Hubert, Campbell honored by tournament director peers

Olin Hubert and Scott Campbell, two popular tournament directors from different nearly opposite ends of the country, have been honored by their peers in the Professional Tournament Directors Association.

Campbell, of Sun City CA, received the Fred Friendly Award, named for the late TD Paul "Fred Friendly" Stehly, so called because of his skill in dealing with players.

Hubert, an associate national director who lives in Atlanta, received acknowledgement for his outstanding professionalism.

Campbell has been a full-time TD for nearly three years after a 25-year career in the banking business, followed by ownership of a motel in Nevada. He now owns and operates a bridge club

World Bridge Series Championships set for Philadelphia next fall

Philadelphia will be the bridge capital of the world next October as the city welcomes players from across the globe in a 16-day tournament that will feature something for just about everyone.

It's the World Bridge Series Championships, organized by the World Bridge Federation and including an impressive variety of games. It runs from Oct. 1 to 16.

Additionally, an ACBL regional tournament will be played concurrently with the world championships. The regional will award WBF masterpoints in addition to the usual ACBL awards.

The host hotel for the tournament is the Philadelphia Marriott Downtown. There are other hotels nearby, including the Courtyard by Marriott, less than half a block from the headquarters hotel, and the Hilton Garden Inn, a block and a half away.

Play for the world events will be at the Philadelphia Marriott Downtown. Regional championships will be played at the spacious, modern Pennsylvania Convention Center.

All events will be transnational, meaning

Aljure and Castillo claim 99er Pairs

Malvina Aljure of Colombia and Elsa Castillo of Wilton Manors FL put together two 60% sessions to claim the National 99er Pairs. They scored 101.75 in the first session (84 was average) and 103.5 in the second. Their final score of 205.29 was 8.72 matchpoints ahead of second place. The winners were unavailable for a photo.

Bruce and Barbara Hanson of San Diego CA were second.

The National 99ers Pairs is a one-day, twosession event for players with fewer than 100 masterpoints. There were 20 tables in play. Last year's winners were high school seniors Stephen Drodge and Andrew Rodriguez.

Diamond has slim lead in Reisinger Teams

Entering today's play in the Reisinger Boarda-Match Teams, the squad captained by John Diamond is leading the field by less than half a board.

Twenty teams of the original 42 made it through the first two qualifying sessions and will play two semifinal rounds today to reduce the field for Sunday's two final sessions.

Diamond, of Boca Raton FL, earned a carryover of 11.83 after the first two sessions. He is playing with Brian Platnick, Evanston IL; Fred Gitelman and Geoff Hampson, Las Vegas NV; Brad Moss, San Anselmo CA, and Eric Greco, Philadelphia PA.

Only .45 boards behind are five of the six players who won the event last year in Boston: Nick Nickell, who is playing with Ralph Katz in place of the late Dick Freeman; Bob Hamman, Zia Mahmood, Jeff Meckstroth and Eric Rodwell.

In third, nearly a board behind the leaders, are Rose Meltzer, Kyle Larsen, Alan Sontag, David Berkowitz, Geir Helgemo and Tor Helness.

Arvedon squad leads In Keohane Swiss

The team captained by Lloyd Arvedon will enter play today in the Keohane North American Swiss Teams with a carryover of 30 victory points, 2.2 VPs ahead of second.

Arvedon, of Bedford MA, is playing with John Stiefel, Wethersfield CT; JoAnna Stansby, Dublin CA, and Peter Friedland, Cupertino CA.

Right behind them are Carolyn Lynch, Scottsdale AZ; Mike Passell, Las Vegas NV; Cezary Balicki and Adam Zmudzinski, Poland, and Russians Andrew Gromov and Aleksander Dubinin.

Tied for third are teams captained by Dennis Dawson and David Maidman, both with 25.61.

Goodwill message

Here's a reminder that the preferred way to call a tournament director is to raise your hand and say, "Director, please."

G. Margie Gwozdzinsky found a nice play on this deal from the Helen Sobel Smith Life Master Women's Pairs. Her partner was Kathy Sulgrove.

South led a low spade to the 3, 10 and queen. Gwozdzinsky played three rounds of hearts, intending to discard dummy's diamond loser, but South ruffed the third round. What would you do?

Most players would overruff without giving it much thought, but Gwozdzinsky considered it more deeply. She decided to go ahead with her original plan and discard a heart. South cashed the A, but now what? Anything she led would help declarer.

Because the $Q is singleton, Deep Finesse says that 4$ can always be made, but on a different layout, Gwozdzinsky's play might be the only way to make the contract.

Playing bridge with a star

Three players from the Intermediate-Newcomer game are in for a treat. They will play one round with Eddie Kantar in the Strati-Flighted Swiss Teams Sunday. The winners, who were selected by a drawing, are Chrissy and Bob Fried of Delmar CA and Robin Rodger of San Diego.

Kantar is a world champion and highlyregarded bridge author. He write a monthly column in the Bridge Bulletin.

Slow Play

Slow play, as opposed to careful or thoughtful play, is discourteous to your opponents -- and to all other competitors as well. Players and pairs who take more than their allotted time are subject to penalty

In general, pairs who are rarely late will be warned while pairs who are habitually tardy and/or pay no attention to time limits will be penalized.

Child care available

Child care is available during the Fall NABC from noon to 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. to midnight. Activities include swimming, art and bridge lessons (noon to 12:30 p.m.). There will be a pizza party on Thursday. For more information, contact Donna Compton in Room 631 at the Manchester Grand Hyatt.

Great discounts for local restaurants in your tournament schedule guide.

Monitoring

At this and future North American Championships, ACBL will be monitoring NABC+ events with visible, real-time cameras. The images will be recorded and will be available for later official inspection and review.

By general monitoring of the session and participants' behavior, ACBL has another source of information that may be useful in determining facts and settling issues arising from some types of ethical and behavioral complaints or actions. Please summon a director if a problem occurs at the table.

This procedure is intended to assure everyone that the playing field is level and that misbehavior will not be tolerated.

Koneru is new Grand LM

Venkatrao Koneru has advanced to Grand Life Master, a rank requiring 10,000 masterpoints and a win in an NABC+ event. Koneru won the Keohane North American Swiss Teams in 2004. He is retired from the U.S Air Force and lives in San Antonio TX.

JUST FOR NEW PLAYERS

By Marti Ronemus

Dear New Players:

I'm always interested to hear how people find their way to our Alternative Universe. One little story shows that Fate is real. Bridge has some outstanding "top athletes," and one of these is Zia Mahmood. He gives a wonderful lecture that you should catch if you can: "1700 is Just Another Number.'

When Zia was 24, he had returned to Pakistan from living in London and became interested in a young woman he knew only slightly. Finally she agreed to meet him, but the bad news was the venue was a bridge party. He had, of course, told his date that he could play.

To avoid disaster, he dove into Alfred Sheinwold's 5 Weeks to Winning Bridge for three days, and to his surprise, found the book interesting. Of course, he performed embarrassingly badly at the party – but became sufficiently intrigued by the game that his attention was diverted from the girl, and that was almost the last he saw of her! He plunged into bridge and today is one of the world's finest players.

His strong feeling is that age really doesn't matter when you begin to learn bridge. The three most important talents are a logical and clearthinking mind, card sense, and a positive mental attitude. Ideally, a mixture of Solomon, Nick the Greek and Muhammad Ali! You can read more about his adventures in the bridge world and lots of bridge also in his wonderful book Bridge My

Now, this doesn't mean that if you aren't logical and clear-thinking, you can't play bridge, by the way. I know dozens of people lacking those qualities who have great fun at bridge every Enough of great players and back to us. A very good friend of mine told me about how she got into the game. "It happened that I first discovered tournament bridge because an NABC was held down at the Sheraton in Washington DC. No one from my neighborhood would go with me, but I was excited and went alone.

Back then they held an individual game on the first day and you didn't need a partner. The way it is set up is this: You and three other people are assigned a table, you shuffle and deal, hastily try to decide on what conventions you are playing (not a problem I didn't know any), play with your assigned partner, then West, South and East rotate around the table so everyone has a different partner. You do this one more time and then everyone leaves the table and moves to four different tables and repeats the process. So even if you do badly with a partner, he doesn't have to play with you again. Perfect! How hard can it be?! has always been one of my mottos. And it wasn't. It was great! At least for me.

"I was breathless at the sight of what seemed like 1000 bridge tables on the convention floor. Wow! There was a pounding in my ears, my heart was beating erratically, but I cheerfully took my place. Things seemed to go all right to me, except for one partner who got angry. I doubled 3♥, thinking she could take it out or leave it in. Unfortunately, she wasn't aware of my inner thoughts and they made it.

- " 'Why did you double?' she raged.
- "'I thought you would take it out if you couldn't stand it,' I explained.
- "'I didn't know we were playing responsive doubles!' she yelled.
 - "Oh my gosh, I didn't know what that was.
- " 'I thought everybody played responsive doubles!' I replied.

"I was disappointed to see I was bottom of section that afternoon (I thought I'd played very well), but I raised that to just below average that evening. A triumph!"

I remember back to my first NABC at Lancaster. As we waited to start it, everyone was nervous, like horses before a race. I guess something was amiss at the director's desk because they left us at the starting gate for what seemed like an eternity. Finally, my left-hand opponent, a very nice lady, blurted out, "If a nuclear bomb were to hit now and bury us all, the archeologists digging us up in a thousand years would wonder what activity we were engaged in and probably decide this was a penal colony and this was a form of torturous punishment!"

So there you have it. Stories about what brought us to this minute. I'd love to hear how you wandered into this universe. Let me know at mronemus@comcast.net

Opening lead: $5.

Bidding commentary: With 4-4 in the majors, the proper response to a minor-suit opening bid is $1 \, \mathbf{v}$. With 5-5 in the majors, the proper response is 1 . Opener's 1NT rebid is automatic with this distribution. East has the points to make a passed-hand takeout double (9-11), but not the right distribution. When the opponents have bid two suits, a passed-hand takeout double promises at least four cards in each of the unbid suits, more often than not 4-5 in the unbids (four in the unbid major, five in the unbid minor).

Defensive commentary: If dummy plays low at trick one, East plays the $9, the lowest equal. If the 10 is played, East covers with the jack, again the lower equal. If declarer ducks the first trick, with two cards remaining, East returns the &Q, the higher card. Under the queen, West plays the $2, his lowest club showing exactly five clubs.

Play commentary: As South, after winning the third club, you should know from the way both East and West are playing clubs that West remains with two winning clubs. In addition, the defenders have the ◆A K or a total of six sure tricks when next on lead. You, on the other hand, have five sure tricks, the ace-kings of both majors and the A. You need two extra tricks and your best bet is to go after them in diamonds, a suit where you have to lose two tricks anyway. Drive out the \diamond A and \diamond K, let them take their clubs, but you make your contract. If you take the heart finesse and it loses you not only lose the six aforementioned tricks, but the ♥Q as well. The heart finesse is not necessary. It is important to grasp the concept of establishing tricks in a suit or in suits that have inevitable losers so as not to increase their trick count.

ACBL joins Facebook, Twitter

ACBL members can now discuss their favorite game on Facebook and Twitter, the popular social media web sites. Players can enjoy conversations on these free forums, allowing participants to meet other bridge enthusiasts from around the world, get the inside scoop on bridge news and events, and even leave messages for the ACBL staff.

"This provides a space for players to talk to each other and us," said Vicki Campbell, ACBL's marketing director.

To become a fan of the ACBL on Facebook, go to the ACBL home page and click the "Find us on Facebook" button.

To follow the ACBL on Twitter, go to www. twitter.com and follow @ACBLbridge.

Entry fees

Players must be ACBL members whose service fees or dues are current in order to compete in any of the following nationally ranked events: Nail Life Master Open Pairs, Smith Life Master Women's Pairs, Reisinger Board-a-Match Teams, Keohane North American Swiss Teams, Kaplan Blue Ribbon Pairs, Mitchell Open Board-a-Match Teams, Marsha May Sternberg Women's Board-a-Match Teams and the Senior Knockouts. The entry fees for these contests are $20 per player per session.

Players must also be current ACBL members to play in the Mini-Blue Ribbon Pairs, Miles Non-Life Master Pairs or National 99er Pairs. The entry fee is $17 per player per session.

Regional championships are $16 per player per session for ACBL members, $18 for non-members.

All other events are $15 per player per session for ACBL members, $17 for non-members.

Bid Box Alerts and Announcements

When using bid boxes, ACBL requires that players tap the Alert strip and say "Alert" at the same time.

When making an Announcement, use the Announcement word (such as "transfer") and tap the Alert strip at the same time.

A player who Alerts or Announces a bid must make sure his opponents are aware that an Alert or Announcement has been made.

Close, but no cigar

Bulgaria surprised no one by taking the bronze medal at the Sao Paulo Bermuda Bowl. They have a small but extremely talented bridge population and three of their very best found themselves in opposition in the final of one of the Bracketed KO events.

comfort as the defenders cannot set up their hearts without giving declarer a ninth trick and otherwise declarer can simply play on clubs. Sooner or later the defenders will have to present him with a trick in either spades, hearts or clubs.

However, with his extreme distribution East can hardly be blamed for bidding on, and $5 \spadesuit$ is a decent spot for East-West.

What should South lead?

Valio Kovachev reasoned like this:

A spade was out of the question as that could only help declarer.

A heart was unlikely to achieve much as dummy surely had an excellent holding in that suit and in any case declarer was likely to be short in the suit.

A trump might work out (in this case it is the only genuine winning lead) but it would probably concede an important tempo.

That left the suit partner had bid and the obvious move is to lead the ace of clubs. However, with declarer surely marked with a club shortage Valio found the subtle lead of the $6!

Suppose North wins with trick with the &K and plays two rounds of diamonds. Would declarer not simply take a ruffing club finesse?

Unfortunately it was equally difficult for North to read the situation and when declarer was allowed to win the first trick with the $9 a potential brilliancy had disappeared.

Convention card reminder

Each player is required to have a convention card filled out legibly and on the table throughout a session. Both cards of a partnership must be identical and include the first and last names of each member of the partnership.

If a director determines that neither player has a substantially completed card, the partnership may play only the Standard American Yellow Card and may use only standard carding. This restriction may be lifted only at the beginning of a subsequent round after convention cards have been properly prepared and approved by the director. Further, the partnership will receive a 1/6-board matchpoint penalty for each board played, commencing with the next round and continuing until the restriction is lifted. In IMP team games, penalties shall be at the discretion of the director.

If the director determines the partnership has at least one substantially completed convention card but has not fully complied with ACBL regulations, the director may give warnings or assign such penalties as he deems to be appropriate under the circumstances.

The objective of these warnings and penalties is the encouragement of full compliance with ACBL regulations.

In order to keep the bridge public informed of appeals results in a timely fashion, the NABC Daily Bulletin staff publishes write-ups. Facts: The final contract was 4♥ by East making six for a score of plus 680 after the lead of the ♣A. The director was called at the end of the deal. All players agreed that there was at least a 10-second pause before West bid 2♠.

(1) Forcing.

(2) Slow

Director's Ruling: The director judged that there was a break in tempo that demonstrably suggested bidding rather than passing. A pass was judged to be a logical alternative. Therefore, the result was adjusted to 2 \(\bigsim \) by East making three and a score of East-West plus 140 and North-South minus 140.

The Appeal: East-West appealed on the basis that the score should be 2♠ making four, plus 170 for East-West. North and East attended the hearing. East said he would have made 10 tricks in spades by ruffing a heart with dummy's ♠Q, although he did not agree with ruling the contract to be 2♠.

North stated that he was certain that East would have made 10 tricks in spades.

The Decision: The 3♥ bid was disallowed with one member dissenting. The reasoning of the players as to the number of tricks that East would take was accepted. The result was changed to 2♠ by East making four and a score of plus 170 for East-West and minus 170 for North-South.

Facts: The contract was 4♥ making six for a score of East-West plus 480 after the lead of the ♣A. The director was called after the 3♥ bid and again after the play of the deal was completed. The director asked each player what the length of the hesitation by West was before bidding 2♠. North said 10 seconds and South agreed. West said the hesitation was two seconds and East said it was not noticeable, but a slight break.

Director's Ruling: The director judged that there had been a break in tempo by West. The unauthorized information, however, did not demonstrably suggest one action over another. Therefore, the table result of 4♥ by East making six, and a score of East-West plus 480, was allowed to stand.

The Appeal: North-South appealed the table director's ruling. The screening director changed the ruling to 2♠ by West making three and a score of East-West plus 140. East-West appealed the decision of the screening director. All four players attended the hearing.

West, who bid 2♠, now said the time taken was about 10 seconds. She had to decide between pass, 2♠, 2NT and 3♥. East did not think there was any break in tempo. East said she would play a spade contract as follows: On a club lead, declarer would discard a diamond. She would ruff the club continuation, and play three rounds of hearts. The club return would be ruffed and trumps drawn.

The BIT was clear to North and South. They called the director immediately after the 3♥ bid because of the BIT.

The committee discovered that the Englishspeaking ability of East and West was not good. They were accompanied by an interpreter.

The Decision: The 3♥ bid was disallowed with one member dissenting. The line of play stated by declarer was accepted even though it was not best. Because the committee heard nothing to suggest over-ruling the director on the finding of fact, it accepted the screening director's decision of 2♠ by East making three for a score of East-West plus 140 for both sides. The decision was made on the basis that there was a BIT.

Facts: West played $3 \blacklozenge$ doubled making three for a score of plus 670 for East-West after the lead of the $\spadesuit 7$. The director was called after the $3 \spadesuit$ bid and again after the deal was played. West stated that he thought East had opened $1 \clubsuit$ and his bid of $2 \spadesuit$ was to play. West did have unauthorized information from East's Alert of $2 \spadesuit$. South stated that passing 2NT was inconceivable without the UI.

The Ruling: In the absence of an Alert procedure, the 2NT bid in the auction is unusual enough that anyone would reexamine the auction and notice the original pass. Therefore, there was no UI, no infraction and no adjustment. The table result of 3 ◆ doubled by West making three, and a score of East-West plus 670, stands.

The Appeal: North-South appealed the director's decision, and all four players were present at the committee meeting.

North-South maintained that if West did not see the auction, then his partner's Alert woke him to the fact that his partner's opening call was pass rather than 1. Given that they were in the middle of a misunderstanding, pass was demonstrably suggested by the UI.

West said he had a lapse of concentration and thought his partner opened 1♣. If East had, in fact, opened 1♣, then the 2NT rebid over the 2♦ bid would be natural, not artificial. As it was, he made a tactical pass over 2NT --- he had no idea what contract to play and they were not yet doubled.

The East-West pair play Woolsey over 1NT. After 2NT, they had no agreement as to continuations.

The Decision: Law 16A1(a) states: A player may use information in the auction or play if it derives from the legal calls and plays of the current board... and is unaffected by unauthorized information from another source.

It was established to the committee's satisfaction that West did indeed genuinely miss his partner's pass. East-West do not play DONT (where West's 2♦ bid would show diamonds and a higher ranking suit). That being said, for an adjustment to be made, it had to be established that there was UI and that it demonstrably suggested West's pass of 2NT and there was a logical alternative to that pass.

The committee, in discussion with two tournament directors, a member of the ACBL Laws Commission, and a diligent perusal of Law 16A1(a), determined that it could not be UI for a player to be made aware of the calls actually made, as opposed to the meaning of those calls.

Parallel examples of ACBL current tournament director practice suggested that this was consistent with the way the Law is applied. There was thus no UI and so no cause for adjustment.

The table result of 3 ♦ doubled by West making three for a score of East-West plus 670 was allowed to stand.

The appeal was judged to have substantial merit.

The committee: Barry Rigal, chair, Jeff Aker, Mark Feldman, Michael Rosenberg and Danny Sprung.

Airport and rail transportation for $5

By Al Schuster, Transportation Chair
It is easy to get to the San Diego Airport or

It is easy to get to the San Diego Airport or the Amtrak train depot via public transportation. Walk across Harbor Drive and catch a north-bound trolley (Gillespie Field destination) to the next stop (America Plaza). Get off and walk back to the street the trolley just crossed (Broadway). The bus stop on the corner is the Airport Shuttle (Route 992). Take the bus for a 10-minute drive to the airport. The shuttle stops at both airport terminals, so tell the driver which airline you are flying. The time, including waiting, is about 20 minutes.

Ticketing for the trip is simple. At the trolley stop opposite the Hyatt, you will see a ticket machine which accepts cash , credit cards or debit cards. Purchase a one-day pass for $5 and show it to the trolley police, if asked, and the shuttle drivers.

If you are using Amtrak or the COASTER, the directions are the same except you cross the tracks at America Plaza and board a Blue Line (Old Town destination) and ride one stop to the Santa Fe Depot. If you feel adventurous, walk across Kettner Boulevard to the Santa Fe Depot in lieu of using the trolley to Old Town. The time including waiting is about 10 minutes.

Per California law, smoking is not allowed within 20 feet (six meters) from an entrance. Please use the designated smoking areas.

The Blue Ribbon Pairs By Phillip Alder

With one round to go in the Blue Ribbon Pairs on Thursday night, Bart Bramley and Bjorn Fallenius led John Hurd and Joel Wooldridge by 23.65 matchpoints, with 76 available on the last two boards.

Bramley and Fallenius had a poor round, scoring only 12.25 matchpoints. Hurd and Wooldridge would have won had they managed 47 matchpoints, but they accumulated only 26.23 to remain in second place. Third were Rafal Jagniewski and Michal Kwiecien from Poland.

It was lucky that Bramley and Fallenius triumphed because immediately they heard, Fallenius said, "If we had not won, I would have shot myself." He was still thinking about his opening lead on the penultimate board.

Before getting to their good deals, though, here are two questions:

Bramley played K-9-7 in the dummy opposite J-8-5-2 in his hand for three tricks. How?

In fourth position with neither side vulnerable, you pick up:

A A Q 10 9 7 6 3 ♥ K 5 ◆ 9 7 ♣ 3 2

Partner opens 1♦, you respond 1♠ and partner rebids 1NT, 12-14 points. What would you do now?

When the dummy came down, Bramley saw that he needed some luck or a misdefense. He took the first trick with dummy's king, East playing the 3, encouraging. Now came a heart to the queen, which West took with his king to continue with the \bullet 9.

Declarer won with his queen and boldly led the *K from his hand. East won with the ace and, with no entry left, should have shifted to a spade. But when he persevered with another diamond, Bramley won with dummy's ace, played a heart to his ace, cashed the *J, and led a club toward the dummy. Suddenly he had nine tricks: one spade, three hearts, three diamonds and two clubs.

Plus 600 was worth 34 out of 38 matchpoints.

Bramley was not willing to bank everything on spades breaking 3-3, and remembering the afternoon's board, he called for dummy's &K. It held the trick. Then he led the &7. When East played the 10, Bramley covered with his jack and took that trick, too! He continued with the &5, which was covered by the ace, 9 and queen. Suddenly he had three club tricks, ended with an overtrick and took another 34 matchpoints out of 38.

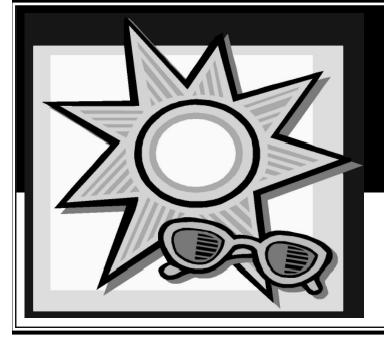

Why did West duck the AA twice? Placing South with five clubs to the Q-J, he was trying to cut off declarer from his hand. Perhaps the real error was by East for not playing the queen on the second round. Yes, this would look very silly if partner had incorrectly ducked the first trick from ace-doubleton. And if South had started with six clubs to the K-J, playing the queen probably would not cost a trick. Declarer would almost certainly be planning to finesse on the second round, not go up with his king.

When Bramley had the seven-card spade suit, this was the full deal:

West led the ♥6, so they took 12 tricks: seven spades, three hearts, one diamond and one club. Plus 490 was worth 37 out of 38.

One final question: Deep Finesse says that you can always make 12 tricks in notrump, even by North on a diamond lead – how? Turn to page 9 for the answer.

If I love company, and misery loves company, then sure it goes without saying that I love misery?

On this board from the A/X Pairs, I enjoyed the following accident – but before I tell you the details, consider that following problem.

If you let through a doubled grand slam – bid by the opponents at unfavorable vulnerability – by leading the wrong suit, how many matchpoints would you expect to get? Answer: none – well guessed!

If you beat the grand slam by finding the right lead, how many matchpoints out of 11 do you expect? One more piece of trivia: the aces and kings are evenly divided, the high-card points are

If you expected 3 out of 11 matchpoints, well done! This is the full deal:

Plus 200 would have beaten the pair of minus 1390s and the minus 300, but the vulnerable grand slam cost less thatn our game, it would have lost out to plus 480 (the "normal" result on the deal!).

Well done, Warren Cederborg and James Slinger, who earned their top.

Reno Spring NABC event sponsorship

By Hendrik Sharples Publicity Chairman

We are offering sponsorships for all of the non-NABC games at the 2010 Spring NABC in Reno. We are trying to raise money for hospitality, our goal being providing transportation to local restaurants during the dinner hour.

This is an great opportunity for players to name a game or a day after their business, favorite partner, teacher, mentor, departed loved one and so forth, without a great deal of cost. By sponsoring a game, you get the game named as you see fit, and get a blurb written in the Daily Bulletin published at the playing site (and on the Internet) on the day your game takes place.

Additionally, each day will also have a sponsor. For this you get a two-session game that day, on-site banners and a bigger write-up, plus our undying gratitude.

We are offering games and days to commercial sponsors as well. The sooner you sponsor a game, the sooner you will see that game named on the ACBL web site. There are forms (as well as brochures about everything Reno has to offer outside of bridge) on the second floor. You can find me in person, or mail in the sponsorship request.

The spade game is not without play, but the bad spade and diamond breaks doom you. Arguably, on the heart lead, you could win the ace and take a ruffing finesse in clubs by running the jack – it won't work because of the bad trump break - but that's another story.

My partner won the \forall A, cashed the \Diamond A, ruffed a diamond, ruffed a club and ruffed a diamond, on which West meanly pitched the A. Now he could overruff in clubs and lead a trump to put declarer two down.

If West does not pitch his A, the crossruff generates nine tricks, and in fact the line recommended earlier comes very close to making

Jon gave me this tee shirt that says: Bridge Et Spill For Livet – "Bridge you play for life." Jon is Jon Sveindal from Norway, who happens to be my partner here in San Diego. And the shirt? One of those nice gifts from the Norwegian Bridge Federation.

The deal below shows why Jon is so fond of the game, though I am not so sure if Tor was fond of Jon this time. Tor is Tor Helness, another Viking star. For a long time, Jon and Tor were teammates in the open Norwegian bridge team.

Jon did and excellent job on the deal. First he made life extremely difficult for his opponents with his inspired spade preempt and then he kicked off with his top club and continued the suit for 10 and king. This way, Martin Andresen, a well known soccer pro from Oslo and a good friend of Tor, got trump short and the contract failed by one trick. The slam is made by any other lead but a club.

How life imitates bridge By Mark Horton

How Life Imitates Chess is a fascinating book from former world champion Garry Kasparov that is part autobiography, part chess analysis, part motivational book and more besides. It looks at chess techniques and mindsets and explores how these can be applied to everyday life. It inspires you to look at your chess with renewed vigor, but more important also to look at your life (and your goals) with that same renewed enthusiasm. It looks at the history of chess, other players, the rise of computers, as well as his retirement and his move into politics.

It is surely only a matter of time before someone pens the bridge equivalent, but if you are looking for the point of this introduction you will have to get to the end of the article.

By the time the last day of the Blue Ribbon Pairs has been reached you can be confident that all the players know their way around the table, but that still does not mean that they will always come up with the right answers to the many problems they will encounter.

As an aside wouldn't this event be even more prestigious if the number of pairs qualifying was reduced so that the final became an all play all, as in the final of the World Pairs Championship? Another interesting idea would be to use barometer scoring – I have a feeling the players would enjoy both innovations.

Reminding myself that I have long since given up any pretentions to a role in bridge administration, it's time to move back to the table.

Once East opens with a weak two-bid in diamonds, the question is how many diamonds should West bid?

When I was shown the hand by David Kendrick, it seemed to me that you must have reasonable prospects of defeating a possible 4 h by the opponents, so it was not entirely clear that you should bid 5 \underline{\underline{\text{.}}}. Indeed, the vast majority of the pairs playing East-West elected to defend – and scored modestly.

However, Jan Jansma, without a doubt one of the best pairs players in the world, did not hesitate to bid 5 ♦. There were many ways in which this might deliver a good result; it might just happen to make; it might be a good save against 4♠; it might induce North-South to go overboard.

This time it turned out to be a good save, which was one of many good results that left East-West in second place at the half way mark.

Their opponents on the previous deal were also well placed, although they also got the worst of this deal:

When West showed the majors with his 2♣ opener, East relayed with 2♠, promising equal length and then corrected to spades. Kendrick is known to be an enterprising bidder (which can be a mixed blessing) and he elected to compete – a dubious move on this occasion, as North-South have good defensive prospects against a spade contract. (With perfect defense you can collect plus 200, but plus 100 was the more common result.)

Brian Senior knew that his partner's bid was based on the minors (with a single-suited hand, South would simply bid it) and he faced an awkward decision as bidding 3 • would raise the number of tricks required from eight to nine. Passing turned out badly this time as once West had ducked a round of clubs the South hand was as dead as a dodo and declarer had to go down.

If North had elected to bid 3♦, East would have needed to lead a spade (or a less-likely trump) to beat the contract. If the contract makes, North-South score plus 110 and those extra 10 points would be worth virtually all the matchpoints.

Is that how matchpoints imitate life? Little things mean a lot.

"and his goal is for the players to have a good time."

No problem, said Campbell: "If we don't have customers we don't have work. I enjoy working with people and I believe that you should treat everyone the way you would want to be treated. It never hurts to be friendly."

Hubert, promoted to associate national rank 10 years ago, has been a full-time TD since 1994. He works a lot in the Southeast, but also goes as far away from home as Baltimore – and he is always on the staff at NABCs.

Said Johnson: "Olin runs three very large sectionals in Atlanta every year and is an excellent administrator. He works very well with players and staff alike."

Patty Tucker, a friend and veteran bridge player from the Atlanta area, described Hubert as "a players' director, "and he's very funny."

Hubert, an expert player with more than 7600 masterpoints, still plays a couple of times a week in club games when he's home, and he usually finds a regional to attend each year.

Mostly, however, he concentrates on his TD duties. Not the nine to five type, Hubert allowed that he likes directing "better than a 'real' job."

At our table, South was declarer – well, he always is in the textbooks – and I knew no better than to lead the *K. The contract is still impregnable, but my devious partner, Eric Leong, was not going to let that put him off. He overtook the *K with the ace and returner the *5. I won the *10 and played back a low club to go for the trump promotion.

Declarer now had three plausible strategies available. He could ruff high and hope to negotiate trumps and hearts, with some excellent endplay chances if trumps split. He would ruff with a middle trump, or he could discard a heart, hoping for the actual lie of the cards or a winning heart finesse.

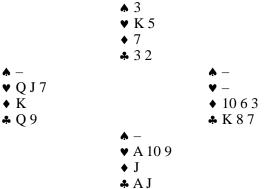

I'm not sure what is best, but when declarer followed the first line, he had turned plus 620 into minus 100 and my partner into a hero – if just for one day.

North is in 6NT and East leads a low diamond. Pop with the ace and run the spades, which catches West in a three-suit squeeze-endplay. This is a likely ending:

On the last spade, South and West discard clubs. Now you play a club to the ace and call for the $\infty$10. If West ducks, you take the trick, play a heart to your king, and exit with a diamond, using West as a stepping stone to the $\infty$A. And if West covers the $\infty$10, you take the trick and lead a diamond to endplay West, who must lead away from his remaining heart honor into South's tenace.

NABC Insider

Since tomorrow will be another short column for the Insider, we want to take advantage of the Bulletin Boys' generosity and fill this space with "Thank Yous!" The San Diego Fall 2009 NABC has been a great success from any perspective. As much as the Insider would like to take full credit, he can't. The team that came together to work on this tournament was amazing and the Insider is honored to have been able to work with them and contribute what he could.

Thank you to the ACBL Board of Directors who approved coming to this hotel even before the second tower and a large chunk of the playing space was complete. Thank you to the staff and management of the Manchester Grand Hyatt who have lived up to the name and have been Grand hosts – Bryan with a "y" you are the best! Thank you to both the Memphis ACBL staff and the best tournament directors in the world for their work in providing excellent bridge experiences. Thanks to the hard working local committee - some repeats from the Las Vegas NABC - who gave their all to make the tournament fun. Thanks to Bonnie and Ken for managing the home team to perfection. Thank you to Peter Rank, David Clark and the My Fair (Little Old) Lady cast for the best bridge show this side of Broadway. Thanks to the caddies for keeping the supplies out, the games moving and just plain being fun to be around. A special thanks to the Tournament Services Crew for making the logistics work, moving things back and forth, unloading and loading 21 tons of stuff and being the truly special guys they are. Martin, Brian, David and Ken are, to quote Jackson Browne, "The first to come and the last to leave, you guys are the best."

And, thanks to the Insider's special circle: The Supreme Commander, Boss Baum, the Bulletin Boys, Ask Me Girl, and the meeting services staff, all of whom have been featured in the Insider's daily communiqués. Thanks, especially to the S. C, for continuing to sign the Insider's paychecks even after the intimate details of the activities on the 47th floor are revealed here almost daily. But most of all, THANK YOU to all the players who have been here in San Diego. Thank you for coming, staying, playing and enjoying this great city/hotel/ NABC with all of us.

NABC Diary

Back in the saddle

There is more to the story of the Stephen Shane team in the Senior Knockouts than their unexpected run in the event, starting with their victory over the No. 1 seed on the second day.

One member of the team, Norman Schwartz, had not played in a real tournament for more than 30 years, and before the NABC he knew none of his teammates.

His partnership Sedat Nassi, came about through a mutual friend.

The Shane team, including Eugene Davidson, surprised the pundits by making it to the semifinal round of the Senior KO before losing to the Amos Kaminski squad. Two fouled boards in the match cost the team 31 IMPs.

Bad slam-itis

Bob Lafleur of Las Vegas NV dropped by the Daily Bulletin office to leave a report about a San Diego NABC many years ago. His report:

Forty-one years ago there was a NABC in San Diego and, like this year, in the midst of a major flu epidemic. NABCs were very different then. There were only red and black points and only one redpoint event at a time.

As a consequence, many who were eliminated from major events kibitzed, and major players remaining could have 20 or more kibitzers around their tables. The tournament, held at the Del Coronado, was plagued by players trying to continue in spite of nausea. On a number of occasions, players were unable to make it out of the playing area before being overcome. It was so bad that the hotel had cleanup crews standing by near each playing room.

I know the above was true because I was there. If the legend that came out of that tournament is not true, my apologies to Eddie Kantar and Marshall Miles. Each of them has been a star of our crazy world for half a century and in the Sixties they were partners who attracted throngs of kibitzers.

During the final of one of the pairs events, they had a torturous auction to a no-play slam.

There was silence as the boards were passed to the next table at the end of the round. During the following round, the person in Kantar's seat at the table to which the boards had been passed jumped up and made a dash for the restroom. He did not make it in time. Eddie broke up the crowd when he commented, "I guess they just duplicated our slam auction from last round."

It's a good story even if it's apocryphal.

Doug did it

Earlier in the tournament, there was a report of a deal in which a defender, holding ♣A K J and looking at six clubs to the 10 in dummy (the contract was 4♥), had to win his partner's opening lead of the ♣2 with the ace or king and return the jack for partner to ruff – the only way to defeat the contract (partner gets a spade trick going while you still have a club winner).

Adam Wildavsky wants it known that his partner, Doug Doub, found the killing defense, which was not easy even looking at all the cards.

Learning curve

Robert Locke of Sacramento wanted to report himself as having made Life Master, but he was a few masterpoints short. Even so, he had a story to tell about his experience at the Fall NABC.

"I have been taking advantage of many different ACBL seminars," he wrote. "Last Monday through Wednesday, I attended the ACBL director course taught by Priscilla Smith. There were 17 of us. It was an intense three days, ending with a test, which we all passed.

"My goal has been to get my director's (certificate) as the same time I became a Life Master so that I could apply as a cruise director. My hope is to teach bridge on cruise, not only to adults but even to children who are on the cruises with their parents. To this end, I also attended Patty Tucker's seminar on Teaching Young People Bridge.

"I have an extensive background in working with young people in creative writing. Under the pen name Clayton Bess (my father's name was Clayton, my mother's name was Bess) I have written and published many novels and books for young people and children, many winning awards.

"Now I intend to talk to young people about including in their lives the greatest of all games – bridge. Wish me luck."

San Diego 1994: A look back

There were many well-played deals when the NABC was in San Diego in the last time. Here are a few of them:

Dad versus son

Dbl

Redbl

Richard Pavlicek's team eked out a 2-IMP win against a team that included Richard Pavlicek Jr. The younger Pavlicek, playing with Blair Seidler, engineered a 15-IMP swing against John Schermer and Neil Chambers on this deal:

Chambers' 5 ♦ bid was intended as a lead director in the event that East—West bought the contract. Seidler's redouble, perhaps attributable to youthful exuberance, paid a handsome dividend.

Schermer led the ◆8, ruffed by Chambers, who got out with a club. Seidler won, ruffed a heart and ruffed a club with the ♠Q. The fall of the ♣K was good news and helped Seidler to count south's hand as either 4=4=0=5 or 3=5=0=5.

Accordingly, Seidler ruffed his second heart in dummy, played a spade to his ace and ruffed his last heart. He then cashed the *Q, pitching a diamond, ruffed a club to hand, drew trumps and conceded a diamond for plus 1000. At the other table, his teammates were plus 100.

Schuett for the defense

Tough defense on this deal by Jeff Schuett helped his team in a Swiss Teams match. Schuett was playing with Dick Bruno.

Schuett led the ♥8 to the 4, queen and king. Declarer led a spade to the king and Bruno's ace. When Bruno returned a heart, declarer put up the 10, taken by Schuett with the jack. Schuett, reasoning that if declarer held the ♦9 he would have gone after diamonds, switched to the ♦5.

Declarer ducked and Bruno's \blacklozenge 7 held the trick. Bruno continued hearts and declarer pitched two diamonds from dummy on Schuett's two heart tricks. Schuett exited with the \blacklozenge K, setting up the suit.

Declarer finished down three for minus 300 when Schuett got in with the &K. It was an 8-IMP pickup for the Schuett team. Their teammates were plus 50 on the board.

Cell Phones and Electronic Devices: Know the Rules

• If you're playing in a national-level event: All electronic devices are banned from the playing area.

"Electronic devices, excluding health-related equipment, capable of sending or receiving communication, including but not limited to, headphones, earphones, cellular phones and minicomputers: (1) shall not be allowed in the playing areas, adjacent hallways, restrooms or accessible break areas; and (2) shall not be used during a session.

These restrictions shall apply to all pairs, team members, captains, coaches, recorders and kibitzers and shall apply throughout any actual playing session or segment.

A violation of this policy shall result in a disciplinary penalty of one full board (or 12 IMPs at that form of scoring) for the first offense. A second offense shall result in disqualification from the event for the pair/team.

Kibitzers violating this policy shall be removed from the playing area for the remainder of the session."

Participants will be reminded not to approach the playing area with a personal electronic device in their possession, even if the device is turned off.

• If you're playing in a regional or Inter*mediate-Newcomer event*: Turn those phones and pagers off.

"Cell phones, audible pagers or any similar communication equipment may not be operated or operable in the playing area during a session of play at NABCs except for health-related equipment or by permission of the director-in-charge of the tournament or event."
