Shugart ahead in Reisinger; Nickell ousted

Rita Shugart and her international team will lead the 10 finalists into today's last two sessions of the Reisinger Boarda-Match Teams. But that isn't what everyone is talking about this morning. The team captained by Nick Nickell, which has won this event for three years running, is NOT one of the 10! Nickell's team of Bob Hamman, Bobby Wolff, Richard Freeman, Eric Rodwell and Jeff Meckstroth is on the sidelines.

Shugart's team -- Andy Robson and Tony Forrester of Great Britain, Geir Helgemo of Norway, and Steve Sion and Eddie Wold of the United States -- just barely edged yesterday's leaders by .20 of a board. The Mike Moss team -- Bjorn Fallenius, George Steiner and Nels Erickson -- fell to second place. In third place another .20 further back are Gerald Sosler, Kay Schulle, John Mohan, Roger Bates, David Berkowitz and Larry Cohen.

Actually it's anybody's game -- only 3.70 boards separate the top qualifier from the bottom.

The captains of the other qualifiers are Dan Molochko, Bruce Ferguson, Zia, Edgar Kaplan, Ralph Katz, Grant Baze and Jimmy Cayne.

Each team will play three-board rounds against all other teams in both the afternoon and the evening sessions.

Pendergraph to screen final Reisinger deals

Noon and 7 pm are the scheduled starting times for today's 54-board Reisinger final. All boards of the final two sessions will be presented on Pendergraph in Yerba Buena 8 on the lower playing level.

As usual, Ron Andersen will host the Pendergraph show with a cast of internawith a cast of international experts serving as analysts. Up-to-theminute round-by-round standings will be shown standings will be shown as soon as each round ends and the scores can be computed.

After your game ends, or when you are not playing, make plans early to attend what rates to be an exciting conclusion to this NABC. .

A limited number of kibitzers will be accommodated in the playing area. When play begins, the area will be closed for the balance of the session. No entry or re-entry will be permitted. Thus, when a kibitzer leaves the area (for any reason), no re-entry will be allowed.

Novices, veterans make up NABC caddy corps hen Dmitri Maslennikov arrived in the United States from Russia earlier this year, the 16-year-old had two goals. The first was to learn English -- he didn't speak a word -- and the second was to graduate from high school.

Both objectives are well in hand and, based on his experiences as a caddy at the Fall NABC, he may add a third -- learning to play bridge.

Maslennikov knows nothing of bridge but is a keen observer. He can tell that bridge "is a game for good people who can think. I look at them playing and I see that it's fun. I will play, but right now I don't know how."

NABC under the direction of Tournament Director Jackie Matthews, who is entering her 10th year as NABC caddy coordinator.

Her crew this year runs the gamut from teenagers to adults, and she loves them all. Not only that, she can identify each one and tell where he or she is from.

"Even I don't know how I do it," said Matthews, although she is aware that when you work with people "if you know their names and address them they try harder for you."

Matthews doesn't play favorites, but she speaks in glowing terms of how Maslennikov, who claims to be a descendant of Russian nobility, gives half of his caddy fees to

Robison team leads NA Swiss

The team captained by Jim Robison of Las Vegas climbed from third to first to lead 16 teams into today's final two sessions of the North American Swiss Teams. However, the entire 16 are closely bunched -- there are only 28.90 Victory Points between first and last.

Robison is playing with Ron and Linda Smith of Chattanooga and Mark Perlmutter of San Francisco. Their score of 120.40 gave them a tiny 1.30 VP edge over Rita Rand, Gerald Caravelli, Arnie Fisher, Steve Garner and Richard Colker. In third place another two VPs further back were Richard Gabriel, Dick Bruno, Jim Burt, Jeff Schuett, and Stanton and Suzi Subeck.

A major surprise -- the leaders after the first day's qualifying -- John Griscom, Coley McGinnis, Linda Hanson, Alan Copeland, and Darrell and Louise Childs -- failed to make the semifinal cut.

The team that is making a bid to win this event for the third straight time improved their position immensely yesterday, moving up to fourth place, only 6.30 VPs out of first. This team consists of Jack Coleman, Mark Molson, Boris Baran, Drew Cannell and Mark Stein.

The No. 2 United States team for next year's World Junior Team Championships is in strong position in sixth place. This is the same team that won Flight A of the Morning Knockouts. On the team are Tom Carmichael, Joel Wooldridge, Shannon Lipscomb, Scott Lewis and Chris Willenken.

An interesting aside -- there is at least one woman on five of the top six teams going into the final.

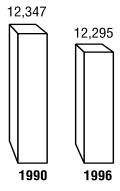

No record breaker

San Francisco 1996 will not become the biggest NABC ever held in San Francisco -- the 1990 tournament will continue to hold that honor with a final count of 13,239.

To date this tournament has drawn 12,295.5 tables, so the probabilities are strong that we will surpass the 13,000 mark -- we need only 704.5 tables. But 943.5, the number needed to tie 1990, seems beyond the realm of possibility.

We fell behind 1990 for the first time yesterday -- 1990 had 12,347 at this point.

Blond worked out that he was in a virtually hopeless contract. Of course if the $\clubsuit Q$ was singleton he could succeed -- but then wouldn't Zia have led a club? Blond worked out that he had a non-genuine chance -- if he led the $\clubsuit J$ and Zia ducked he could come home. So at trick two he ran the $\clubsuit J$ and entered our "goat, not hero" special category.

The team captained by Rita Shugart had entered the semifinal with a healthy carryover, and the first-half score of 16 boards did not damage their chances.

Here they reached 3NT after North had opened 1♣ and both East and West had bid their major. Steve Sion received the ◆J lead to the king and a diamond continuation. This gave Sion time to knock out both aces for nine tricks.

Shugart led the ♣7 at the other table. Andy Robson took his ace and shifted to a low spade. Declarer had to duck and Shugart won. She played back a low heart, and it was all over for declarer when he put up the king. Robson took his ace and played back a low heart. He had to regain the lead with the ♠K and the defense still had a heart to cash for down one.

Chip Martel and Lew Stansby are known for their hard work when it comes to trying to build a better mousetrap. One area where they have improved on standard methods is the Roman Key Card Blackwood response when you have a void. Everyone knows (or do they?) that you can use 5NT for two aces plus a void, six of a biddable suit for one or three aces with a void, and six of the trump suit for one or three aces and an unbiddable void. But what if the void suit is already defined?

When the shortage is already defined by the auction -- and here it must be clubs -- you can use 5NT for one ace plus a void, 6♣ for two aces and a void and 6♠ for three aces and a void.

Here Martel knew that if he played 7 he could not use his partner's diamond suit because of the blockage, since he would have to ruff clubs in dummy. So he settled for the diamond grand slam. Nicely bid.

Asya Kamsky and Debby Zuckerberg had a controlled auction to the best spot on the next deal, and Asya played it nicely. The cards also cooperated perfectly.

On a spade lead Asya won her ace and noted that the suit apparently was 5-3. She played the ♣K, won by West who tried a second spade. Asya took her king and decided that West probably needed the ♥K for the overcall. Whatever the case it looked safe to lay down the ♥A now. When the jack fell she cleared the hearts, ruffed the spade return and ran the trumps. In the four-card ending, with two diamonds and two clubs in dummy and four diamonds in hand, East was squeezed in the minors for the overtrick.

New Life Master

HELENE SCHUBERT of Sherwood Park, Alberta, was playing with Ray Grace, the man she married on Nov. 9, when she became a Life Master here. Helene needed 37-plus points when she came to San Francisco, and through Friday she had earned 41.12. The biggest bundle came when she finished tied for third in Flight A of the Morning Knockouts. "I managed to play in Flight A thanks to Cam Doner, our captain," she said.

No panic

In Jim Krekorian's mind, the defining moment of the Blue Ribbon Pairs, which he and Bob Blanchard won, was board 17 in the first final session. Krekorian and Blanchard had hit a bad stretch after a good start, and Krekorian could feel their game unraveling. Here's how he righted the ship.

Krekorian was chagrined to find only two trumps in dummy, but he didn't panic. He ducked East's opening lead of the ♥K and won the diamond switch in his hand. Fearful of letting the opponents get a crossruff going, Krekorian proceeded to act like a man with no worries in trumps.

He led a low spade from his hand to dummy's 8, driving out the king, and won the diamond continuation in dummy. Next he played the $\clubsuit 10$ from dummy and West erred by ducking. The 10 drove out the queen, and East exited with the $\clubsuit 9$. Krekorian ducked, West won the king and returned the $\blacktriangledown J$. Krekorian won the $\blacktriangledown A$ and played a low spade from his hand, discarding the $\spadesuit K$ from dummy. West won the $\clubsuit A$ perforce and had to return a club or a diamond, allowing Krekorian to win, pull the last trump and claim seven tricks.

Plus 80 was good for 30 out of 38 matchpoints, and the Krekorian-Blanchard team was back on track.

Manfield led the ◆K and continued with the 7, ruffed. Woolsey took the heart switch and continued a heart (a switch to trumps would have worked out better). Kaplan ruffed, led a club to the queen and ruffed another heart with the queen. Another club to the jack let her ruff still another heart, this time with the king. Then she trumped her last diamond and led dummy's last heart.

Manfield could overruff on either the fourth or fifth heart, but it would make no difference. If he overruffed the fourth heart and led back a trump, Kaplan would win with the jack, cash the ♠9 and ♥J and a high club.

Manfield actually sluffed a diamond on the fourth heart, but it made no difference. Kaplan scored seven trump tricks and two clubs for plus 530.

his family.

His father, mother and younger brother arrived in San Francisco May 10 "so we could have a better future and I could have a better education."

Maslennikov plans to return to Russia one day, but not until he is a United States citizen -- another of his goals. "If I am not a U.S. citizen, the U.S. embassy couldn't help me if I got in trouble," he said.

While most of the caddies are working for money to supplement their allowances, two San Franciscans with a more serious purpose are Rick Moix and Lee Freeman. The two, who are HIV positive, are trying to come up with some extra cash to live on.

The two are volunteers for the San Francisco AIDS Foundation, which received a donation at the start of the tournament from the ACBL Charity Foundation.

Moix and Freeman said most of the bridge players they have met have been friendly and compassionate. "We've gotten some nice tips," Moix said, "and one person gave me a sweatshirt."

Perhaps the smoothest operator among the caddies is 22-year-old James Bascom of Schenectady NY. Besides his caddying duties, he has been working for OKbridge, helping demonstrate and promote the online network service.

Bascom recently earned a bachelor's degree in political science and a master's degree in business administration from Union College in New York. He's now awaiting an assignment from the U.S. Army and has been playing bridge in the interim, financing his games by caddying. He has only about 100 masterpoints, but has earned all of the gold points he needs to become a Life Master.

A man who likes to talk, Bascom is quick to get to know people and an excellent salesman for OKbridge. "I like people," he said, "and I've learned that in life, everything is networking."

Tina and Markus Sundelin, children of internationalists P.O. Sundelin and Jill Mellstrom of Sweden, are also caddying at the Fall NABC.

"The work isn't that much fun," said 25-year-old Markus, "but you meet a lot of people. Most of them are pretty nice to the caddies."

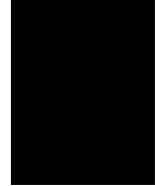

Markus said he has worked tournaments in Sweden, but never one as large as an NABC, which seems larger for a caddy "because you're right in the middle of it."

Markus said he thoroughly enjoys visiting the U.S. "I must have been an American in a former life because I really like to come here."

One caddy who can appreciate the competitive instincts of bridge players is Ryan Hamilton of Novato, whose high school baseball team won four straight state championships.

Hamilton, 18, is now playing on his junior college team. Although he has no interest in learning bridge, he can see what makes a lot of the players tick.

"You can see it's really competitive," Hamilton said. "And it looks as if they're having fun. . . . sometimes."

Hamilton reflected the sentiments of all the caddies when he said the work "is fun -- when the players are polite."

The caddy with the most experience at the Fall NABC no doubt is Renne Porter-Warnecke of San > Francisco, who has worked with Matthews for 20 years. Porter-Warnecke is head caddy for the Fall NABC.

> "Renne has been caddying for me since she was 10," said Matthews. "We first met when I was handling the caddies for my first regional. She and I were both green and we learned together."

her full-time job as communications coordinator for Eureka Bank just to help Matthews.

"This will probably be my last tournament," said Porter-Warnecke, who has worked the two previous NABCs in San Francisco and the 1987 Fall NABC in Anaheim.

Why does she keep doing it? Jackie Matthews, that's why. "She's one of the two best bosses in the world," said Porter-Warnecke. Also, she said, "It's been great fun. You meet a lot of great people and a few crazies."

As she does with so many of the other caddies, Matthews feels like a mother to Porter-Warnecke. "She grew up as our kid," said Matthews. "She may retire, but I guarantee you she'll come back and see me."

AIDS Memorial quilt on display

The panel of the AIDS Memorial quilt honoring the members of San Francisco Unit 506 who have died of AIDS is now on display in the Yerba Buena Ballroom, Salon 8.

The panel was originally constructed in 1989 by members of the San Francisco Unit to honor the memory of their fellow duplicate players who had died of AIDS. The quilt panel has been updated twice since then, most recently in August for display at this tour-

In October the panel was one of the many thousands spread on the Mall in Washington DC. Among those who viewed the stunning vista of these quilts and offered solace were President Clinton and Vice President Gore.

Duplicate bridge attracts diverse players -- one of its fascinating aspects. With this quilt, we have recognized the untimely deaths of a sizable portion of the San Francisco bridge community.

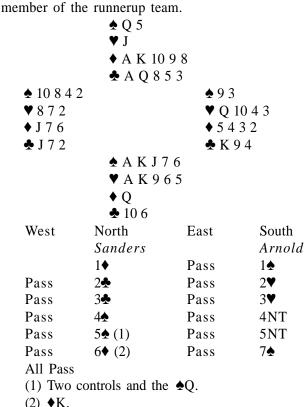

Stop by the Yerba Buena Ballroom to see this unique tribute.

In the final of the Senior Knockout Teams, Russ Arnold and Tommy Sanders bid two good slams for major pickups. But neither was laydown -- in fact, the first one hinged on the opening lead. These hands were reported to Barry Rigal by Simon Kantor, a

The Appeal: E/W appealed the Director's ruling. There was an agreed break in tempo prior to the double of $4 \spadesuit$.

The Committee Decision:

The Committee decided that pass of 4♦ doubled was a logical alternative for West. While Law 12C2 states that the non-offending side should be assigned the most favorable result likely, the Committee did not believe it likely that North would lose only one club trick.

The Committee decided that the score for N/S would be minus 200 or Average Plus, whichever was better, and that the score for E/W would be plus 200 or Average Minus, whichever was worse.

(2) Break in tempo

The Facts: 4♠ by West made five, plus 650 for E/W. There was an agreed-upon break in tempo by East over 1NT, which E/W estimated to be about three seconds and South thought was more like six seconds. South called the Director after West's 3♦ balance. The auction continued, with E/W reaching 4♠. Pursuant to Law 12, the Director changed the contract to 3♣ by North down one, plus 100 for E/W.

The Appeal: West acknowledged that pass, rather than 3ϕ , could be the winning action on some layouts but felt it was a "deep position" at high-level matchpoints. East noted that there had been no break in tempo over 3♣ and that for all he knew, 3♣ might have been going for minus 200 or more if left undisturbed. West felt that the 3♦ call had not been suggested by the break in tempo.

The Committee Decision: There was some discussion by the Committee on the perils of passing 3♣ with the West hand at matchpoints, particularly in a high-level matchpoint event, but in the end, the Committee decided the break in tempo took much of the jeopardy out of the 3♦ call. The Committee discovered that E/W had done nothing to determine whether N/S had other ways to reach 3♣, so West could not with confidence gauge the strength around the table.

While East was marked with some values, the break in tempo suggested that he would have something more than the ten- or eleven-point minimum that the auction indicated. East figured to have enough extra strength to be able to make 3♦ playable even with no fit, or to enable East to advance the bidding in another strain. The Committee changed the contract to 3♣ by North down one, plus 100 for E/W. The deposit was returned.

The Facts: 4♠ doubled by East made four, plus 790 for E/W. There was a break in tempo before West passed East's 3♠ bid. The Director ruled that there was unauthorized information and awarded Average Plus to N/S and Average Minus to E/W.

The Appeal: E/W appealed the Director's ruling. The raise from 1♠ to 2♠ was constructive. E/W stated that the 44 bid by North made it more likely that West had diamond values and that it was likely that the ♥K was favorably placed.

The Committee Decision: The Committee decided that virtually all players would at least consider bidding 4\(\Delta \) with the East hand immediately over North's 3♥ bid with a good two-suited hand and the ♥K favorably placed. Although the brief break in tempo by West in passing 3♠ might have suggested 4♠ by East, the 4♣ bid by North made it much more likely that partner had help in diamonds. It was this bit of authorized information rather than the break in tempo that made the 4♠ call virtually mandatory.

The Committee changed the contract to 44 doubled made four, plus 790 for E/W.

(1) Break in tempo, length not confirmed

The Facts: 2♥ by North made two, plus 110 for N/S. 1NT was 15-17 and 2♥ was natural. South admitted to a "pause" over the 1NT call. The Director was summoned after North's 2♥ call. After the hand was played in 2♥, the Director returned to the table and ruled pursuant to Law 12 that pass was a logical alternative to 2♥ with the North hand. He changed the contract to 1NT by East made four, plus 180 for

The Appeal: N/S appealed the Director's ruling. North claimed that there was little if any break in tempo, given that South hesitates whenever it is his turn to bid. North stated that he could have bid 2♣ to show clubs and a second suit but did not do so because he feared his partner (who was marked with a good hand on the evidence available from the auction) might bid 2NT over $2\clubsuit$.

E/W, while not specifying the length of the alleged break in tempo, said South "crossed and uncrossed his legs", peered at his cards and finally passed. E/W noted that no other North had found a 2♥ bid.

The Committee Decision: The Committee members believed that a significant number of North's peers would not have bid 2♥. The contract was therefore changed to 1NT by East made four, plus 180 for E/W. The Committee would have preferred that South attend the hearing. The deposit was returned.

13-year-old winner

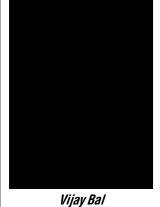

Vijay Bal, a 13-year-old ninth grader from Sacramento, was a member of the winning team in > Bracket 5 of the Alcatraz Knockouts yesterday.

Vijay started the year with fewer than three points, but he now has more than 100 -- and most of them are gold! This was his third regional victory -- he was first in the B Swiss in Sacramento and the B Pairs in Modesto.

His father, Dileep G.

Bal, was Vijay's partner yesterday. He also was his partner in Modesto. Also on the team were Harjinder Ajmani of Kula HI and Linda Olbort of Saskatoon SK.

It only got worse

"Ordinarily North's double would be takeout, and it looks like a takeout here," said Ross. But South decided to let Moss play it there. Of course the double was the killer -- there are six clear losers -- two trumps, one heart, one diamond and two clubs -- for minus 200.

"But then I watched Geir Helgemo and Tony Forrester play the hand, and suddenly minus 200 looked awfully good."

Fishing expedition

Jim Burt of Darien IL, a Chicago suburb, was preparing to declare 1NT in the Flighted Open Swiss Teams Wednesday. Before his partner, Richard Gabriel of Chicago, put down the dummy, Gabriel asked, "Got any 10s?"

Burt knew what was going on. When Gabriel asks a question like that, he knows the answer. Said Darien, who possessed no 10s, "Go fish."

Sure enough, these were the cards Burt could see after his left-hand opponent's opening lead of the $\clubsuit 2$.

In the spirit of the moment, Burt said to his partner, "play one of them" -- meaning one of dummy's 10s.

Almost before Burt could react, Gabriel had played dummy's \, 3, and RHO had pounced on it with the 9, which was holding the trick.

Of course, that resulted in a director call. The TD allowed Burt to change his play, but left Burt's ego slightly bruised. Said Burt: "The director ruled that my attempt at humor was a failure."

Burt, incidentally, made seven tricks for a 1-IMP loss.

On another occasion during the tournament, Burt found himself on defense in the opening session of the Blue Ribbon Pairs.

"I wondered," he said, "how I might play the hand, and I did get to see how Jim Burt played it. It was Jim Burt from British Columbia."

Post script: neither Burt made it to the second day of the Blue Ribbon Pairs.

The Learning Room

n the near future there will be a new Internet bridge learning center. The Fifth Chair Learning Room will be a place to meet for teachers and those who wish to learn. The space will be provided at no charge by the Fifth Chair Foundation to all who want to further bridge learning via the Internet. Access to most facilities will be free and unlimited to both teachers and students.

The Fifth Chair is a non-profit foundation devoted to bridge learning around the world via the Internet. "Our goal is to bring new players to the game and then keep them interested by bringing them into contact with caring bridge players -- like you!" said Bob Bakalish, Foundation president.

The ACBL Educational Foundation has expressed interest in the work of the Foundation and has given the organization a grant to help them along with their work.

Qualified teachers who wish to participate need only volunteer some of their time to the enterprise to take part. Then they can set up any program they wish on a charge basis. They will have free rein on content and pricing, governed only by a free marketplace which will help determine what works.

Students from all sources and all ages can pick and choose from among the free programs and the "for fee" programs that are presented. It won't be necessary to enroll in fee programs to learn the game, but some for-fee programs will speed the learning process and make it more fun. Here is a list of program types the Foundation hopes to have available soon.

- 1. Free static computer lessons -- self-controlled lessons on virtually every topic. Students can move along at their own pace.
- 2. Free instructor-presented lessons. These will be especially for beginners on a wide variety of subjects. Students will be able to attend these classes to get a feel for the different instructors so they can make an informed decision on for-fee classes.

- 3. Free previews of books and computer CDs and programs. Authors can get exposure and the public can see or try out material prior to purchase.
- 4. Learning series static lessons. These lessons, whether individual of in series, can be developed on a fee basis by any teacher. Questions and answers will be available by e-mail, one of the significant differences between lessons and books.
- 5. Real time lessons and seminars. These too can be held as series or individual lessons.
- 6. Lectures. The Foundation hopes to entice experts from around the world to participate in lectures on the Internet. They would be able to do this from anywhere in the world, of course. Interested parties could attend from anywhere in the world. Some of these lectures could be free, but most would require a small fee to facilitate finding popular speakers.

The Foundation hopes to accomplish all this without fees. "In keeping with Fifth Chair philosophy we will try to make this a cooperative service for all involved," said Bakalish. "The Fifth Chair is for those who love bridge. We need money to operate and thrive, but money is only the tool. We have decided to make an effort to actively seek donations from all those who value the service we provide. Your donations of time or money are vital to our work."

Where did the name "Fifth Chair" come from? The fifth chair at a bridge table is for the kibitzer.

The address of The Learning Room is http:// www.fifthchair.org. The address is 3925 Cross Ln., Eureka CA 95503. Bakalish's address is bakalish@fifthchair.org.

2 stars shine brightly

Mary Chilcote and Bill Eisenberg were the stars on this deal from an earlier match in the Senior Knockout Teams, which their team won.

Zeke Jabbour led his top club, and declarer cashed the ♦Q and ♦J after winning the ♣A. Next he led a spade -- but Chilcote was alert to the situation. When Jabbour showed out on the second diamond, she knew declarer had five diamond tricks. And she knew he had three club tricks as well because Jabbour had led the 9. So the ♠K would be declarer's ninth trick.

All Pass

3NT

Pass

She rose with the ace and cashed top hearts. When the queen fell, the defense took two more hearts to beat the contract.

At the other table, Eisenberg was the declarer at the same contract, and he got the same opening lead. But he didn't touch diamonds after winning the A -- he immediately led a spade. East didn't know the full situation, so he didn't rise with the ace. But Eisenberg did rise with the king! That was his ninth trick, and the Chilcote team chalked up 10 important IMPs.

Why did Eisenberg go up with the king? The hearts were wide open, and he didn't want to give the defense a second chance to discover this.

The Armenian connection

It seems as if one would have to go outside the U.S. to find two Armenians opposing each other at the bridge table, but it happened in the Blue Ribbon Pairs when Haig Tchamitch and Barry Rigal opposed the eventual winners, Jim Krekorian and Bob Blanchard. Tchamitch, a native of Lebanon, is Armenian, and so is Krekorian.

As is usually the case with Tchamitch -- also known as Hagar the Horrible -- the unexpected was on the agenda.

(1) Showing diamonds and a heart fit.

It's always a challenge to work out what Tchamitch is doing, and many players have been taken in. Not many of us would find two passes with a ninecard suit and a four-level bid on a singleton, but Tchamitch knew where he was heading.

Unfortunately for Krekorian, he was suckered into doubling. When the smoke cleared, Tchamitch was plus 750. At least Krekorian was good natured about conceding a good board to a fellow countryman. "Armenians," he said, "should never be dealt nine-card suits."

Two-edged sword

Aggressive preempts can pay off, especially at matchpoints, but they can also bite back. East learned that lesson on this deal from the second final session of the Life Master Open Pairs. Declarer was Haig Tchamitch of Denver, playing with Vivian Kilstrup of Vail CO.

East's 3♣ opener at unfavorable vulnerability seems reckless, but such actions occasionally hit the mark. Not this time.

East led the ♣9 to dummy's ace, and Tchamitch played a spade to his jack and East's ace. East would have done better to play a diamond, but he got out with the &K. Tchamitch, expecting East to have a sevencard suit for his vulnerable 34 bid, ruffed with dummy's ♠Q as West followed.

Tchamitch played West for length in hearts, so he rode the ♥J from dummy, then he followed with the ♠8 and let that ride, too. When hearts proved to be 3-2, Tchamitch had parking places for his losing club and losing diamond. Plus 680 was a near top.

Appeals case 374

Subject: A just award Open Pairs, Detroit, 1981

The facts: West, a young man, psyched 1♠ in first chair. As a result the North-South pair failed to reach their optimum contract -- 4♠. The two women were outraged at West because of his successful psych.

They called him every name in the book, but he stoically sat there until South told him, "I am a certified director and I know that you are not allowed to do that."

This provoked the young man sufficiently for him to say, "Well, pin a rose on you, lady!" A conduct committee followed and the man was given a short probation period.

I informed the committee that once again they had made the wrong decision. I told them they should have told him to "turn the other cheek."

The next morning I was awakened by a knock on my door. The bellman presented me with a package. Inside was a red rose.

The director: Peter Mollemet
