Kitty Cooper is 'planting a seed'

Kitty Cooper plants a few seeds.

Kitty Cooper is on a mission: "planting a seed" among young students learning the game of bridge.

"I don't want our game to die," says Cooper, who has developed a new lesson plan for school classes. The ACBL School Bridge Lesson Program is partly Cooper, partly Mini-Bridge and partly the Audrey Grant Lesson Series.

Here at the NABC, she's talking to 10 tables of would-be teachers about "building players now."

With Mini-Bridge, developed in the Netherlands in the Eighties, youngsters learn to play without bidding. Each player counts up his points and the player with the most points becomes declarer. The declarer decides whether to play notrump or a suit contract.

Berkowitz, Glasson lead LM Women's

Lisa Berkowitz and Joann Glasson will lead 64 pairs into today's two-session final of the Life Master Women's Pairs. Their score of 780.06 gave them less than a one-point lead over Linda McGarry and Laurie Kranyak who had 779.50.

Close behind in third place were Lynn Baker and Kerri Sanborn with 776.98. Rhoda Walsh and Cindy Marshall were fourth with 756.50.

Berkowitz, Cohen on top in LM Pairs

David Berkowitz and Larry Cohen, who have an outstanding record in major pair events, led a huge field of qualifiers into today's final two sessions of the Life Master Open Pairs.

Alfredo Versace of Italy, who finished second in the Bermuda Bowl, and George Jacobs were second, followed by Mark Dahl and David Butler.

Bondurant, Horn ahead in Non-LMs

John Bondurant of Memphis and Paul Horn of Bradenton FL had two good qualifying sessions to lead 14 qualifiers into the two-session final of the Skinny Miles Non-Life Master Pairs. They outdistanced the field by more than a board and a half.

Elaine Wood of Southlake TX and Claes Melin of Sweden were second, followed by Rachael Gosling and Craig Hutton of Bermuda.

Dotty Toledano (seated), a former club director and longtime worker for bridge in the New Orleans area, will be honored when the 'Dotty Toledano Stratified 299er Pairs' is played today. With her are her daughter, Julie Greenberg, ACBL's Director of Education, and longtime family friend Marilyn Marino of Mandeville LA.

In the most dramatic finish in Bermuda Bowl world championship history, United States I gained 12 IMPs on the last board of the event to emerge with an amazing 304-303 victory over Italy. The champions are Nick Nickell, Richard Freeman, Eric Rodwell, Jeff Meckstroth, Bob Hamman and Paul Soloway. Playing for Italy were Norberto Bocchi, Giorgio Duboin, Lorenzo Lauria, Fulvio Fantoni, Claudio Nunes and Alfredo Versace.

What was so dramatic? Well, the issue was not settled until an appeals committee had rendered a ruling on a disputed ending on the final board of the 128-board match. In the closed room, Rodwell and Meckstroth had gone plus 400 against 4♥ by Italy's Bocchi and Duboin.

That's what pair games are all about

By Barry Rigal

When you are suffering from jet lag, the last thing you want is a set of challenging declarer-play problems. A couple of the deals from the first qualifying session of the Life Master Open Pairs gave me some scope for maneuvering. Of course I needed some help from my opponents, but that's what pair games are all about.

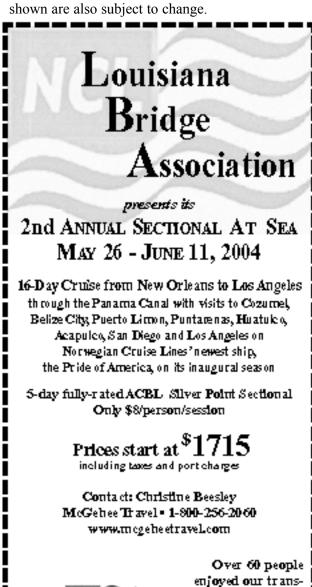

On the lead of the $\clubsuit6$, how do you envisage the play going? Say you score the $\clubsuit10$ at trick one. Then you clear the diamonds, and if South gets in with the $\spadesuit Q$, the best shift is to the $\blacktriangleleft J!$ Now declarer has an uphill struggle to take more than eight tricks

I introduced a diversion at trick one by winning with the \(\big Q \). It did not seem that it would cost, and now I passed the \(\big J \) to North, who got out with a low spade to South's jack. Back came a low spade, and that was my ninth trick. I guess I still have an innocent face.

Maybe I should have defended 1NT and set it two tricks . . . but in 2♠ I was more concerned with the overtrick.

The $2 went to the queen and ace, freezing the suit. North won the first spade and shifted to a diamond. I won the ace and drove out the second top spade. When a diamond came back I won in dummy. What was the right continuation?

Ruffing a diamond and running trumps does not work. In the five-card ending, South keeps two clubs, one diamond and two hearts. Now when East leads the •K, South ducks, wins the next heart, and leads the last diamond to ensure getting two clubs.

I decided to go for another approach. I led a heart to the king in the above ending. South has two defenses – duck or win and return a heart. When she took the ♥A and tried to cash a diamond, I could ruff and run the trumps. On the last trump, South had to bare her ♣Q to keep two hearts. That let me come down to the bare ♥Q and two clubs in dummy, and I ducked a club for the overtrick.

College competition set up for next year

An expense-paid trip to the Summer 2004 NABC in New York City and a $500 scholarship will be up for grabs as competition begins in the 2004 College Bridge Team Championships.

The championships, sponsored by the ACBL Educational Foundation, will feature qualifying rounds on college campuses. Eligible students must carry a minimum of seven semester hours (or the equivalent) and have been born in 1978 or later. For additional information, contact Charlotte Blaiss, ACBL Director of Junior Programs, at charlotte.blaiss@acbl.org

The zonal stage of the competition is scheduled for 1 p.m. (Eastern Standard Time) on March 6, 2004 on the Internet at ACBL Online. Contact Blaiss at the above address to register your team.

The championship final will be held in New York on Friday and Saturday, July 9 and 10. First and second-place winners will receive 80% regional rated gold points. In addition, each member of the winning team will receive a $500 scholarship. The scholarship will be paid directly to the school.

Israeli Junior wins OKbridge Award

Ophir Reshef of Israel won the 2003 OKbridge Award for Best Junior Deal. The award, given annually by the International Bridge Press Association, was presented by Henry Francis, editor of the OKbridge Spectator, at the association's annual meeting in Monte Carlo earlier this month. The author of the winning entry was Andrew Robson of Great Britain.

The winning action was a beautiful falsecard by the quick thinking declarer Reshef. Not only did he realize the significance of dummy's 9 in the key suit, but he also saw how East would be tempted to return the trick conceded while at the same time diverting the defender from a club switch. This was the deal:

Dlr: East	AA	Q
Vul: N-S	♥ 9	7 5 4
	♦K	Q J 8 7
	♣A	6
♦ J 6 4 3 2		4	975

	$ 5	4 3
West	North	East	South
		1♥	Pass
1 ♠	2♦	Pass	3 ♦
Pass	3♥	Pass	3NT
Pass	Pass	Double	All Pass

North-South really belong in a partscore – 2NT is their best-scoring spot – but an aggressive auction such as the one shown is quite reasonable. What would you expect the fate of the contract to be?

Well, on a spade lead by West declarer drives out the ◆A, and the defense must play clubs to hold declarer to nine tricks. On a heart lead and club shift or on a club lead at trick one, declarer cannot make more than eight tricks. Agreed?

Well, consider East's problem if his partner leads a heart to trick one. The obvious solution is to go up with the ace. If no honor appears, shift to clubs and hope for the best. Nice logic, but...

Reshef was sitting South. On the auction shown above he got a heart lead. Gauging the situation accurately, he called for a low heart from dummy, and when East put up the ace he dropped the queen! East sniffed the air suspiciously for a few minutes, then took the bait and returned a low heart, letting Reshef run this to dummy's 9 and collect his 10 tricks for all 15 matchpoints.

Bermuda Bowl

But it was in the open room that there were fireworks.

Italy and USA I had played 127 boards, and the Bermuda Bowl was still up for grabs with just one board to go. Italy had the edge by 11 IMPs, but that's just a game swing. As a matter of fact, Italy had led by 21 with two boards to go, but the Americans gained 10 when the Italians got a bit too aggressive on Board 127.

Then came true drama.

Notice that Meckstroth never bid. Perhaps that helped to convince the Italians that they were stronger than they originally believed. When Duboin took a second heart bid over Rodwell's 3◆, Bocchi decided his side had enough to make game a reasonable shot. It didn't work out that way.

Rodwell led the ◆Q to the ace as Meckstroth unblocked the jack, and declarer led a heart to the king. Next he led a low spade, won by Meckstroth with the queen. He led a diamond to Rodwell's 8. Rodwell switched to the ♥9 and Duboin went up with the queen. He tried to cash the ♠A, but Rodwell ruffed and cashed the ace of trumps. Then he led a diamond, and declarer was through. He could take his ♣A and his last trump, but his remaining three spades were all losers. Down 4 – minus 400.

The bidding took an entirely different turn in the open room.

Versace took a different view from Meckstroth when he doubled the Michaels $2 \blacklozenge$. Lauria bid merely $3 \blacklozenge$ over Hamman's $2 \blacktriangledown$, but when Hamman bid hearts again, Lauria's view of the deal got rosier. His partner had some stuff for his double and the bidding indicated strongly that Versace had a singleton heart. He felt this put the deal in game territory, so he leaped to the diamond game.

Soloway started with the ♣A and switched to the ♥Q. Lauria won this and ruffed a heart. He crossed to his hand with a club ruff and led the ♥J, hoping to pin the 10. Soloway covered and Lauria ruffed in dummy. He called for the ♠K, won by Soloway.

At this point Soloway could cash the good ♥10 for a two-trick set. That would have given the Americans 12 IMPs, just enough to win the Bermuda Bowl. But he didn't – he led a spade!

Something very strange happened next. Lauria's partner had left the table, so Lauria was playing both his hand and dummy. Fully expecting that Soloway was cashing the good heart, he pulled the ♣7. Suddenly he realized Soloway had played a spade, not a heart! He attempted to replace the ♣7 with the queen. If he had been allowed to do this, the contract would have gone down one − America would gain 11 IMPs, and the match would end in a tie. An eight-board playoff would be necessary to determine the world champion.

Of course the director was called. After hearing all the facts, she ruled that the $47$ was a played card since that's the card Lauria touched. The Italians appealed, but the Appeals Committee agreed with the director, citing Rules 45B and 45C3. These are the rules, according to the Laws of Duplicate Bridge:

45B — Declarer plays a card from dummy by naming the card, after which dummy picks up the card and places it on the table. In playing from dummy's hand declarer may, if necessary, pick up the desired card himself.

45C3 — A card in the dummy must be played if it has been deliberately touched by declarer except for the purpose of arranging dummy's cards, or of reaching a card above or below the card or cards touched.

Both the director and the committee concluded that Lauria had indeed touched the ♣7 with an intent to play. That meant the Italians suffered a two-trick set − minus 300. That was 12 IMPs and the gold medal for the United States.

Of course the big question is, why did Soloway lead a spade instead of the good heart?

There were clues suggesting the spade lead. First of all, his partner had bid hearts twice, which made it likely that Hamman had four hearts, in which case Lauria would have no more. Second, Hamman followed to the opening club lead with the 7. Soloway was sure that Hamman knew that they couldn't cash the second club, so the 7 could have been a suit preference signal asking for spades. Also, in playing hearts Hamman played the 2, then the 4 and then the 5. He might have played 2-5-4 with three.

Soloway had a very tough choice to make. Did his partner have four hearts and therefore a singleton spade, or did he have just three hearts along with two spades?

"I saw the $47 and it looked like a signal for spades," said Paul. "In the heart suit, our first play is attitude, and the second shows present count. Bob played the 4 second, and in our methods that showed an even number originally, So it seemed that Bob had started with four hearts and a singleton spade.

"But then there was the auction. Bob bid only 2♥ the first time. If he had four hearts, very likely he would have jumped to 3♥."

Soloway eventually made the wrong choice—he relied on the play rather than the auction and played partner for a singleton spade. But because Lauria didn't realize that Soloway had made the wrong choice, the Americans still got their two-trick set—and the gold medal in the closest Bermuda Bowl in history.

"At the table I thought I had it right," said Paul. "In retrospect, I feel I should have given stronger consideration to the bidding. Bob didn't bid 3♥, so he probably didn't have four hearts. So in retrospect I feel I should have led the heart, not the spade."

What about that next-to-last board that contributed 10 IMPs to the American cause?

Since we're going backward, let's take a look at Board 126.

Not surprisingly, Laurier tried diamonds and the contract went down two — minus 300. Here is Soloway's comment on this one: "I guess I should have doubled 5♥. Again that's in retrospect. Clearly this contract did not fare well. It actually went down three tricks – minus 500, and that was a 13-IMP gain for the Italians. That made Italy's lead 21 IMPs with two boards to go. And then came the drama.

Thousands and thousands of fans around the world sat transfixed at their computers as they followed the final card by card through Bridge Base and other programs. Email messages flashed across the continents as soon as the result of the last-board appeal was announced.

This was the second time in the last three Bermuda Bowls that this American team has beaten Italy as the result of carryover. In Bermuda in 2000 the victory margin in their quarterfinal match was 7 IMPs and the Americans had a 13-IMP carryover. This time the Americans went into the final with a 7-IMP carryover. The Italians gained back all but one of those IMPs.

This was Hamman's ninth Bermuda Bowl championship. Soloway now has five, but he has the key one to his credit—his team finally wrested the Bermuda Bowl from the Italian Blue Team in 1976. And incidentally, that championship also was in Monte Carlo. Rodwell and Meckstroth now have four wins each, while Nickell and Freeman each have three.

USA II, which had reached the playoff stage with a tremendous comeback, defeated Norway in the playoff for the bronze medal. The American team consisted of Adam Wildavsky, Pratap Rajadhyaksha, Bobby Wolff, Dan Morse, Steve Landen and Doug Doub, with Ralph Cohen as non-playing captain.

Mini-bridge

Play is duplicate style and "kids love this," says Cooper. "When we're in bridge clubs, we play. We don't do the exercises in class – that's optional homework. We want them playing and having fun."

During Thursday's seminar, the aspiring teachers take their turns at Mini-Bridge, counting and announcing their points. "Remember," Cooper reminds them, "the points have to total 40."

A table erupts into laughter as the announced points add up to more than 40. Another table announces their points – less than 40.

Cooper turns serious as she talks about ethics and etiquette, topics rarely (if at all) covered in beginning bridge lessons.

"They need to know that if partner makes a good lead, you're not supposed to smile in approval. You need to remind them that if you're playing with your brother or your sister or your spouse, you tend to get more involved and more personal."

The lessons move into scoring, where defense becomes more important. "When dummy comes down, you (the declarer) say how many tricks you'll take. If you don't take them, the opponents get the score."

In Lesson Five, the concept of game contracts is introduced and by Lesson Six, the course evolves into Bridgette, a bridge between Mini-Bridge and bridge. Students begin using bidding boxes and propose contracts based on their distribution and points. "They just keep bidding until the other three people give up," says Cooper.

The course introduces finessing – "Finessing is pretty tough for adults but kids seem to take to it right away" – and doubling – "Kids love doubling."

For Cooper, the school lesson plan was a continuation of her earlier career as a computer systems analyst for a New York bank. "As an executive, I've always been involved in training. I can speak nerd as well as English."

She graduated cum laude from Harvard University with a degree in art history. She's now a self-employed independent consultant who lives in Albuquerque NM.

She's been playing bridge since age 12 – "it was a rainy summer, my mother didn't really like it and the others were desperate for a fourth."

She played some in college and went to work after graduation. She has won women's and open events on the North American level – plus the 1989 Venice Cup.

The school lesson plan is available at no charge. "Anybody can download these programs free or call Kitty (kittycooper.com) or contact the ACBL Education Department (education@acbl.org)," adds Charlotte Blaiss, ACBL's Director of Junior Activities.

Getting around in New Orleans

New Orleans has a modern, efficient transportation infrastructure with a sophisticated network of highways and roads. Parking, however, is at a premium in many areas, particularly in the French Quarter. At times, it is beneficial to rely on taxis and public transportation to reach points not within walking distance.

A popular means of transportation is the city's streetcar system. Historic streetcars run two daily routes: the St. Charles Streetcar runs 24 hours a day down St. Charles Avenue from Canal Street to Claiborne Avenue and the "streetcar-style" Vieux Carre bus runs the perimeter of the French Quarter from 5 a.m. until 7:16 p.m. Fares for the streetcars are $1.25 each way plus 25 cents per transfer.

There is also the Riverfront Streetcar. It runs a 1.9-mile route from Canal Street to Riverview weekdays from 6 a.m. until midnight and weekends from 8 a.m. until midnight. The cost is $1.50 plus 25 cents per transfer.

table and took in book sales, a tournament directors' meeting, hands and the Daily Bulletin office.

Pre-Alert/Disclosure forms

If your partnership plays special overcalls, you must fill out a pre-Alert/Disclosure form and make it available to your opponents when you play in events that allow Mid-Chart and Super-Chart conventions. This applies to NABC+, regional or higher knockout and Flight A Swiss games. Look for the light blue forms on the table where convention cards are available.

Convention card reminder

Each player is required to have a convention card filled out legibly and on the table throughout a session. Both cards of a partnership must be identical and include the first and last names of each member of the partnership.

If a director determines that neither player has a substantially completed card, the partnership may play only the Standard American yellow card and may use only standard carding. This restriction may be lifted only at the beginning of a subsequent round after convention cards have been properly prepared and approved by the director. Further, the partnership will receive a 1/6 board matchpoint penalty for each board played, commencing with the next round and continuing until the restriction is lifted. In IMP team games, penalties shall be at the discretion of the director.

If the director determines the partnership has at least one substantially completed convention card but has not fully complied with ACBL regulations, the director may give warnings or assign such penalties as he deems to be appropriate under the circumstances.

The objective of these warnings and penalties is the encouragement of full compliance with ACBL regulations.

NABC+ entries

In order to play in NABC+ events (nationally rated events with no upper masterpoint limit), a player's ACBL membership dues or Life Master service fees must be current.

These events pay platinum points and the entry is $15.50 per player per session.

Other nationally rated events (those with an upper masterpoint limit, such as the 0-1500 Mini-Spingold Knockout Teams) pay red and gold points. The entry is $14 per player per session for players whose ACBL membership dues or Life Master service fees are current – or $16 per player per session for all others.

Notice to players

Each player must have an ACBL convention card filled out and on the table. Please note that other types of convention cards, such as the WBF convention card or homemade cards that do not sufficiently resemble the ACBL convention card, are not acceptable substitutes.

Bid Box Alerts and Announcements

When using bid boxes, ACBL suggests that players tap the Alert strip and say AAlert@ at the same time.

When making an announcement, use the announcement word — such as Atransfer@ — and tap the Alert strip at the same time.

A player who Alerts or announces a bid should make sure his opponents are aware that an Alert or announcement has been made.

Slow Play

Slow play, as opposed to careful or thoughtful play, is discourteous to your opponents – and to all other competitors as well. Players and pairs who take more than their allotted time are subject to penalty.

In general, pairs who are rarely late will be warned while pairs who are habitually tardy and/or pay no attention to time limits will be penalized.
