Goodwill toasts a pair of 'Bears'

Two of the giants of the game – known to friends and family in Nashville as Mama and Papa Bear – were honored on Monday at the ACBL Goodwill Committee reception.

The honorees, Tommy and Carol Sanders, each received a standing ovation from the crowd in the packed meeting room after glowing tributes from dear friends.

Although they achieved their lofty status in the bridge world in separate arenas, Mama and Papa Bear reign together as king and queen of bridge in Nashville and as goodwill ambassadors for the game worldwide.

Aileen Osofsky, Goodwill chairman, noted that Carol has been her co-chair of the committee for 20 years.

Betty Ann Kennedy, Carol's partner for two and a half decades of extraordinary success in women's bridge, took the podium to tell about how their partnership, one of the most enduring and successful in bridge annals, was formed.

"It all started in 1971 when I decided to find a partner and win a world championship," said Kennedy. She talked it over with her husband, Jack, and he said he thought Carol Sanders would be perfect.

So Kennedy called Carol and made her proposal. Carol said she had to talk it over with Tommy, but she called back in about five minutes to say it was a done deal.

They played together in some regionals but were having only modest success when Tommy asserted himself and told the women they better win something or forget about any world championships. "That was exactly what Jack had said to me," Kennedy recalled.

They won their first regional event in Fort Worth TX shortly thereafter and from there became one of the top women's partnerships in the world, winning four world titles, earning silver in three others and placing first 13 times in North American championships.

"Carol is a master technician," said Kennedy, "and a great table psychologist."

Even better, said Kennedy, is that Carol was a very supportive partner. In the 26 years they played together, said Kennedy, not one harsh word was spoken between the two.

Spingolds in full swing

Three separate brackets of the Spingold Knockout Teams are under way in earnest. Besides the main Spingold, there are Mini-Spingold I (0—5000) and II (0—1500).

In the main event, the top 36 teams, headed by No. 1 seeded Nick Nickell squad, had byes to the round of 64, starting today.

Mini Spingold I is in the round of 32, Mini Spingold II is in the round of 16.

The Nickell team is missing a regular, Richard Freeman, who could not attend because of illness. Hemant Lall, of Dallas TX, is filling in as Nickell's partner. The rest of the squad is Bob Hamman, Paul Soloway, Jeff Meckstroth and Eric Rodwell.

Wagar in quarterfinals

Eight teams will do battle today in the Wagar Women's Knockout Teams for berths in the semifinal round of the event, which concludes on Thursday.

Each of the top eight seeds advanced to the quarterfinal round after the first day of play on Monday.

Today's matchups, by captain and seed number, are Lynn Baker (1) – Renee Mancuso (8); Hansa Narasimhan (2) – Kathy Baum (7); Bep Vriend (3) – Betty Ann Kennedy (6), and Phyllis Fireman (4) – Kathleen Sulgrove (5).

Baker is playing with Karen McCallum, Kerri Sanborn, Irina Levitina, Lynn Deas and Beth Palmer.

Grue youngest Grand Life Master

Joe Grue of New York City has advanced to the rank of Grand Life Master, and is the youngest to do so. Grue, who turned 26 on Friday, achieved the rank by winning an unrestricted NABC event and earning more than 10,000 masterpoints. Grue had already won an NABC event, and he added the necessary masterpoints at the U.S.

Bridge Champioship held last month when he was 25 years old. The ACBL has not kept track of this (the rank was established in the Nineties), but Eric Greco is thought to be the youngest --- previous to Grue --- earning the rank when he was age 29.

Grue is a familiar name to those who follow Junior bridge. He has been an integral part of the highly successful U.S. Junior squad that has won two gold medals and one bronze in recent world level competition. But Grue, who is a full-time player living in New York, has now graduated from Junior contests, restricted to the under-26 crowd, and is focusing his efforts on becoming a familiar name in top-flight bridge without the qualifying "Junior" label.

Raised in the Minneapolis area by parents who are active duplicate bridge enthusiasts, Grue became addicted to the game as a teenager. "I knew early on that I wanted to play bridge professionally full time," he said, noting that he has gotten his wish since he plays in tournaments across North America during much of the year.

Grue has developed a solid partnership with the talented Curtis Cheek. "It's all about partnerships," said Grue. "You can be the greatest player in the world, but without a good partner you're nothing."

Grue has shown commitment to the growth of

Senior Swiss qualifiers bunched at top

Only 2 victory points separate the top four qualifying teams in the Truscott/USPC Senior Swiss Teams. The top team, captained by Jeffrey Hand, scored 116 VPs. They are closely followed by the Walter Schenker team with 115 VPs. The Tom Kniest and Jane Bachman squads both have a qualifying score of 114.

Yesterday's qualifying play reduced the field to 42 teams for today's final. The lowest qualifiers scored 81 VPs.

Teams earn carryover for today's play based on their qualifying scores.

The contest is named in memory of the former bridge editor of The New York Times, Alan Truscott. The trophy for the event was put into play in 2006 by the United States Playing Card Company.

No Smoking

Players are reminded that smoking is prohibited in the Nashville Convention Center. As a government building, the state of Tennessee bars smoking anywhere in the facility. Violators will be fined $250. Players are also reminded that violations of ACBL policy in this matter may result in scoring penalties. Thank you for your cooperation.

Goodwill Message

Bridge is more than a pastime. It's a passion. Players return to the table time and time again for the mental challenge, the competition and the company of others who share their love of the world's greatest card game. Aileen Osofsky, Chairman National Goodwill Committee Page 2 Daily Bulletin

JUST FOR NEW PLAYERS

What you don't know can hurt you!

By Lynn Berg

If you were to ask any of the very experienced tournament directors running the games here at the NABC what is most frustrating about the job, you'd hear, over and over, "I wish the players would let me do my job!"

It's more true in the I/N area than in the open games, but all over ACBL, players frequently do not get the help and redress to which they are entitled because they don't call the director in a timely manner.

Why? Sometimes it's a reluctance to seem confrontational — a fear that calling the director will seem like some sort of accusation.

Sometimes it's because the players at the table think they know the laws, so they don't bother to summon the director. And sometimes they don't realize that the director could make things better.

It's really frustrating for a TD to have a player come up after the game is over to talk about some incident at the table. By then, it's usually too late to do anything. Calling the director immediately is the proper action to take if anything unusual happens at the table.

If there's a bid or lead out of turn, an insufficient bid, a card played in error — whatever it might be — the TD should be called to make sure that the law is observed and the rights of the players are protected.

For example, most players know that if you have a penalty card, it must be played at the first opportunity to lead, follow suit or discard. But do you know when a penalty card is only a "minor" penalty card, with entirely different rules? And do you know that the declarer has options if the partner of the person who has the penalty card should get the lead? You don't have to know, if you call the director.

If the opponents make a bid about which you have questions, but the partner you ask doesn't have an answer — no agreement, senior moment, whatever the reason — you can call a director to the table and find out what you need to know. The partner can be sent from the table while the person who made the bid answers your questions. You're entitled to the information, but in some cases you can't get it without the director's intervention. Settling for "I don't know" may seem polite, but it's not necessary.

What if your opponent claims the rest of the tricks, but you're pretty sure you have another trick, perhaps more than one. Did you know that it's improper to insist that play continue? As a practical matter, the declarer will know there's something to worry about that had not occurred to him before he claimed.

According to the Laws of Duplicate Contract Bridge, play ceases when a claim is made. You should give the person who claimed a chance to state a line of play, but if he doesn't, or if the claim fails to take in to account a card or cards in your hand, then stop playing, put your cards down and call the director.

The TD will find out the details of the claim, look at all four hands and make a ruling that protects the interests of the non-claiming side. Similarly, if there's a revoke, you need a director to be sure whether the revoke has been established and what tricks, if any, should go to the non-offending side.

Don't let an opponent tell you that it's not necessary to call the director. Pleasantly but firmly say that you would like a director to come to the table, raise your hand and call, "Director, please!" Your opponent is in error not to want a director at the table. You don't have to be wrong, too.

One other point: South's spades are so long and so strong that he eschews supporting hearts to play in a suit so strong it doesn't really need help from partner – a winning tip.

Defensive commentary: On opening lead, holding the ace of trumps along with a side-suit singleton is about as good as it gets. The singleton is led with the idea of getting in with the trump ace and then putting partner in to secure a ruff. That's the idea, anyway.

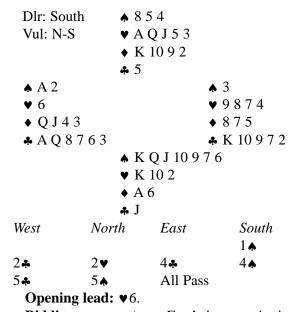

Play commentary: Sitting in the South seat, with both opponents bidding clubs, a heart lead in dummy's first-bid suit looks ominous. It figures to be a singleton. You can visualize West winning the A, leading a club to East and getting a heart ruff. What to do? One possibility is to play the A, K, then the 10. If East plays low, discard

After winning the trick, West will not be able to put East in with a club for the heart ruff. If East covers the ◆10, ruff and lead the ♠Q, hoping West plays low fearing partner has the singleton king. Look, you are desperate.

Defensive commentary #2: If South plays a spade at trick two (the likelihood), West must win and lead a low club over to a hoped-for king to get that cherished heart ruff.

Thinking bridge By Eddie Kantar

Bidding commentary: East's jump to 4* is weak and preemptive. Jump raises of overcalls are preemptive. Normal strength is about 4—6 high-card points, four- or five-card support, plus a singleton or two doubletons. With stronger hands, the advancer (partner of the overcaller) raises, showing 8—10 support points. With more, advancer cuebids.

In the example auction, advancer can cuebid in spades or hearts. When the opponents have bid two suits, a cuebid is normally made in the suit in which the advancer has strength. If partner has strength in the other suit, a notrump contract might be reached.

Bill Cook, District 10 representative on the ACBL Board of Directors, with Osofsky and NABC Chairman David Birnbaum.

"She was always on my side," said Kennedy.

Bobby Wolff spoke for Tommy, noting that "there are many sides to Tommy Sanders, and they're all good – or most of them." Wolff noted that Tommy is the only person ever to graduate from Vanderbilt University (in Nashville) and to have won the Vanderbilt Knockout Teams.

Tommy established himself as a world-class player quickly and "won everything that could be won."

Wolff recalled playing against Tommy and the legendary Barry Crane on one occasion, and Wolff noted that he saw something he had never seen previously – Crane's deference to another player.

Tommy, Wolff said, contributed to bridge in many ways away from the table, creating the ACBL Education Foundation and serving on the ACBL Board of Directors for many years, including a term as president in 1986.

"When Tommy Sanders spoke at board meetings," said Wolff, "everyone listened, and he always worked for the best of bridge."

Wolff noted that Tommy was a kind person, assisting the late Lou Bluhm in many ways near the end of Bluhm's life.

"We are lucky to have experienced Tommy and Carol all these years," said Wolff.

Mama and Papa both took the podium to thank everyone for the honor, and Carol said later that she had neglected to mention a dear friend, Dee Adams of Memphis, with whom she won her first masterpoint at the age of 17. Interestingly, Tommy won his first masterpoint with Dee's husband, Harrison, when the two were students at ACBL President Sharon Fairchild with Osofsky.

Two new members of the ACBL Junior Corps, Eric Sieg and Ethan Kotkin, with Osofsky. said Carol, who didn't realize that Adams was at the reception.

There were other poignant moments at the reception, including a story by Elaine Said from the local bridge club.

Two older men, members of the American Bridge Association, were playing at the Vanderbilt club when Said got to their table. The two had played the day before at another location. While they were waiting to start the round, Said's lefthand opponent, Howard Harris, asked his partner, Jack Tarleton, why Tarleton had not gotten his mother a North-South the day before.

Said said she knows that the two men are closer to 80 than 70, so she thought perhaps Harris was referring to Tarleton's wife. She had to ask if he had misspoken, but Tarleton said it was indeed his mother, who is 105.

"And you didn't get her a North-South?" Said

No, said Tarleton of his mother, Ruby. "She likes to move," he said.

Said said there are two morals to the story: One, don't whine if you don't get a North-South and, two, play more bridge.

Said also told the group about a successful program initiated in Memphis by Mary Oshlag. It's called the Eight is Enough team game, which is designed to promote interaction between experienced and inexperienced players. The formula is that A players have a rating of 3, B players 2 and C players 1. Teams can form in any alignment so long as their rating totals do not exceed 8. The program has been enormously successful at the bridge club in Memphis and in several other locations.

Said and Carol Sanders played key roles in

BBO reception

Bridge Base Online will host a reception for members at 5 p.m. Wednesday in Room 108 in the convention center. There will be free food and a cash bar. BBO members are invited to meet the founders of BBO: Fred Gitelman, Sheri Winestock and Uday Ivatury.

Flashy guitars coming

The guitar pins with flashing lights have been so popular with players at the Summer NABC that the supply was exhausted. More are on the way, however, and they should be on sale Tuesday evening at the registration desk. The price is $2 each or two for $3.

The sixth edition of the Official Encyclopedia of Bridge is on sale for $10 at the Baron Barclay bookstore on the first level of the Convention Center.

the partnership and his own understanding of the game. Beginning in Denver in 2005, along with partner Curtis Cheek and his teammates, he participated in coaching sessions given by Eric Kokish.

"Joe is a natural," said Kokish. "He's really quick. His future is unlimited."

The hard work to develop their partnership paid off for Grue and Cheek in 2006. Their team reached the semifinals of the Vanderbilt and the Spingold Knockout Teams, and they won the Reisinger Board-a-Match Teams. These three events are arguably the toughest on the ACBL calendar. Grue was also fifth in the prestigious Cavendish Pairs that year and followed up with fourth this year.

Grue has enjoyed his partnership with Cheek. "Curtis has made me a better player," said Grue. "He's a great partner and friend. He has more experience than I do, and I've benefited from that."

How did the pair become partners? "Jeff Meckstroth suggested I play with him," said Cheek. "I called him and he said he was thinking of asking me to play! We became steady partners in the Spring of 2004.

"I was shocked at how well Joe played, and of the maturity of his game," said Cheek. "For a 23year-old, he showed a lot of discipline from the beginning."

Cheek attributes part of their success to their chemistry. "The key is to remove your ego from any bridge discussion," said Cheek. "Joe is a great player and has great analytical skills. But besides that, he is a great person. People see the good bridge, but they don't know what a great human being Joe is," said Cheek.

So what's in the future for Grue?

"I have a great team playing with my friends," said Grue, referring to Cheek, Carolyn Lynch, Dennis Dawson, Fred Gitelman and Brad Moss. "We'll be playing together for the next couple of years. Playing with people you like is what it's all about," he added.

The sound of silence

By Mark Horton

On this deal from the Sunday Swiss declarer brought home a tricky contract thanks to a clue provided by the bidding:

Dlr: North ▲ J 6 4 Vul: N-S ♥ A J 9 ♦ KJ42  864 ∧ K 8 ♠ 10953 ♥ 10 7 2 ♥ 8 5 3 ◆ Q 10 8 7 ♦965 ♣ J 10 9 2 ♣ A K Q ♠ A Q 7 2 ▼ K O 7 2 ♦ A 3  753 West East South North Pass Pass 1NT 3NT All Pass Pass

West led the \clubsuit J, and East took three rounds of the suit, then switched to the \spadesuit 3. It was clearly impossible for East – remember, he was a passed hand – to hold the \spadesuit K, so declarer went up with the ace and cashed four rounds of hearts. When the last of these settled on the table, West was looking at the \spadesuit K, \spadesuit Q 10 8 7 and the \clubsuit 9.

Discarding the AK was obviously out of the question, and parting with a club would allow declarer to set up a spade trick, so West discarded a diamond. Now declarer took four tricks in that suit via the second-round finesse.

NABC Diary

Sathya Bettadapura, of Campbell CA, has a wry sense of humor. During the Life Master Open Pairs qualifying rounds, he had to tell someone about his experience in the Blue Ribbon Pairs in Hawaii last fall.

Bettadapura made it to the final, and although he didn't fare as well as he had hoped, he did have an unusual experience.

It seems that Larry Cohen, who left the event after the first day, was following some friends in the Blue Ribbon final. When they came to Bettadapura's table, he thought to himself, "Something is wrong with this picture. I'm in the Blue Ribbon final and Larry Cohen is kibitzing me?"

At his bridge club at home, Bettadapura and partner had a bad round during a recent session, but they were taking it in stride. They were still in good cheer when they arrived at the next table, where they were greeted by a player who remarked that it was nice to see smiling bridge players.

Bettadapura said, "This would be the time to tell you about our methods, including upsidedown count and attitude."

Cam Doner, a leading player from Canada, was complaining the other day at the NABC and sounding seriously like Rodney Dangerfield.

It seems Doner, a full-time player and No. 2 on the list of all-time masterpoint holders in Canada, was playing at a regional with Ken Gee, who has the No. 1 masterpoint spot north of the border, when someone asked, "Say, who's Ken's client?"

Young at heart

Steve Beatty and Peggy Kaplan were in a convenience store in downtown Nashville, right behind Charles Weed, who was attempting to purchase a six-pack of beer.

It's now state law that anyone buying beer must be at least 21 and able to prove it with a photo ID, so Weed, who is 70, was carded.

Weed looked around and declared, "I want witnesses!"

Honest face

Loretta Green of Dodd City TX (she usually tells people she's from Bug Tussle, an actual place) flew into Nashville with some other bridge players. Green must have an honest face, because once they had deplaned, two of them asked Green, a total stranger, to watch their luggage while they visited the restroom.

Lucky kid

Tournament Director Su Doe visited relatives in Cooperstown NY recently, and she was excited to be able to outfit her 8-month-old granddaughter, Addie O'Neal, with two complete baseball outfits, "from socks to hat." If you know Doe, you know what team she picked. For those who don't know, it was the Boston Red Sox. Some would say that Doe is a grandmother with good taste.

Not going there

Among the busiest of the volunteers at an NABC are those who manage the partnership desk. It might surprise you to know that they receive requests well before the tournament begins. One of the partnership volunteers reported a most unusual request recently: A man phoned ahead of time and asked if someone could arrange a "non-smoking roommate." The partnership desk

Zia match this morning

Zia Mahmood and Tommy Latham will play bridge against a series of star players at 10 a.m. today outside the Exhibit Hall West at the convention center. Latham bought the winning ticket in a fund-raising raffle that Zia organized to help build a new school in an earthquake-ravaged area of his native Pakistan.

The prize was to play with Zia. He and Latham, of the Nashville area, played in the Educational Foundation Stratified Open Pairs last Thursday.

Today, they will play 12 to 15 deals from past tournaments.

Notice to players

Each player must have an ACBL convention card filled out and on the table. Please note that other types of convention cards, such as the WBF convention card or homemade cards that do not sufficiently resemble the ACBL convention card, are not acceptable substitutes.

The unreal deal

By Mark Horton

Larry Cohen's column in the ACBL Bridge Bulletin – The Real Deal – is justifiably popular. This deal from the final of the GNT may appear in due course – or maybe not.

This was Cohen hand:

♦J 10 ♥J 10 2 ♦7 4 3 ♣J 9 7 6 5,

And he heard this auction (both sides were vulnerable):

Having made a very law abiding bid, all you have to do is find the winning lead.

Before we reveal the answer, here is how you might approach the problem.

In the absence of a double, you would have led a diamond, but now it seems clear partner has an ace in one of the other three suits.

If it is in spades, it surely cannot run away, so that narrows the choice down to a heart or a club. If partner's ace is in hearts, the fact that you have the club suit held must mean that 13 tricks will not be available. However, given that East's bid of 5 ◆ suggests length in both majors, there must be some risk that if partner's presumed ace is in clubs, the opponents may be able to take the tricks they need.

Okay, time to make up your mind –the full deal is coming up:

As you can see, you need to lead a club.

Talking to Cohen about this deal, he revealed that he and David Berkowitz play that a double in this situation suggests that partner lead the highest reasonable suit. It was clear that there was no need to lead a spade, and with a diamond already ruled out the choice lay between the other two suits.

Larry was worried that if he led a club and partner's ace was in hearts, that might just be into some holding like *A K Q 10, giving declarer seven spades, two diamonds and four clubs. There was also the chance that partner might just have good diamonds headed by the K-Q-J, and so leading that suit might produce a more substantial penalty.

Even so, we agreed that you really should lead a club – but at the table Larry led a diamond and declarer claimed plus 2490 and a useful 14 IMPs against the 1460 recorded at the other table.

As an aside, since we are trying to be instructive, we discussed in passing the situation where you double a cuebid. If the opponents then bid on to slam, a subsequent double by you cancels the suggestion made by the previous double and asks partner to lead something else.

Oh, by the way, Larry and David overcame this minor setback and went on to win the GNT.

Check cashing expands hours

The Check cashing booth is open each day from Noon to 1 p.m. To accommodate the players who play at 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., they are now going to be open from 6:15 to 6:45 p.m. as well. The booth is located outside Meeting Room 108 in the Nashville Convention Center, lower level.

(1) Alerted.

Final Contract: 3NT by North.

Opening Lead: ♣10.

Table Result: Made five, North-South plus 460.

Facts: Before the opening lead, East asked if the sequence showed spades. The answer was, "Yes, he should have spades." South did not correct this explanation prior to the opening lead. When dummy was faced, the director was called. East told the director (away from the table) at this point that he would have led a spade if he hadn't been misinformed about spades.

Director's Ruling: In accordance with Law 40C, the director determined that failure to explain completely the meaning of South's calls damaged East-West. Therefore, in accordance with Law 12C2, the score was adjusted to the result without a spade lead —- 3NT by North making three, North-South plus 400.

The Appeal: South said that he made a checkback rebid to give North a choice of rebidding 3NT or 4♥. His 3♦ bid had promised five hearts. North-South's convention cards did not reflect the fact that South's failure to show spades on the second round denied a 4—5 distribution and the explanation made no mention of that fact.

The Decision: The committee was very concerned because North-South's convention card did not indicate their full agreement as stated at the hearing. Both the bid and explanation at the table appeared to be an attempt to discourage a spade lead.

The committee judged that East's decision not to lead a spade was affected by the statement that South's 3♦ bid and subsequent bid of 3NT over 3♥ showed spades. The fact that East told the director that he would have led a spade, before it was known that a spade lead was right, substantiated his claim.

The committee upheld the table director's decision of an adjustment to 3NT by North making three, North-South plus 400.

The Committee: Gail Greenberg, chair, E.J.D. Kales, Ellen Kent, Chris Moll and Tom Peters.

(1) Constructive spade raise.

Final Contract: 5♦ doubled by North.

Opening Lead: ♠A.

2♥ (1)

Table Result: Made five, North-South plus 550.

Facts: After East ruffed a club at trick 10, North claimed and said, "High crossruff." The director was called. The director discovered that during the previous play, declarer had ruffed a fourth heart in the North hand. East had failed to overruff.

Director's Ruling: In accordance with Law 70E, the director judged that, in the absence of an overruff, it would have been irrational for declarer to play East for the trump queen. Therefore, the claim of the last three tricks was allowed and the table result of 5 ♦ doubled making five, North-South plus 550 was allowed to stand.

The Appeal: Only one member of each side attended the hearing. East-West contended that declarer was rattled having lost an unnecessary club trick and that he had lost track of the trump queen and the number of trump outstanding. This contention was supported by declarer's line of play.

North said he knew East did not have the trump queen when he did not overruff the fourth heart.

The Decision: North misspoke when he claimed on a high crossruff. The queen of trump, although most likely in the West hand, had not appeared. The committee felt declarer, when East did not overruff, forgot the ◆Q was still out. Most likely he was annoyed with himself for losing an unnecessary trick by allowing East to ruff a club. In the Life Master Pairs, declarer should know better than to claim with an incomplete explanation.

The chair's explanation to declarer was that a Life Master Pair is declarer should know how to make a proper claim. Therefore, the inadequacy of the claim cannot be attributed to not knowing the rules governing claims but rather to a temporary mental block.

The committee disallowed the claim of the last three tricks (awarding East-West one of the last three tricks) and adjusted the result to 5 ◆ doubled down one, North-South minus 100.

The Committee: Gail Greenberg, chair, E.J.D. Kales, Ellen Kent, Chris Moll and Tom Peters.

Mid-Atlantic: More than Gatlinburg

The Mid-Atlantic Bridge Conference thanks all ACBL members who once again made the annual Gatlinburg regional an unprecedented success. This is just one of our 10 regionals each year, so take a look at what you might have missed elsewhere.

Wilmington, NC, totaled 2,337 tables, a 22 percent increase from two years ago. We return Feb. 16-22, 2009.

Richmond, VA, attracted 1,921 tables, 8 percent more than two years ago. Next Memorial Day: Raleigh.

Bethesda, MD, drew 2,354 tables, by far the largest of the ACBL's six July Fourth regionals. Our first-time site was a real winner, and we'll be back.

Greenville, SC, may well have set a record for the greatest attendance increase from one regional to the next. The 2,114 tables was 41 percent more than the 2005 total. We're preparing for even more in 2009.

* Still to come in 2007: Hunt Valley, MD; Atlanta; Charlotte; Virginia Beach; Myrtle Beach. Next winter and spring: Williamsburg, Hilton Head, then Gatlinburg on April 14-20. Bookmark www.mabcbridge.org, your gateway to the ACBL's biggest and best regionals.

Shuttle service

A system of shuttle services is being provided throughout the tournament to assist you in transportation needs. These shuttles cover the following:

1. Service to or from the Nashville Convention Center and the host hotels in the downtown area (Sheraton, Best Western, Doubletree, Courtyard by Marriott (4th & Church), Hampton Inn (behind Hall of Fame) and

2. Dinner service to restaurant areas.

Please note – While these services are provided as a convenience to help you enjoy your visit with us, we are not equipped to move everybody. All of the unattached host hotels and many fine restaurants are within a relatively easy walk from the Convention Center. The transportation is there in case you find it too steep, too hot, your puppies are just too tired, or you can't believe you ate the whole thing. If it rains, be prepared, because not all will be able to ride.

What to Look For Service can be provided by any of three shuttles:

- 1. Large Anchor 55 passenger usually white,
- 2. Medium White Mini Bus with blue trim (yes, this is a used vehicle),

Shuttle Service

(opposite the driver). Each has a "Bridge Buggy" sign as well as another sign to identify the mission (route) it is currently on.

Hotel Service

Service begins at 8 each morning, and it will run continuously through most of the day. There will be planned breaks in service for an hour at 10 a.m. and for a half hour at 1 p.m. Service will be more frequent before and after the bridge events.

Hotels served include the Sheraton, Best Western, Holiday Inn Express, Hampton Inn (4th and Korean War Veterans), Courtyard Inn (4th and Church) and Doubletree. Guests at the Wyndham should walk to the Holiday Inn.

LAST CALL FOR SERVICE IS 12:45 a.m. Dinnertime Shuttle Changes

There is no longer a West End Dinner route. The Downtown Dinner and Hotel shuttle loops have been combined between the hours of 4 and 8 p.m. This concentrates more resources to moving everyone from the Convention Center to their hotels and /or the many downtown area eating establishments.

In addition, the black van will transport you to either Nashville's famous Swett's for great soul food or to Germantown for Monell's, Mad Platter or Germantown Cafe. Request these locations to the van driver and he will arrange a time to retrieve you.

Convention Center is the Hub

Important: The Convention Center loading and unloading point is the Commerce Street entrance. This also applies to tours or any other special transportation.

LP Field Parking

If not staying downtown, you can park in Lot A / B at the Titans stadium lot at LP Field. This is an existing service for people who work downtown, and is available for us during the tournament.

Just check in with the security guard. Cost is generally free, but if the lot fills, the overflow lot is $1. They have an existing shuttle service that costs $1 each way. Look for the bright yellow Park It bus

There is a change, however, from previous information published (web site, etc.). They will not be altering their route during the tournament. The nearest stops to the convention center are 4th & Church (Courtyard by Marriott) where you can transfer to our hotel shuttle service. Or, you can exit at the next stop, 3rd and Commerce. Both stops are about two blocks away, but 3rd and Commerce is generally uphill.

The yellow shuttle service runs from 7 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Return service is from either of the aforementioned stops. The frequency is normally every 20 minutes, but every 10 minutes at peak, from 7 a.m. to 9 a.m. and from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m.

After 6:30 p.m. use the Downtown Dinner route, and ask the driver to drop you off at LP Field. After 10 p.m., request service from either the driver of either the Minibus or the Passenger Van as they stand or stop at the Convention Center.

Important – this parking option is not available on the last Saturday or Sunday of the tournament.

Vanderbilt Bridge Club

You can park and ride from the Vanderbilt Bridge Club.

Departure times: 8 a.m. & 11 a.m.

Return service:

- 1. Black van at dinner break
- 2. Midnight from the Convention Center.

Look for the Bus!

Generally, the services are to be provided in a continuous loop, and there will not be scheduled arrival or departure times. No announcement will be made in the hotels. Please: it is important that you actively look for the bus so that you make the connection! The bus will wait only a couple of minutes at each "stop," and if no patrons are seen, the driver will move on to the next location. Especially on the dinner routes. Be prepared to get the driver's attention. Many of these streets are very busy or narrow, and they are not conducive to any type of long-term stop or blockage of other traffic.

Hotel Service Frequency (note – these are estimates)

Sheraton: 8 a.m. to 10 a.m., 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., 10 minutes; all other service periods – 20 to 30 minutes. All other hotels, 20 to 30 minutes during service periods.

Drivers do appreciate tips!
