bid might sound like an attempt to play there, not a grand slam try after the key card ask?

Speaking up

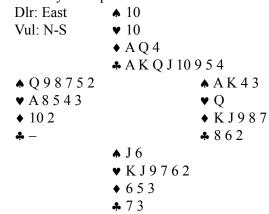

Keith Garber of Las Vegas reports that his bridge friends gave him a lot of grief about not bidding his two-suited hand properly in a deal reported earlier in the tournament.

He stopped by the Daily Bulletin office to offer proof that he does have what it takes to get in there and mix it up.

In the Rockwell Mixed Pairs, Garber held this hand at favorable vulnerability:

♦Q98752 ♥A8543 ♦102

His partner opened the bidding 1♦ and his right-hand opponent bid 2♥, weak. Garber passed, and heard his LHO leap to 5. When that was passed around to Garber, he sucked it up and pulled out the 5♠ card from the bidding box. His bid was followed by three passes. This was the full deal:

Well bid . . . except that East-West are cold for $6 \clubsuit$. The natural question, of course, is whether Garber can expect more grief from his buddies for missing the slam?

Cam Doner, who accompanied Garber to the DB office, had the answer to that question: "I've already done that."

(1) South believed she Alerted 3♥ showing a maximum, but did not. North was about to explain the failure to Alert but East asked before she could, and received the correct information.

(2) South acknowledged a break-in-tempo (BIT) before the 3NT bid by South.

Facts: The final contract was 4♠ by North making seven for a score of plus 510 after the lead of the ♣9.

South believed she Alerted 3 •, showing a maximum, but it was agreed that she did not. North said he was about to explain the failure to Alert, but East asked before he was able to, getting the correct information. East-West did not call the director at that time. There was an agreed BIT before the 3NT bid.

Director's Ruling: The director adjusted the score to 3NT by South, down one, minus 50 for North-South as a result of the agreed BIT before the 3NT call, based on Laws 16B2 and 12C1e.

After the ruling, South brought up new information never mentioned at the table; i.e., (1) 2NT shows a spade fit; (2) 3NT was not natural, but was asking for a four-card minor (which was not Alerted) although South said East-West asked and got the correct information; and (3) when South did not pass 3 \(\Phi\) doubled, she showed that she did not want to play 3NT (asked by East).

The Appeal: North-South appealed the director's ruling and attended the hearing. East-West did not attend the hearing. At the screening, Matt Smith, the screener, informed the appellants that based on their explanations, he felt it was unlikely the committee would award them redress and that, in fact, it was likely they would receive an Appeal Without Merit Warning (AWMW). Nevertheless, the pair still chose to exercise their right to appeal.

The decision: The committee ruled that the contract should be 3NT, down one for a score of minus 50 for North-South.

The committee decided as the director did and ruled that the appeal lacked merit. The basis for that ruling lay in the three transgressions committed by North-South at the table, as follows: (1) North failed to Alert South's 3NT rebid as artificial either at the time the bid was made or at the conclusion of the bidding; (2) that there was an acknowledged appreciable BIT before the 3NT bid was made, which conveyed unauthorized information to North concerning doubt and there was a logical alternative to bidding 4A; and (3) there was no apparent agreement in the explanations by North and South as to pass or correct. Their convention cards did not substantiate the claim that their partnership agreements without the opponents' intervention applied after a lead directing double.

At the screening, the screener informed the appellants that based on their explanations, he felt it was unlikely the committee would award them any redress and that, in fact, it was likely they would receive an Appeal Without Merit Warning. Nevertheless, the pair still chose to exercise their right to appeal. The North-South pair received an Appeal Without Merit Warning.

The committee: Gail Greenberg, chair, Ed Lazarus, Chris Moll, Jim Thurtell, and Tom Peters.

Cause for regret

On this deal from the first final session of the Lebhar IMP Pairs, East had reason to regret his opening lead. The beneficiary of the mistake was Mark Itabashi, playing with Sabba Ravipudi.

East started with the $4, which proved fatal to the defense. Itabashi put up dummy's 10, which held as West discarded a low diamond. Itabashi played a club to his ace, cashed the $K and ruffed a club in dummy. He played a low heart from dummy to his queen, then ruffed his last club.

He cashed the ◆A, getting the picture of East's distribution, then played a low heart from dummy. At that point, East was down to ★K 9 6 5 and ◆J 7. If West holds the lead and gives East a diamond ruff, East must exit with a heart, ruffed by Itabashi. When he exits with a diamond, East ruffs perforce and must lead from ★K 9 to declarer's ★A Q for plus 620 to North-South.

the Europeans," said Ratmiroff. (The Monaco Z team members are originally from France and Italy.) "Our goal was to do our best and enjoy the experience. This was a golden moment, an opportunity that may never come again."

Although the team lost 249—81, Ratmiroff says the experience was "exciting and just awesome."

The pair is proud that after the first quarter, they were only behind 61—46 while playing the Italians. "They were patient with us and very pleasant," says Paddock. "We were happy that we weren't too nervous."

Ratmiroff says they were proud that they bid 6* making seven on one deal. When they compared scores, however, they found their counterparts at the other table bid the grand slam.

"We scored 81 IMPs, but we should have done better," says Ratmiroff. "Even so, I'm very proud of what we did."

The pair say that the other team was "gracious and very classy."

"Some teams would have tried to intimidate us," says Ratmiroff, "but they made us feel like we belonged there."

The pair is still on cloud nine. "I can't sleep at night because I keep replaying our match," says Ratmiroff. "I've tried to explain it to my family, but they don't play bridge and so it doesn't mean much to them"

The pair says that they were exhausted at the end, but refused to concede. "We wanted to play every board," says Ratmiroff.

"This is the pinnacle of my bridge career," says Paddock. "The Zimmermann team is one of the top teams in the world, but they were so nice. The whole experience was surreal."

Playing in the Vanderbilt almost didn't happen. Early Monday morning, Paddock and Ratmiroff learned that their team had fallen through. One of their teammates had played in a regional knockout team game on Sunday and had advanced to Monday and she couldn't play. When they tried to withdraw, the directors asked them to find new teammates – withdrawing would cause problems and they were expected to play.

Paddock and Ratmiroff went to the partnership desk. When the volunteer announced they were looking for a pair, another player, Sheila Pies, helped them form a team with Jan and John Derdall of Western Springs IL. The Derdalls are Gold Life Masters.

"The Derdalls were delightful teammates," says Paddock. "They didn't make us feel like lesser players," added Ratmiroff.

Playing in a four-way match, the team lost in the afternoon, but won their match at night to advance to the round of 64. The win gave them 3.0 platinum points.

Ratmiroff and Paddock are homemakers with grown children. "We're empty nesters," said Paddock. They've played together regularly for two years.

Bid Box Alerts and Announcements

When using bid boxes, the ACBL requires that players tap the Alert strip and say "Alert" at the same time.

When making an Announcement, use the Announcement word (such as "transfer") and tap the Alert strip at the same time.

A player who Alerts or Announces a bid must make sure his opponents are aware that an Alert or Announcement has been made.

Louisville 1966 — A look back

Here are some more deals from the 1966 Louisville NABC.

The dauntless advocate of 4–3 fits, Sonny Moyse, isn't here, but he'd have approved this bidding:

The 3♣ bid was strong (not the weak response that some players use). West's non-vulnerable buttin bid of 3♠ affected the bidding. When opener did not double, it marked North with fewer than four cards in that suit. North did not raise hearts, so his four-card suit could be read as either spades or clubs. North didn't bid spades at once because he had a minimum. He passed South's 4♠ bid. This great contract could stand a 4–2 trump split as long as there was no club ruff.

On the following deal from the Women's Teams, most pairs had difficulty reaching a laydown small slam:

Less than half the field bid the slam on the North-South cards, and most settled in 6♦. Only a handful of players arrived at the superior matchpoint contract of 6♠. One pair did so on the auction shown, wherein the key bid was South's jump to 3♣. By agreement, this showed a strong hand with a singleton club. When North later raised spades, it was a simple matter for South to check for aces and then bid the slam.

The play to the first two tricks was unusual on this deal:

The opening lead was the $\clubsuit 3$. North followed with the 2, East the 4 and South won the 5. At trick two, South lead the $\spadesuit 3$ towards dummy's singleton 2. West followed with the $\spadesuit 5$ and East underplayed with the 4. The play to the first two tricks was the 2, 3, 4 and 5 in spades and diamonds!

On the following deal from the Vanderbilt, daring and resourceful bidding by Dave Carter of St. Louis netted his team an 11-IMP gain.

Carter held the East hand. His second-round bid of 3 ♦ was lead-directing should the opponents buy the contract. The subsequent double demanded the diamond lead.

West obediently led the ◆A and continued with the jack — a suit preference signal showing a heart reentry. Carter ruffed, led a low heart to West's king and ruffed the diamond return to defeat the contract.

At the other table, West led a heart against 4 and the contract was made with an overtrick.

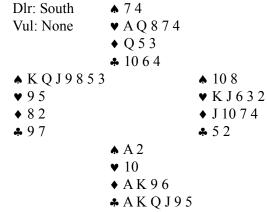

There were two red faces on the defender's team when declarer pulled a triple fast one on this deal:

West led the ◆3 and East falsecarded with the queen, declarer winning the king. South led the ♣8 to the king and led a low heart from dummy. The 10 lost to West's king, and he got out with a safe club. Declarer won in dummy, playing the 10 under the ace and led a second low heart!

West won. Thinking South had nothing in spades, West shifted to the AK which was permitted to hold the trick, declarer contributing the 4. With a flourish, West played another spade!

Steve Becker took a few hours off from work (on the Daily Bulletin) to play with his wife.

West led the ♠K against Steve's slam. He won the ace and decided to play West for spade length and little else. He ran all six clubs and East had to discard from:

She threw a diamond and South ran the suit. If she had thrown a spade instead, Steve could play four rounds of diamonds to endplay East into leading a heart into dummy's A–Q. If the ♥K is blanked, South can drop it.

Dan Morse of Houston bid and made a slam on a deal that several pairs could not even produce a game:

Morse won the ♥K opening lead with the ace, discarded dummy's low heart on the second top diamond and sneaked through his ▲10. When West ducked, the hand was over. A club to the ace was followed by the *Q. Whatever East played, declarer had two entries to dummy to establish and run enough clubs for 12 tricks.

If West takes his A and leads a top heart, the contract can be defeated.

Marty Cohn had to combine adroit spot-card handling and table awareness to fulfill this sticky game contract in the Vanderbilt:

Cohn's	partner, Jim	Linhart, had	d an awkward rebid on the second round. His 3. call convinced Cohn that the North hand had four cards in at least one of the major suits.

Declarer ducked the club opening lead and won the second round. Two rounds of spades dropped the jack and Cohn decided trumps were not going to break. Three rounds of diamonds found that suit favorably split and a fourth diamond was ruffed by West who exited with his last trump.

Cohn had counted East for two spades, six clbs three diamonds and, therefore, two hearts only. If East's heart holding were the doubled A–9 or A–7, the contract could be made. He led the ♥10 to the queen, king and ace and ruffed the club return with his last trump.

Which spot card was in the East hand? The play for the drop of the 9 is probably superior technically, as it assured that the contract will be defeated no more than one trick. But Cohn had noticed a slight hesitation before West passed the final bid. On the delicate but accurate theory that West was more likely to hesitate with Q-9-x-x of hearts than the Q-7-x-x, Cohn ran the \checkmark 8 and made his game.

What's new in bridge? The void-showing jump discussed by B. Jay Becker in a bridge forum earlier this tournament, worked out well for him and Mrs. Dorothy Hayden in this hand from the Vanderbilt:

	∧ K J 6

Many pairs might reach the slam on these cards, but if the club and heart holdings in the North hand are reversed, there would be no play.

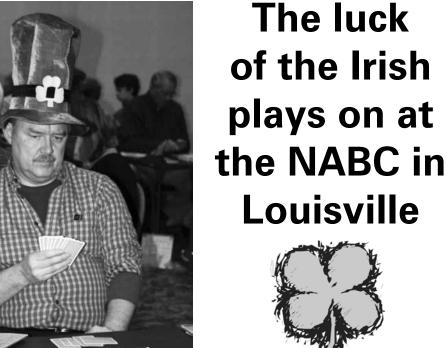

Mrs. Hayden's 4. bid promised a void or a low singleton. Becker liked his hand. With no duplication in clubs and a good raise, he cuebid his strong heart holding. Mrs. Hayden needed no further encouragement to bid the slam.

On this deal from the Vanderbilt Knockout Teams match between the Nick Nickell and Lou Ann O'Rourke teams, Zia Mahmood showed why he is such a formidable opponent.

Bob Hamman started with the ♥A, on which Zia played the ♥K! Who can blame declarer, looking at a 10-card fit, for ruffing high, thus promoting the setting trick for Zia and his $\delta J 7 5. Without Zia's inspired play, Hamman might well have duplicated the defense at the other table, which would have meant a 13-IMP loss instead of a 13-IMP gain.

At the time, the swing pulled the Nickell team to within 2 IMPs of O'Rourke.

Never give up! By Brad Boyle

When you have been battling the unrelenting progression of Parkinson's Disease for more than 15 years and you still haven't reached your 50th birthday, you learn a lot about the importance of perseverance, maintaining a positive attitude and never giving up hope despite the difficult circumstances. These attributes also came in useful for me when my partner, Allan Simon, and I found ourselves down 37-0 at halftime in the final of Bracket II of the Betty Lepping Memorial KO. In the second half, we had a couple of positive positions, but clearly still need to be fighting hard for every possible IMP when the final board hit the

After a very competitive auction that looked more like matchpoint bidding, Allan displayed fine judgment by doubling 4♣. I led a third-best ♥7 to the 4, queen and ace.

Declarer then played the AK, AA and led the ▲J. I covered with the ▲Q as declarer pitched dummy's last heart. I exited with the ♠9, ruffed in dummy with the *K and overruffed by Allan with the ace. Allan got out with a heart, ruffed in dummy. Declarer, Verna Goldberg, read the club position well by leading a low club from dummy to her 8 when Allan followed with the 5, then played the $10, pitching a diamond and tried the ♦ A and then a low diamond. However, there were no miracles and we had to score a diamond and another club for down one and plus 200.

When our teammates were left to play 3. making four on a low diamond lead for plus 130, we scored 8 IMPs to win the match and event by 1 IMP! If Allan had not doubled, we would have won 6 IMPs to lose the match by 1 IMP and if our teammates (Richard Ekstrum and Tom Holzer) had not made the overtrick, the match would have ended in a tie!

Jane Weinberg Memorial 299er, 199er, 99er, 49er, 0–20 and 0–5 Pairs

Jane Weinberg was a devoted daughter, wife, mother, grandmother and civic volunteer. Her many attributes of caring, dedication and belief in helping others made her the loving, wonderful person everyone knew. Some of the organizations in which she was involved were The National Council of Jewish Women, Louisville Section, The Jewish Hospital Guild (of which she was President) and The Louisville Visual Art Association. Jane's love of art, travel and bridge kept her quite busy. Monday and Wednesday afternoons were bridge games with friends, but playing at the Bridge Center was reserved for her husband, Marty. She enjoyed playing bridge on the computer and reading the bridge hand from the newspaper. Jane was a good friend and role model, and she is missed by all of us.

Saturday is Golden Flake Day

Back in 1923, Mose Lischkoff and Frank Mosher had a deceptively simple idea — an idea that grew over the past 80 plus years from two gentlemen and a sack of potatoes into more than 1200 employees and 100 million pounds of potatoes a year. It was Lischkoff and Mosher whose fresh, kettle-cooked potato chips formed the foundation of the snack food company known today as Golden Flake.

In 1956, the company was sold to Sloan Bashinsky who bought the company from his father and uncle. The younger Bashinsky brought with him a hands-on knowledge of the business for, although he was a charter member of the Board of Directors, he had worked his way up to the top job through route sales and production. One of his first moves was to change the name from Magic City Food Products to the more descriptive moniker: "Golden Flake, Incorporated."

Golden Flake went public in 1968.

Diversifying into insurance, real estate, fasteners and advertising, in 1977 Golden Flake Snack Foods became a wholly owned subsidiary of Golden Enterprises, Inc. Today, this Birmingham - born snack food company serves a 12-state market with an extensive product line. Yet the company's attention to detail, to taste and to what the customers want has not changed in the past 80 plus years. Today, more than ever, Golden Flake upholds that commitment.

Irene Leatherman Memorial Side Game

Irene Leatherman lived in northern Mississippi on a cotton farm and had to drive a little more than an hour to Memphis for her bridge games. Her advice to most partners became known in my family as "grandmother's rule." This rule is much simpler than most of the bridge — when the opponents are in four of a minor, smile and pass.

Ruth White Campbell Stratified Swiss

Ruth White Campbell was Louisville's first Life Master. She ran bridge tournaments at the Louisville Women's Club, Big Spring Country Club, Audubon Country Club and the Louisville Country Club. She was one of the founders of the Louisville Bridge Association and ran games and tournaments for the LBA. She was a Girl Scout leader and had more than 10,000 volunteer hours at the Veterans Hospital. The week before she died, she ran her final bridge tournament. She was married to Dr. I. W. "Candy" Campbell for more than 50 years, had two children and six grandchildren. She died in Nov. 1991

Sonny Switow Stratified 299er Swiss

Sonny Switow was born in Louisville and attended Washington and Lee University where he started playing bridge. He loved it enough that he taught his wife how to play so that the two of them could play duplicate and participate in the tournaments. He always looked forward to playing weekly with Carl Horne and Lee Thomas.

The Clever Cooks fixed special lunches for Verna Goldberg's Friday game. Some of the memorable meals included chili, soups, barbequed pork sandwiches, chicken salad, potato salad, cakes and more. The cooks include Al Bevins, Carolyn Carpenter, Connie Crockett, Hannah Davis, Cheryl Klein, Perry Moore, Cheryl Overy, Gail Slater and Tinker Zimmerman.

Bonnie and Lynda Lawson Memorial Side Game

Bonnie Lawson died in 2009 after a multi-year battle with cancer, followed soon afterwards by the unexpected death of her daughter, Lynda. Bonnie and her husband, Marvin, ran the Henderson KY game for years and were well known as bridge promoters throughout western Kentucky and southern Indiana.

Bonnie won numerous regional and sectional championships; always at tournaments close to Henderson as she rarely traveled away from home. At the table she was famous for her fierce competitive spirit, the quality of her play, and for her calm and friendly demeanor. Indeed, Bonnie will always be remembered for her kindness and grace. We name this event in her and her daughter's honor and as a tribute to her, her daughter and her husband Marvin, who continues to run the Henderson game and promote bridge in western Kentucky.

Eleanor Orr Memorial 299er Pairs

Eleanor Orr was primarily a rubber bridge player, but she was devoted to the game and played several times each week. She particularly enjoyed her Thursday afternoon game with Florence "Teach" Tyler. Florence Tyler wrote the daily bridge column for the Cincinnati Inquirer for many years and doubtless acquired some of her example hands from the Thursday afternoon games.

Linda Blum Memorial Stratified 299er Swiss Team

Linda A. Blum (1944 - 2009) was born in Iowa, married Sam Blum and moved to Louisville, and finally settled in Tampa FL. She became an active and participating member of her Synagogue and local community. While raising a family of four, she never lost sight of her responsibilities to all of the organizations she loved. Ultimately, she became the leader and spokesperson of these groups. Her influence covered the entire southeastern region of the U. S. In her spare time (!) she loved to play bridge. Although her schedule did not permit steady participation, she played as often as she could. We all loved her and miss her!

Jim Washer Memorial Stratified Open Pairs By Ralph Letizia

Jim Washer and I ran into each other in the early Eighties at a local sectional. I had been playing for some time and he just decided to show up and see what the game was all about. We found we had a myriad of things in common, and soon became good friends. Naturally, the conversation drifted toward bridge and we discussed playing together. After a few games, it was clear that while he was quite the novice, he also was very intelligent and had a real knack for the game. Because I already had several regular partners, I suggested that he ask other good players for games and see where it took him.

After about a year or so, we decided to form a team of local players and see what we could do. Amazingly enough, out of five regional knockout events, that we played in we won three and finished second in another! Jim played at least half and usually three-fourths of the boards in every match, and we were never behind when he came out.

In the early part of this century, he and I decided to form a partnership so we could play the Precision Club system. Due to totally different styles, we struggled for the first year, and even contemplated shelving the partnership and just playing on teams with different people. We persisted, however, and eventually developed a rock-solid partnership winning many sectional and regional events. Jim liked to play as much bridge as possible during our local regional tournaments and was the leading masterpoint winner at least three times. His sudden passing in 2009 was a harsh blow to all who knew him. His genial smile and warped humor will always be missed.

Friday is Verna's Fun-filled Friday Game Day

Averaging 16 to 18 tables, Verna's Friday game is always lively. Director Verna Goldberg helps make it a fun-filled day. The clever cooks earned money from the Friday players to dedicate this day to Verna, a special director, mentor, teacher and friend.

Monitoring

At this and future North American Championships, ACBL will be monitoring NABC+ events with visible, real-time cameras. The images will be recorded and will be available for later official inspection and review.

By general monitoring of the session and participants' behavior, ACBL has another source of information that may be useful in determining facts and settling issues arising from some types of ethical and behavioral complaints or actions. Please summon a director if a problem occurs at the table.

This procedure is intended to assure everyone that the playing field is level and that misbehavior will not be tolerated.

Bid Box Alerts and Announcements

When using bid boxes, the ACBL requires that players tap the Alert strip and say "Alert" at the same time.

When making an Announcement, use the Announcement word (such as "transfer") and tap the Alert strip at the same time.

A player who Alerts or Announces a bid must make sure his opponents are aware that an Alert or Announcement has been made.
