Whipple team wins Mini-Spingold 1

Winners of the Mini-Spingold I Knockout Teams: Kevin Dwyer, David Grainger, Jay Whipple, Owen Lien and Jon Rice.

The squad led by Jay Whipple topped McKenzie Myers's team in the final of the Mini-Spingold I (0-5000) Knockout Teams, 140-75. Playing with Whipple of Boca Grande FL were Kevin Dwyer of Ft. Myers FL, David Grainger of Etobicoke ON, Owen Lien of Hickory NC and Jon Rice of Raleigh NC.

Whipple trailed after the first quarter, but took control of the match in the second set and never looked back.

Cayne leads Open Swiss

The team led by James Cayne of New York won the qualifying round of the Open Swiss Teams by a comfortable margin. Cayne, playing with Michael Seamon, Alfredo Versace, Lorenzo Lauria, Kryzystof Jassem and Kryzystof Martens finished with 139 Victory Points after two sessions.

Tied at 115 VPs are the squads captained by David Lindop and Jeffrey Miller.

Ninety-two teams qualified for today's twosession final. Grainger and Rice were members of the winning squad in the 2008 Mini-Spingold I, but it was the first win for the others on the squad. Dwyer and Lien are Junior players who will represent the U.S. at the upcoming world Junior championships in Turkey.

Playing with McKenzie of Portland OR were Garth Yettick, Peggy Ware and Spencer Jones of Denver CO and Michael Sherman of Chickamauga GA.

Attendance through Saturday evening: 13,439 Tables

As we thunder down the home stretch and the finish line comes into view, we are filled with a sense of gratitude. Gratitude to all the players who came out in greater-than-expected numbers to support our tournament and play this fascinating, but frustrating game. Gratitude to the wonderful staff from Memphis who play such a critical role from the planning to the execution of the tournament. Led by Jeff Johnston and his assistant Wendy Sullivan, they are superb. Gratitude to the directors, caddies and others who work so hard day after day. Gratitude to the Marriott staff for their attention to our concerns and suggestions. And most of all, gratitude to all the volunteers who have worked so hard and cheerfully to make this tournament a success.

From the committee chairs down to the person who dropped by the desk to help out for a few hours: thank you, thank you, thank you.

Jansma, Meltzer in Spingold final

Memories of the Bridge Player in Chief

By Karen Walker

This year marks the anniversaries of two major events in the life of a man who is held in special esteem by bridge players. One is the 65th anniversary of D-Day, the Allied invasion of Normandy that marked the beginning of the end of World War II. The other is the death, 40 years ago, of the invasion's Supreme Commander, Dwight David Eisenhower.

The main architect of Operation Overlord, Eisenhower was under incredible stress in the weeks leading up to June 6, 1944. He was drinking 24 cups of coffee and smoking six packs of cigarettes a day and rarely had more than two hours of uninterrupted sleep each night. He was also squeezing in bridge games at every opportunity. It was just one demonstration of the lifelong devotion to the game that has made him the unofficial "patron President" of bridge players.

Ike learned to play in 1913 at West Point and indulged his passion as he moved up the military ranks. He was dubbed the "bridge wizard of

A farewell from the President

As we come to the close of another very successful summer NABC, I feel very fortunate in belonging to an organization that truly does a lot of things very, very well. The Washington-area volunteers, under the leadership of Margot Hennings, Tournament Chair, and her Assistant Tournament Chair Fred King, were exceptional. Their hospitality and help were tremendous!

The ACBL staff present, including but not limited to, the directors, the meeting planners, the seminar and reception coordinators and those responsible for providing our Daily Bulletins helped make this another first-class bridge tournament.

The Bridge University program managed by Ron and Mary Ann Kral was hugely successful, and I hope we can clone it for use elsewhere.

The Youth NABC under the direction of Co-Chairs Patty Tucker and Suzanne Abrams was a tremendous success.

The Fast and the Furious

Peggy Kaplan and Dick Bruno won the NABC Fast Pairs, which ended Friday, by more than a full board. The contest requires that each two-board round be played in 11 minutes.

In the second qualifying session, Kaplan and Bruno got to a grand slam on this deal (rotated), but the ticking clock played a role in their arrival on the seven level:

(1) Diamond shortness, club fit.

At the point in the auction when Kaplan bid 4, the director announced that there was one minute left in the round. Bruno simply jumped to the grand, but later said, "I would have been more scientific, but I was in a hurry!"

The opening diamond lead went to the queen and ace. Declarer ruffed a diamond high, drew trumps (noting the 4-1 break) and cashed the two top diamonds. The A and a spade to the queen allowed the spades to be picked up, but even if East had started with the AJ 10 x x, he would have squeezed in the majors.

Plus 2140 was worth 21 out of 25 matchpoints.

(1) Game-forcing spade raise.

Opening the South hand would not be everyone's cup of tea, but after the conventional raise, Bruno decided to treat the hand as a balanced minimum, and settle for the simple 4, even though he had artificial methods available to show the club shortness.

West led a low club, and declarer won dummy's ace. A low diamond was ducked by West, as declarer won in hand. This turned out to be disastrous for the defense, however, as the layout allows declarer to pick up the rest of the tricks. A trump to the queen followed by the ace of trumps took care of the spades; when the  $\mathbf{v}Q$ was covered by the king and ace, declarer could pitch a diamond on the fourth round of hearts.

Making seven on a rather lucky lie of the cards for plus 710 and 59.5 out of 64 matchpoints. Why was this so good? Many South players passed initially, allowing North to open with a strong 1NT. This made the South hand dummy in  $4 \bigstar$  at many tables, and no East player ducked the  $\bigstar$ A, because they could see the  $\bigstar$ K Q J on the board.

Ken Monzingo put on a well-received tournament manager seminar.

Thanks to the Wardman Park Marriott for all they've done to help us run a successful tournament. The above is only part of what went into putting this tournament on, and I apologize to anyone I've missed.

Last, but not least, thanks to all of you players who have come to participate in and support this NABC. Without you, we don't hold tournaments! Congratulations on your successes at the table! Thanks, Washington. We will be back!

Opening leads By Leslie Shafer

Studmuffin has often remarked that opening leads tend to be more art than science. Here are a few thoughts on the subject.

1. Leading partner's suit. This is said to be the best opening lead ever. But I must point out a misleading statement repeated by students everywhere: "If you're going to lead my suit, lead the top." This is only true if you have touching honors or a doubleton in partner's suit. With K-8-5-3 or even K-8-3, lead low (fourth best or low from an honor). Leading the king would promise a doubleton or top of touching (K-Q ...). Take a look at this example:

	Dummy
	97
You		Partner
K 8 5		A J 10 6 2
	Declarer
	Q 4 3

If you lead the king and then lead to partner's ace, all you have done is set up the declarer's queen. What if you followed correct protocol and led low (the 5)? Partner would go up with his ace and return the jack, which traps the declarer's queen under your king. Declarer gets no tricks in partner's suit.

2. Try not to lead a suit the opponents have bid naturally. Leading an unbid suit is considered passive and usually doesn't do much harm. Leading a suit that the opponents have bid is rarely beneficial. What if you have a doubleton in their suit? It rarely pays to lead a doubleton unless it's your partner's bid suit. You would need some kind of trump control (like three to the ace) and a good possibility that your partner can get in the lead for it to pay off. If I do lead the opponent's bid suit, it's either a singleton (hoping to get some ruffs) or I have a magnificent holding such as K-Q-J-10.

3. Top of touching vs. fourth-best leads. When leading top of touching, you need two touching against suit contracts. However, against notrump contracts you're supposed to have three touching (including broken sequences such as K-Q-10, which we treat as K-Q-J). Leading fourth best usually indicates a lack of touching cards in that suit.

4. Leading singletons. When leading singletons, it is your hope that partner will get in the lead sometime soon in order to give you a ruff. However, what if I said the opponents were playing 4 A and you are looking at 15 points. If you assume the opponents have around 25 points, what's left for your partner? Nothing. Your partner is broke and it is safe to assume he will never gain the lead. Leading a singleton when your partner has very few HCP is useless. It's always a good thing to try to place the points around the table before your opening lead.

5. Trump leads. There is another saying floating around the suburbs: "When in doubt, lead a trump." It should be: "When it's right, lead a trump."

Good times to lead trump: 1) When the opponents have had a preference auction, where the declarer is saying, "Pass me here or take me back to my first suit." 2) When your partner passed your takeout double, which converted it to a penalty double. Partner has named their suit as his trump suit. 3) When you have honors in your RHO's first bid suit and they ended up in a different suit. Declarer will be ruffing his first suit in the dummy. When you hear in the auction that the dummy has ruffing power, a trump lead can work out very well for you.

Bad times to lead trump: 1) When you have a singleton trump. Partner probably has some and others as slam tries! What does this tell you? It tells you that you and your partner must discuss your methods for responding to 1NT with long minors.

length, and you're just helping declarer pick up partner's holding. 2) When dummy has shown a powerful side suit, your trump lead will just help the declarer to pull trumps so that he can run dummy's long side suit.

There is so much more to opening leads than we have discussed here. Experts have written complete books on opening leads. One thing I can tell you is that while opening leads seem to be blind, they are never deaf. Ask for a review of the auction before you make the opening lead. First choose the suit, then choose which card to lead from that suit.

length in diamonds for the queen. For example, if the opponents were playing a 16-18 point notrump range, you couldn't be sure who had the ♦Q. However, the count would tell you that East started with four diamonds and West three. The odds are now 4-3 that East has the  $\diamond Q$ .

Bidding commentary: There are several ways to sign off in a minor after partner opens 1NT. East-West were using jumps to 3♣ and 3♦ as signoffs. Others use the jumps as invitational

Defensive commentary: West starts with three high spades, East discarding the AQ, showing a sequence in clubs headed by the queen. West plays a fourth spade to kill dummy's established jack, and South overtrumps when East ruffs.

Play commentary: As declarer, the key card to find is the  $\diamond Q$ , and there is no rush to play diamonds. As much information as possible (points and distribution) should be gleaned from the other suits before attacking diamonds, a suit that can be finessed in either direction.

South drives out the  $\mathbf{V}A$ . West wins and exits safely with a club to your ace. After drawing trumps, you have the following information at your disposal: West started with 9 high-card points in spades, 4 in hearts and the \*K (based on East's discard of the AQ for a total of 16 HCP. That's enough. If West had the  $\blacklozenge Q$ , he would have 18 HCP and would have been too strong to open 1NT.

Play East for the  $\blacklozenge$ Q. Had the HCP count been inconclusive (either player could hold the  $\diamond$  Q), try to work out the distribution, eventually playing the opponent with the greater original

I was playing with Subba Ravipudi.

The opening club lead was won by East. The suit-preference  $\clubsuit$ 9 was returned for a ruff, and West cashed the  $\blacklozenge$ A before exiting with a spade to dummy's king.

I now played the  $\forall J$  from dummy, and East was caught asleep as he covered with the queen. When West showed out on this trick, it was a simple matter to pick up the trump suit.

East should know from the auction and from the four trumps he can see in dummy that West started with a singleton trump. When I played the  $\blacklozenge$ J from dummy, therefore, East should duck smoothly, hoping that declarer goes wrong by playing high from the closed hand. I'm not sure if I would have gotten it right . . .

Tournament Disciplinary Committee decision

After the Friday, July 31 round in the Spingold, the NABC tournament Disciplinary Committee heard charges against Matt Granovetter-Ron Rubin and Walid Elahmady-Tarek Sadek for violation of the Laws of Duplicate Contract Bridge and ACBL Regulations due to a very late finish in the second quarter of the their quarterfinal match.

The committee found Matt Granovetter-Ron Rubin responsible for the delay and placed them on 30-day probation, effective immediately. No discipline was imposed on Walid Elahmady-Tarek Sadek.

Convention card notice

Each player must have an ACBL convention card filled out and on the table. Please note that other types of convention cards, such as the WBF convention card or homemade cards that do not sufficiently resemble the ACBL convention card, are not acceptable substitutes.

Meltzer (Kyle Larsen, Alan Sontag, Tor Helness, David Berkowitz and Larry Cohen) had a tight match with the No. 1 seed, Carolyn Lynch, but prevailed 115-103. Lynch was playing with Mike Passell, Adam Zmudzinski, Andrew Gromov, Aleksander Dubinin.

Jansma, originally seeded No. 15, started out strong against Diamond, the No. 11 seed, winning the first quarter 49-15. Diamond, who reached the final of the Vanderbilt Knockout Teams in Houston earlier in the year, narrowed the gap to 12 IMPs at the halfway point, but could not break through, losing the third quarter 45-14.

No. 1 Lynch won the low-scoring first quarter against Meltzer, but the No. 4 seed took the second set 51-28 to lead by 19. Lynch made up 7 IMPs in the third set but could do no better than a 28-28 tie in the final set.

Jack wins Computer-Bridge World Championship By AI Levy

The 13th World Computer-Bridge Championship ended on Friday, with Jack (the Netherlands) regaining the title by defeating Wbridge5 (France), the winner in the two previous championships. The final score was 108-94.

In the semifinal round, Jack defeated Micro Bridge (Japan) 126-123 with a 9-IMP gain on the last board.

If Wbridge5 had made  $5 \blacklozenge$  on this deal, the penultimate board, the final match would have been tied.

Player in Chief

Manila" while he was stationed in the Philippines, where he played regularly with President Manuel Quezon.

During WWII, an unwritten qualification for service on Eisenhower's staff was an officer's ability to play a decent game of bridge. His favorite partner was General Alfred Gruenther, regarded as the best bridge player in the U.S. Army, and they both took the game seriously. After one particularly disastrous result, they discussed the play of the hand in an exchange of letters that went on for two years.

Ike's bridge partnership with Gruenther had an impact on world history. After WWII, Eisenhower became president of Columbia University, an undemanding job that allowed him to spend every afternoon at his Manhattan bridge club. One day in 1948, he was called from the table to take a telephone call from President Harry Truman, who asked him to take the position as commander of NATO forces in Europe. When he returned to the game, he told his bridge companions about the offer.

"Who will you take as your Number Two man?" they asked. "Well, I ought to take Bedell Smith," replied Ike. "But I think I'll take Gruenther because he's the better bridge player." Gruenther later became the head of NATO when Eisenhower returned to the U.S. to run for President.

During his two terms as the 34th U.S. President, Eisenhower held regular Saturday-night games at the White House. The games were serious competitions, as Ike considered it a "sacrilege" to play bridge with anything less than total concentration. He was calm and thoughtful during the auction, but could become quite animated during the play of the hand. An old bridge friend described Ike's gusto when taking the setting trick: "The card rises vertically in the President's hand, then describes a 90-degree arc. It hits the table with a thump, upsetting ash trays and opponents."

Mamie Eisenhower loved the game, too. She and Ike rarely played together because he yelled at her when she made mistakes, but bridge was always the featured entertainment at her parties. When someone suggested that she invite Vice-President Nixon and his wife Pat to one of the weekend parties at the Eisenhowers' Gettysburg farm, Mamie rejected the idea. "What on earth would we talk about?" said Mamie. "She doesn't play bridge!"

How good a player was Ike? He wasn't an expert by today's standards, but bridge great Ely Culbertson described his game as "classic, sound, with flashes of brilliance." Oswald Jacoby, his frequent partner in the White House games, said, "The President plays better bridge than golf. He tries to break 90 at golf. At bridge, you would say The deal was played in 1953 in a White House game. Eisenhower's partner was bridge expert Oswald Jacoby, and their opponents were U.S. Chief Justice Fred Vinson and Air Force Secretary Harold Talbott.

The auction was straightforward, with Ike choosing a strong jump-shift response, then using Blackwood. The opening lead was the  $\diamond 3$  to East's ace. Eisenhower saw that he could avoid the club finesse if he could set up an extra heart trick. He also noted that there could be problems with dummy entries if the trumps broke poorly, so he thoughtfully unblocked his  $\diamond K$  under the ace.

East shifted to the  $\bigstar J$ , but Ike knew that setting up three heart tricks was a better bet than the club finesse, so he won his  $\bigstar A$ . After drawing trumps, he used dummy's diamond honors as entries to ruff two hearts in his hand and then discard his  $\bigstar Q$  on the established  $\forall J$ .

Eisenhower's aggressive nature took center stage in this sensational deal, reported by Dorothy Hayden Truscott in the New York Times Bridge Book. It was played in Palm Springs CA after Ike left the White House. His partner was Alfred Gruenther and their opponents were two noted industrialists who had far more money than bidding sense.

1 ▲ is probably the "correct" bid with the East hand, but the style in the Sixties was to redouble with any 10 or more high-card points, and it worked spectacularly here. Ike was always looking for opportunities to act as the "ax holder over an injudicious bidder," as one partner described him, and he took full advantage of this penalty situation, despite his bare minimum opener. South, who had obviously seen his partner's off-shape takeout doubles before, was afraid to bid any suit and did not understand the foolish redouble, which was intended as SOS.

Ike led the  $\blacklozenge 6$ , which should have allowed declarer to escape for down four. However, the desperate South played low from dummy in the hope the lead was from the  $\blacklozenge J$  10. Gruenther won the  $\blacklozenge 10$  and shifted to a low spade. Ike cashed his two spades and exited with a club, ducked in dummy. Gruenther won the &K and cashed his four spade tricks, which squeezed dummy down to  $\forall$ KJiKQ and iA. Gruenther led a diamond to Ike's ace, and now a heart through dummy's unguarded ♥K J gave the defense three tricks in that suit. Declarer scored dummy's A at the end for down six, redoubled and vulnerable. It was the biggest thrill of Ike's long bridge career, which he pursued until his death a few years later on March 28, 1969. Collecting 3400 points on a bridge deal isn't in the same league as launching a successful military invasion, but for a man who loved the game almost as much as he loved his country, that bridge hand was surely a memory that rivaled those of his D-Day victory.

Bridge in the White House

By Karen Walker

Dwight Eisenhower wasn't the only U.S. President who was a fan of bridge, especially during the 20th century. The game was so popular from the 1920s through the 1960s that it's likely all the Presidents during that time knew how to play.

One of the most avid was Warren Harding. Stressed by looming scandals in his administration, he insisted played on playing bridge non-stop on a 1923 boat tour to Alaska, one month before his death. The game would begin after breakfast and sometimes last until midnight, with Harding taking breaks only for previously scheduled public appearances.

There were just three other bridge players on board, and all were pressed into service. One was Vice-President Herbert Hoover, who later said, "For some reason, I developed a distaste for bridge on this journey and never played it again."

Harry Truman was a card player, but his obsession was poker (he had a private entrance to the Shoreham Hotel for late-night games with a group of Senators). There were many bridge parties at the White House during his tenure, all hosted by First Lady Bess Truman, who was passionate about the game.

Lyndon Johnson didn't play cards, but his wife and daughter, Lady Bird and Lynda Bird, enjoyed bridge immensely. At least a few Johnson staffers got their jobs because they knew how to play and could join the women's White House games.

Bill Clinton played in college, then gave up the game when he became busy with his career. He said Hillary was the card player in the White House. She and all the members of the Rodham family played bridge.

The Bushes are also a bridge-playing family, although George H.W. Bush, now 85, claims the last time he played was in 1950. His son, George W. Bush, is especially fond of the game. During his White House years, he could often persuade Laura Bush and Condoleezza Rice to play, but no other staffers knew how to, so they seldom had a readily available fourth.

There are no reports that Barack Obama knows any more about bridge than he does about bowling. His late grandmother, Madelyn Payne Dunham, was an avid duplicate bridge player, but Obama says bridge was not among the many skills he learned from her.

Monitoring

At this and future North American Championships, ACBL will be monitoring NABC+ events with visible, real-time cameras. The images will be recorded and will be available for later official inspection and review.

By general monitoring of the session and participants' behavior, ACBL has another source of information that may be useful in determining facts and settling issues arising from some types of ethical and behavioral complaints or actions. Please summon a director if a problem occurs at the table.

Bid Box Alerts and Announcements

When using bid boxes, ACBL suggests that players tap the Alert strip and say "Alert" at the same time.

When making an announcement, use the announcement word — such as "transfer" — and tap the Alert strip at the same time.

A player who Alerts or announces a bid should make sure his opponents are aware that an Alert or announcement has been made.

The NABC Insider 10

On behalf of the Supreme C and Boss Baum, the Insider thanks everyone who played at the 2009 Washington NABC. The table count is going to end up very close to the one from the 2002 Washington NABC - quite an accomplishment all things considered. As at every NABC, there were more things happening behind the scenes than the Insider could ever hope to share. And, of course, common decency and libel laws prohibit reporting of most of them. The Insider hopes he was able to provide you some Inside information, a different perspective on the news of the day, and a better understanding of his daily pain in dealing with the Supreme C.

The Insider is counting on you to check the infrequent Insider blog entries on the ACBL web page. The Insider will share what he knows about the Fall NABC in San Diego as you put together your plans to attend our Fall Extravaganza of bridge, turkey, perfect weather, a wonderful hotel and more bridge. If you can't make it to San Diego, start making plans for the 2010 NABCs: Spring in Reno, Summer in New Orleans and Fall in Orlando. 2010 promises more great cities, more great NABCs and more great (along with some not-so-great) bridge. The Insider promises to be there. Ask me Girl is booking her flight this week. The Supreme C will be in the 42nd floor executive suite. Boss Baum will be there. The Bulletin Boys have already approved one more run for the Insider. Bonnie and Clyde have the local committees cranked up. Don't be left out: Make your reservations for San Diego as soon as you get home. See you there!

Mixed signals on both sides

This comical deal from the second qualifying session of the Wernher Open Pairs shows how players can go astray only to be rescued by their opponents. North and South were Bob Heitzman and Mark Aquino.

queen held the trick.

A club to the jack won, and Dovell played a heart to the king, East playing the 10. A second club was taken by East with the ace, and the  $\blacklozenge 6$ went to the 7 and the 8, dummy pitching the  $\bigstar 4$ .

Inferring declarer's weakness in spades, West shifted to the ♠K, taken by the ace, East following with the 5.

A club to the king was followed by the  $\forall A$ , East playing the jack. Declarer then cashed the ♦ A, pitching a heart from dummy. Dovell played a heart to the king, East discarding the  $\blacktriangle$ 8. Dovell then played dummy's last club, putting East in. East was forced to concede a trick to dummy's AJ at the end. It was a win on the board because 3NT went down at the other table.

Pass 6NT (!) All Pass

West's 2♥ opener was a bit timid, and the auction was made easier when East declined to raise. Aquino had an easy takeout double in the balancing seat. After Heitzman jumped to 3A, Aquino wasn't sure how to continue, so he marked time with a cuebid of  $4 \mathbf{v}$ . Heitzman signed off in  $4 \bigstar$ , and Aquino bid 4NT to check on key cards.

Heitzman thought 4NT directly would have been Blackwood, so he interpreted 4NT as "something else," finally deciding to bid 6NT.

As you can see, East-West can take the first seven tricks against 6NT, but they apparently got fouled up on their signals because after West led the  $\mathbf{v}$ A, he switched to a diamond. On the run of the diamonds and spades, East was squeezed in hearts and clubs, allowing Aquino to get home with 12 tricks and an absolute top.

Life Master news

Jean Phillips became a Life Master while playing in the Thursday-Friday Compact KO with her son, Sam Phillips. Their teammates were Lowell Phillips and Carol Ann Mumma.

Eileen Bickel-Thomas of Chadds Ford PA needed .68 gold points to become a Life Master. Playing in the Daylight Open Pairs on Saturday, she and Jack Waller of Ridgecrest CA earned 1.97 gold, more than enough to put her over.

Convention card reminder

Each player is required to have a convention card filled out legibly and on the table throughout a session. Both cards of a partnership must be identical and include the first and last names of each member of the partnership.

If a director determines that neither player has a substantially completed card, the partnership may play only the ACBL Yellow Card and may use only standard carding. This restriction may be lifted only at the beginning of a subsequent round after convention cards have been properly prepared and approved by the director. Further, the partnership will receive a 1/6 board matchpoint penalty for each board played, commencing with the next round and continuing until the restriction is lifted. In IMP team games, penalties shall be at the discretion of the director.

If the director determines the partnership has at least one substantially completed convention card but has not fully complied with ACBL regulations, the director may give warnings or assign such penalties as he deems to be appropriate under the circumstances.

The objective of these warnings and penalties is the encouragement of full compliance with ACBL regulations.

Don't ask silly questions

On this deal from the qualifying round of the Open Swiss Teams, Roald Ramer and Michal Kwiecien (who won the von Zedtwitz Life Master Pairs earlier this week), played in a simple 1NT contract. Declarer, Ramer, got some help from the defenders in the form of revealing questions as the opening lead was made:

Dlr: North	▲ A 5 3
Vul: None	♥ J 7 5 2
	♦ A K 3 2
	♣ Q 9
▲ 10 8 6 4		🔺 K J 9
♥ A 3		♥ K 10 9 6
♦ 5 4		♦ Q J 10 6
• A J 5 4 2		* 10 8
	▲ Q 7 2
	♥ Q 8 4
	♦ 987
	🜲 K 7 6 3

After a 1 ♦ opening by North (Kwiecien), South (Ramer) bid 1NT, using natural methods.

West, before making the opening lead, asked several questions about declarer's expected majorsuit length. After leading face down, East quizzed declarer about the expected diamond length in dummy. Ramer kept both of these questions in mind as play preceded. The opening lead was the 4 (fourth best). Dummy's 9 was covered by the 10 and king. A low heart to the jack was next, West ducking after a hitch, East winning the king. The +8 was returned, covered by the king and ace, and West continued with the &J, East and dummy pitching diamonds. Another club went to declarer's 7, East and dummy pitching spades. Based on the play (and the questions), declarer was fairly sure that West was 4=2=2=5 and East 3=4=4=2. Ramer, suspecting that West held the doubleton ♥A originally, played another low heart as West won the ace perforce and cashed the long club. This had the effect, however, of squeezing East in three suits. East pitched the AJ. On West's spade exit, Ramer went up with dummy's ace, dropping East's now-bare king, and played a spade to the queen, repeating the squeeze on East, who eventually let go of a diamond. Ramer made an overtrick, scoring two spades, one heart, three diamonds and two clubs. At the other table, South went down two in 1NT.
