They arrived in busloads — and many of them stayed

By Rose Miller

I direct a friendly weekly duplicate game at the West Vancouver Senior Center. It is a non-ACBL affiliated game, restricted by room size to nine tables, attended mostly by regulars -- average age mid-seventies.

I started talking about the North American Bridge Championships about six weeks ago, stressing the "free" Friday for newcomers. By week two, I had persuaded two pairs to attend. Enthusiasm grew, however, as I described the goodie bags, candy at the tables, door prizes and lessons by Audrey Grant. Potential attendance grew and they progressed from car pools to the "small" minibus (maximum capacity 13) to the "large" minibus (capacity 21), plus one private car.

At their last regular duplicate before the NABC, I conducted a pre-game crash course on convention cards, duplicating hands, pickup slips, recap sheets, etc. With the exception of one pair, none of these delightful Seniors had even played in a tournament, and all qualified for the 0-5 Newcomers.

I met the bus on Friday and, feeling like a mother hen, I herded the players to the vicinity of the Crystal Ballroom. Sorting them out at the table was a small chore -- "No, this doesn't mean that you were dealt all 13 hearts" and "not all four people at each table make out pickup slips."

After only ONE round, two pairs came to me and said, "The bus can go home without me. We're staying for the evening session."

When the afternoon game finished, 14 of them crowded into my room at the Waterfront Hotel. They were full of good spirits (plus the considerable amount of our spirits -- they weren't driving!) Every one of them had had a wonderful time.

I was so proud of them -- especially when the results came out -- four section places and one overall!

Congratulations to whoever thought of this 0-5 event. Special congratulations to these West Vancouver Seniors who braved the somewhat intimidating world of competitive bridge and not only survived, but thrived.

Linhart tops 15,000

Jim Linhart has joined a handful of ACBL players who have reached the 15,000-masterpoint mark -- but he's not stopping with this milestone.

"I plan in five years to be over 20,000," said Linhart, a professional player who spends most of his time these days in Delray Beach FL.

Linhart began playing bridge while in law school in San Francisco. "I never practiced law," he said. "I became addicted -- I am addicted to bridge."

His only NABC win came in 1975 when Nancy Gruver, Gerald Caravelli, Helen Utegaard and he won the Master Mixed Teams. Linhart remembers that John Crawford came up to him after the final session and said, "You beat me only because you're taller than I am. If I were as tall as you are, I'd never misguess a card."

The 6' 10" Linhart said, "That was his way of saying congratulations."

Linhart plays primarily in regionals these days. He's still fascinated with the game: "Bridge is a game of exactness. It's also a battle of wits -- concise communication with your partner and an understanding of when you can push your opponents and when you can't.

"The evolution of bridge has been just amazing. It's no longer a seat-of-the-pants game but a science."

Goodwill Day

Today is Goodwill Day. The highlight will be the special M&M "tranquilizers" that will be distributed to all players. Full instructions will be included with each package -- each infraction has a different color. An example -- partner passes your forcing bid.

The Goodwill Reception will take place in Meeting Rooms 10-11 in the Vancouver Trade and Convention Centre from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. All members of the Goodwill Committee are urged to attend. One of the meeting highlights will be a tribute to Phil Wood, Mr. Bridge of the Northwest and honorary chairman of this tournament.

Check your points on the Internet

As part of a new service to paid ACBL members, players may check out their masterpoint totals on line starting on April 5.

Simply click on the "Members" option found on the ACBL home page at www.acbl.org and enter your player number and email address. Only paid-up members will be able to use this service.

Members can even get a breakdown of their recent masterpoint history.

Please note that the service is not operational during periods when computer backup is running on ACBL's main computer (2 a.m. to 6 a.m. Central time Monday through Thursday, and midnight to 7 a.m. Saturday).

In his monthly column, From the CEO's Desk, which will appear in the April edition of The Bridge Bulletin, CEO David Silber adds the following information.

Checking on your points this way is better than doing so by telephone for several reasons:

Seattle-area pair leads Silver Ribbon event

A Seattle-area pair has a slim lead going into today's final two sessions of the Silver Ribbon Pairs, an event limited to players who are 55+ years old and who have pre-qualified by placing first or second overall in a regional- or national-rated senior event.

Tom Hammond, Redmond WA, and R. Burton, Bellevue WA, scored 1235.58 matchpoints to 1207.34 for John and Helen Gustafson, Des Moines IA. Jim and Corinne Kirkham, San Bernardino CA, second in the event in 1993, were third with a total of 1205.18.

One hundred sixty-eight pairs entered the event.

Hamish Bennett is Grand Life Master

The ACBL's newest Grand Life Master wants to give something back to the game he has enjoyed so much all his life. Hamish Bennett of Menlo Park CA believes the future of bridge lies with the young, and he wants to do his part to help youngsters realize what a wonderful game bridge is.

"I regret that we don't have a Rose Bowl of Bridge," he said, "and I'm willing to work in any capacity to bring about something like this. There are eight colleges in my area -- we could form a league like the PAC-10. We could challenge other Seniors to make their contribution to the game, but we'll need the help of the ACBL as well."

Bennett was impressed by the exhibition of youth bridge that was a major showpiece of the World Championships in Lille, France, last year. "José Damiani, the president of the World Bridge Federation, was so right when he said that bridge helps youngsters with discipline, logic and concentration. I keep hearing about how youngsters are so interested in computers that they don't have any time for bridge. In my opinion, bridge has a lot more to offer youngsters than computers."

Dan Morse, ACBL director from District 16, has been elected as ACBL 401k trustee for a four-year term ending Dec. 31, 2003.

The complicated way

Hugh Ross found a complicated way to come to eight tricks on this deal from the first final of Open Pairs I. Ross was playing with his brother, Andrew.

"I was a little disappointed not to be in game," said Ross, "but when I saw dummy, I was happy to be in a partscore."

South led the ♠Q. Ross played low from dummy, as East pitched the (discouraging) ♦9. Ross won his king and fired a spade back. When south played low, dummy's 7 won the trick.

Now Ross led a low club, playing his king. South won the ace and returned a club. Ross won his ♣J and cashed the ♣Q, as South and West discarded spades. Ross exited with a club (South pitched another spade) and North won his ♣10. North cashed another club and South, beginning to feel the pressure, discarded the ♠I

North exited a diamond and South won his ace. This was the five-card ending:

South exited with a low heart and Ross went up with dummy's ace. He cashed the ◆K. South, forced to hold two spades, bared his ♥Q. Now Ross led a low heart from dummy and the defense was fixed:

If North won his ♥K, he would crash his partner's queen and be forced to lead to Ross's ♥J and ◆Q. If North ducked, South would win his ♥Q and be forced to lead a spade into dummy's A-10 tenace.

"It was a complicated way to come to eight tricks," said Ross.

Section top prizes

If you win an overall or a section top, be sure to drop by the Prize Desk, which is located next to the Registration Desk. The prizes are special Bridge Calendars that include advice and hands from many bridge experts.

Vancouver souvenirs

Look sharp winning those tournament points! Get your official Spring NABC souvenirs in the lobby of the Trade and Convention Centre before they are gone. Every day, from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and from 4 p.m. to 7:30 p.m., the Vancouver hospitality committee is offering t-shirts, golf shirts, sweatshirts, hats, golf balls, pins and polar fleece vests and jackets for sale.

These limited "Bridge under the Sails" souvenirs have been designed and manufactured here in Vancouver especially for this tournament. Visa, MasterCard and both U.S. and Canadian currencies are accepted.

Squeezed to a pulp

Mark Lair felt his chances of bringing home this slam in the first qualifying session of the Open Pairs were much improved when the opening leader started with a heart. A club lead would have established the setting trick, so the slam would have depended on the diamond finesse. Chances were good now that he could make his slam even if the diamond finesse failed.

- (1) Spade raise with four trumps and at least the equivalent of an opening bid.
- (2) Shortness in hearts.
- (3) Shows at least mild slam interest.
- (4) Two key cards plus the queen of spades.
- (5) No kings to show.

East decided to lead a heart because it looked safe -- he already knew from the bidding that Michael Schreiber would put the ace down in dummy opposite Lair's singleton. Lair took his ace and ruffed a heart, crossed to dummy with a trump and ruffed dummy's last heart. He went back to dummy and took the diamond finesse, losing to East's king.

East naturally switched to the $\Delta J$ -- leading a diamond would give up the slam immediately. Lair let this run to his ace. Now West had to protect both minor suits -- he had to keep the $\Delta K$ and the rest of his diamonds. But when Lair ran his trumps, this is the position that evolved:

When Lair led the last trump from dummy, West was fixed.

The columnists' friend

One of the Canadian Juniors was playing against Eddie Kantar and Billy Miller recently. After a while, the Junior became declarer on a hand and he studied the dummy for some time. He turned to Kantar and said, "I've got one for your Test Your Play." A short time later, he puzzled over another hand. Finally he said, "I think I'll write to Dear Billy about this one."

The following have not yet picked up their door prizes, which are available at the Registration Desk:

World Junior Teams in Fort Lauderdale

Fort Lauderdale FL will be the site of the 1999 World Junior Team Championship in August.

Eighteen Junior teams from around the world --- four ACBL teams plus European representatives Denmark, Norway, Israel and Italy --- will compete

The championship, seventh since the event sponsored by the World Bridge Federation began in 1987, is scheduled for Aug. 9-18 at the Radisson Bahia Mar in Fort Lauderdale. This will be the third championship held on ACBL soil: Ann Arbor MI was the site in 1991 and Hamilton ON was the 1997 site (hosted by the Canadian Bridge Federation).

Teams will play a complete round-robin of 16-board matches to reduce the field to a four-team knockout

Several ACBL members have already donated money and time to help prepare for this tournament. But more money and help is needed. Anyone who is willing to help should contact Jayne Thomas, general chairman, or Charlotte Blaiss of the ACBL who is in charge of the Junior program. Help could consist of volunteering for various jobs, making cash donations or donating gifts that can be distributed to the competitors.

Never satisfied

Hesthaven won the opening club lead with his ace and cashed three top hearts, finding that his left-hand opponent held a control in the suit. Next he cashed the three top spades, learning that his right-hand opponent guarded that suit.

When he cashed out the clubs, RHO had to keep a spade guard while LHO had to hold the ♥J nobody could keep diamonds. Declarer's ♦J won trick 13.

Of course the diamond finesse would have worked, but it's no fun to make a grand slam on a finesse -- that just means you are lucky. A squeeze is a different matter.

Talk about bad luck!

Bill Laubenheimer did all the math necessary and came up with what seemed to be a Spock-like logical answer. But there was one tiny possibility -- and that possibility eventually became a certainty.

(1) East-West play weak notrumps, mandating the club opener

Laubenheimer was virtually sure his side could make the spade slam, and that would be plus 980. But the scoring rules changed a few years ago -- the bonus for making a redoubled contract was changed from 50 to 100 points. West's redouble indicated a good club holding, so making 5♣ redoubled with an overtrick certainly was a likely possibility. What would that score be? Plus 1000! So Laubenheimer decided to go for the redoubled contract instead of the slam.

He won the opening heart lead, crossed to the ♠A and picked up all but one of South's trumps. Then he just cashed winners until South decided to take his only trick with his trump. Plus 1000, just as hoped.

But plus 1000 was worth only 3 matchpoints. Why? Because the pairs who arrived in the spade slam made all 13 tricks for plus 1010 instead of plus 980. All those mathematical computations gone to waste!

Atkinson & Terry Insurance

Atkinson & Terry are major insurance brokers in the Vancouver Lower Mainland. They offer a one-stop shop for both insurance (e.g. personal, commercial, life insurance) and financial services including financial planning (e.g. mutual funds, RRSPs), estate planning, and property transactions (e.g. mortgages). They represent well established, major insurers (e.g. Axa Pacific, Canadian Northern Shield, Commercial Union, Dominion of Canada, Guardian, Royal, Wawanesa, Western Union and Zurich Ltd. and ICBC). The firm actively supports minor sports and other community groups. Sponsorship was arranged by well known local expert Don Sache who is a partner in the firm.

Ecclesiastical Insurance Office

This company, founded in England in 1887, is known primarily as an insurer of churches and other religious institutions. It has operated in Canada since 1972. Tournament Chairman Doug Cowan is a former Provincial Manager and still works for it as a Senior Underwriter.

Camrosa Consulting Ltd.

Camrosa is a small environmental consulting firm owned by Aidan Ballantyne. He specializes in environmental planning and management {e.g. environmental impact assessment, permitting, monitoring, protection planning, etc.) for major linear development projects (especially pipelines and transportation). As a side line, Camrosa also provides contract bridge services including teaching, writing, directing and other professional services.

Cloverdale Elks Lodge No. 335

The Elks Lodge is home to the White Rock DBC. Their sponsorship was arranged by Ted Worsfold who has been a mainstay in local bridge, especially in the Langley area. Ted can hold his own with anyone at the bridge table. He is particularly interested in bringing new players into the game which is why the Elks Lodge has chosen to sponsor some Intermediate/Newcomer games here at the NABC.

Comstat Racing Stables

Comstat is owned by Ted Henriksen, a regular member at the White Rock DBC (his partner is Ted Worsfold). After retiring from the stationery business, Ted decided to get into the horseracing game. Through his firm, Commercial Stationers Company Ltd, he bought several standardbreds for racing at famous Cloverdale Raceway. His company name proved too unwieldy for registering horses so he shortened it to Comstat. He has a few stars in his barn including Shouldabeenacowboy and Popanasset Bay. The latter won just last Saturday. Continued good luck, Ted, both at the track and at the bridge table!.

Great Bridge Links

Great Bridge Links (http://www.cbf.ca/GBL) is a web site dedicated to gathering, sorting and presenting links to "everything that's bridge on the Internet today." The categoried pages of bridge links are often accompanied by related news and information about events or products.

Visitors have the option of joining a mailing list for the monthly GBL Newsletter and are treated to an opening page that is updated weekly and a New Links page that is updated even more often GBL is sponsoring five midnight games at this tournament. Vancouver-based founder Jude Goodwin-Hanson hopes everyone will play at least one midnight game, taking time to enjoy the lighter side of tournament play. She will be on hand Friday, March 25, and Saturday, March 26.

Two offbeat hands

Richard Colker picked up two extremely unusual hands in a row in yesterday's knockout teams. On the first he had 28 high card points. That was followed by a double-void hand -- all majors and no minors. The first was Board 36, the last of a six-board set. Board 25 was the next board played by Colker and his partner Bob Morris.

Colker won the spade lead, cashed the \P A and led the \P Q, losing to the king. He won the spade return and ran all his tricks, losing trick 13 to the \P Q. His teammates defeated \P at the other table, so that was a 13-IMP pickup.

South did his best to make things difficult by leaping to 5♦, but Morris liked his five spades and singleton heart, so he bid 5♠. North tried to buy the hand for 6♦, but Colker leaped to the grand slam, figuring it had to be right if partner could bid 5♠. There was nothing to the play -- Morris ruffed four hearts, setting up dummy. At the other table, Colker's teammates bid 7♠, and the opponents decided to double instead of going on to the grand. This went down only two tricks -- minus 300 -- so Morris and Colker gained 18 more IMPs -- 31 IMPs on just two boards.

Trouble is the match was 24 boards, not two. Despite the gain on these two boards, Colker's team lost the match by 43 IMPs!

Deception

By Barry Rigal

After an uncontested -- if optimistic -- auction to $3\spadesuit$, my left-hand opponent led the $\clubsuit 3$ and this is what I saw:

♣ 10942
♥ 87
♦ A K Q 6
♣ Q J 2
♣ A Q 8 7 5 3
♥ J 5 2
♦ J 9
♣ 10 7

I had shown a weak two-bid in spades with no feature and my opponents had never bid.

My right-hand opponent won the ♣A and shifted to the ♥Q. He then cashed the ♥A and continued with a club to LHO's king. Both opponents followed to a third club.

I led a low spade from dummy and when the ΔJ appeared, I paused for reflection. RHO had shown all the top hearts and the ΔA . Surely with the ΔK J, he would have acted.

Up went the ♠A, down went the contract. This was the full deal (hands rotated for convenience):

A very nice piece of deception, that ♥Q play, by Tom McNie who was playing with Judy Harris.

The Facts: South was declarer in a 4♠ contract. The play to the first nine tricks was as follows (underline indicates card led to the trick):

The declarer then in some way exposed the ♠10 and claimed by stating he would ruff a diamond with dummy's last trump. E/W stated that after playing the ♠10 there was no spade left in the dummy to ruff South's losing diamond. The Director was called and ruled that the ♠10 was a played card (Laws 45 and 85). Since declarer had already lost four tricks, the contract was changed to 4♠ down two, plus 200 for E/W.

The Appeal: N/S appealed the Director's ruling. South stated that he had just pulled the last trump with the ♠K. He knew the diamond was not good and was trying to show his hand for an obvious claim of the last four tricks. South's first response to E/W's challenge to the claim was that he was trumping the diamond. E/W stated that declarer had faced the ♠10 and then made his claim.

The Committee Decision: The Committee believed that South was making what he believed was an obvious claim that included ruffing the diamond. It was likely that he did something with the ♠10 that caused West to react to his claim. However, South's reaction led the Committee to the decision that South had clumsily stated the claim rather than having made an invalid claim. The Committee did not consider that under Law 70A this was a doubtful point that should be resolved against the claimer. The Committee relied on Law 70A to adjudicate the result of the board as equitably as possible to both sides. The contract was changed to 4♠ down one, plus 100 for E/W.

Busker entertainment has included the Late Model Citizens String Quartet (above) with Hugh Ellenwood on fiddle, Michael Caine on bass fiddle, Brad Gillard on banjo and Chris Harris on guitar. Also featured was Lee Jones (below) playing folk music on his Irish flute.

Buskers add to NABC

The Busker Festival -- Expo-style street entertainment ranging from Blue Grass folk music to traditional Inca music -- is proving a big hit at this tournament.

"I think it's great," said Chris Patrias, director in charge. "The last thing players see before they go in to play is the beautiful view and the last thing they hear is the music."

Saturday at noon, the Late Model Citizens String Quartet played Blue Grass folk music outside the playing area in the Vancouver Trade & Convention Centre. The group -- Hugh Ellenwood on fiddle, Michael Caine on bass fiddle, Chris Harris on guitar and Brad Gillard on banjo -- is licensed by the Vancouver Transit System to perform at sky train stations and public markets.

The quartet is part of a Vancouver tradition, brought over from Busker Alley in London. NABC planners wanted "something unique to the Northwest -- something of a Vancouver institution," said Stephen Beaton, secretary of Vancouver's NABC Committee.

Satuday afternoon, Lee Jones played folk music on his Irish flute during the Intermediate/Newcomer reception in the Crystal Ballroom at the Pan Pacific.

Performers scheduled the rest of the week are:

Monday

Noon: Nicholas Mah, classical guitar, in the VTCC lobby.

After the game: Tom Radcliffe, acoustic guitar, folk and pop music. VTCC concourse beside the buffet stations.

Tuesday

Noon: Don Virgo, mime (a man playing a robot, or a robot miming a man?). VTCC lobby.

After the game: Tom Arntzen, paino, classy cabarat-style tunes. VTCC concourse.

Wednesday

After the game: Fred Reisman, violin, foot-tapping fiddle music. VTCC concourse.

Thursday

Noon: Philip Goodwin, alto saxaphone, music with a jazz beat. VTCC lobby.

After the game: Tom Arntzen, piano, classy cabarat-style tunes. VTCC concourse.

Camp Site

The 1999 Junior Bridge Camp is scheduled for July 12-20 just outside of Prague in the Czech Republic. The venue will be the Nymburk Sports Center about 35 miles east of the city.

The World Junior Pairs will precede the camp on July 9-11.

To apply, e-mail or call Charlotte Blaiss at <cblaiss@acbl.org> or (901) 332 5586 ext 214.

Applications will be processed based on date of application, age and dedication to promotion of Junior bridge. Juniors between the ages of 17 and 23 will be given priority for selection.

The ACBL will help subsidize the costs for all ACBL Juniors who are accepted to attend but the amount has not yet been determined. Juniors will be responsible for their own airfare.

Worldwide Bridge Contest canceled

The 14th Worldwide Bridge Contest, scheduled for bridge clubs on June 4 and 5, has been canceled "for technical reasons" by the World Bridge Federation. The ACBL has scheduled two Instant Matchpoint Games as replacements on those two days.

The two ACBL games — Friday evening, June 4, and Saturday afternoon, June 5 --- will be played the same as the annual fall ACBL Instant Matchpoint Game. There will be souvenir booklets of hand analyses, prizes for winners and sectional rating for both games (half red and half black). The sanction fees will be the same as for the fall event.

In an email to ACBL Headquarters, the WBF did not elaborate on the reason for the cancellation but did say there are plans to resume the worldwide game next year, "when it will be played in clubs but using the Internet." No other details were offered.

The WBF event has not had a title sponsor since 1996, when the French telephone company Alcatel underwrote the game.

The worldwide game debuted in 1986 under the sponsorship of Epson computers and is still known today to some players as "the Epson." The game features "instant matchpoints" --- competitors get their scores from special travelers immediately after a board is played --- and worldwide scoring. The worldwide contest added a second day in 1992.

The ACBL Instant Matchpoint Game began in 1987.

Bennett believes bridge sells itself. "If we can get the young people to try the game, they'll love it. The game has so much to offer."

Bennett's advance to Grand Life Master was slow in coming. He won the World Senior Pairs in partnership with Fred Hamilton at the 1994 World Championships in Albuquerque in, but at that time such a victory did not fulfill the ACBL requirement of a major win for Grand Life Master. At their deliberations last week, the Board of Directors rectified this oversight, making any victory in a world championship sufficient to satisfy this Grand Life Master requirement.

Bennett was a hero in his original home country - Scotland when he won the Senior Pairs. He was born in Glasgow in 1932 and moved to the United States in 1959. "I was more of a hero in Scotland than I was in the United States," sad Bennett.

Bennett fondly remembers his bridge-playing days at Oxford. He was captain of the school's bridge team in 1955, and he led his team to victory over arch-rival Cambridge. Alan Truscott, who captained Oxford in 1950, helped to prepare the team for the Cambridge match. "I still treasure the sterling silver ashtray the English Bridge Union gave me for that victory," he said.

He also was a star of the field hockey team for Oxford. He played rugby in high school, but skipped that sport in college because of several concussions.

Bennett has come close to North American championships three times. He finished second in the Men's Teams in 1982, the North American Swiss in 1984 and the Senior Knockout Teams in 1995. At this tournament he is playing with Mike Shuman in the Silver Ribbon, Trudi Nugit in the Mixed Pairs, Louann O'Rourke in the Open Pairs II, and Nugit, Truscott and Ken Barbour in the Swiss Teams. Barbour, incidentally, also was involved in Cambridge-Oxford bridge matches -- he captained the Cambridge team in 1960.

Bennett is the only bridge player in his family. His wife Adrienne does not play, nor do his four daughters -- Allison, Lesley, Hilary and Jennifer.

Dinner at Steamworks -- it sounds delicious!

The first of three dinner outings set up by the Vancouver committee sounds like a blast. It will take place at the Steamworks Brewing Company on Monday evening from 5:00 to 7:30. It's only a short walk from the hotel and it has a distinctive pub atmosphere. We hear that the food is great. The committee has reserved 30 spots, so drop by the Hospitality Desk and pick up your ticket. There's no charge for the ticket -- it's the way that the committee is keeping track of how many have signed up. You'll pay your own bill -- and it won't be expensive. It's located at 375 Water Street. See your Restaurant Guide for additional information.

New Life Masters

Doris Spence of Campbell River BC won her gold card and became a Life Master when she and partner Doe Stockdale earned 17 points during the last three days.

Spencer actually went over in Saturday's Senior Pairs. "I needed only five points," she said, "and we got 11½ in the evening and 2½ in the afternoon."

Doug Mann of Red Deer AB became a Life Master when his team finished third in Strat C in yesterday's Stratified Swiss Teams. His partner was his wife Crystal and their teammates were Raj and Dinesh Agrawal of Calgary AB.

Meredith Beck 13, of Pearland TX wonher first regional event Saturday night when her team won the Team Havoc Knockout Teams Bracket 8. Her partner was mon Sharon and their teammates were Sandy and Richard Jackson. Meredith, who has been playing about three years decided she wanted to learn the game when her parents taught her older brothers Ben and Stefan, toplay. The boys no longer playbut Meredith, a seventh grader, is aiming high. Her next goal is to become the youngest female Life Master.

(1) Majors	5.

(2) Shows four spades and five clubs. "That's what I thought he (Seamon) had," said Passell, "and he did."

East-West cashed two rounds of hearts and Seamon ruffed the third round. He played a diamond to dummy's queen and cashed the ace. Next he led a club to his ace and a club toward dummy. West fell from grace, ducking his king, and Seamon won dummy's jack.

Seamon conceded two spade tricks and claimed nine tricks for plus 140 -- and all the matchpoints.

Free Cuban cigars

Bridge players who are also cigar smokers are invited to La Casa del Habano Thursday for free Cuban cigars and a photo session.

La Casa del Habano is located at 900 Robson Street. Players are invited for 11:30 a.m. Pictures will be submitted to Cigar Afficionado, a national magazine for cigar smokers.

- Complete history. The web site will show your complete masterpoint history back to 1989 with the most recent information first.
- Point colors. You'll see the number of points you hold by pigment.
- Event and rating codes. Each point award will be coded so you can tell what type of event you earned the points in.
 - Printout capability.
- Additional detail to come. In phase two (due to be on line by the end of the year), we expect to be able to show the geographical location, the tournament or clubs, the points required by pigment to make Life Master, and more.

For those of you who do not track your points that closely, we will continue to send point confirmations with The Bridge Bulletin as in the past.

Comments and suggestions about the new service are welcome.
