199er winners Roy Robson and Ken Marshall.

Two longtime friends who have been playing bridge only about 18 months put together two solid sessions to win the National 199er Pairs by half a board. The winners are Roy (Tony) Robson of Arlington VA and Ken Marshall of Winchester

They scored 64.58% in the first of the event's two sessions, then followed with 61.01% in the second to finish with a score of 208, just ahead of the 204.5 posted by runners-up Nick Trobovic of Belmar NJ and Richard Malus of Leonardo NJ. Top on a board was 7.

Both were bridge players decades ago, but they quit playing until recently.

Marshall is a retired farmer, Robson a retired academic (he taught linguistics at the University of Wisconsin).

They met 20 years ago at the Eastern Market in the Washington DC area, where farmers take their produce to sell. Said Robson of his partner, "He produced the best tomatoes and apples you've

Four teams remain in Mini-Spin I

Today's semifinal matchups in the Mini-Spingold I (0-5000) Knockout Teams feature contests between the squads led by Lorraine Cable and McKenzie Myers in one bracket, and Jay Whipple and Roger Johnson in the other.

Cable easily dispatched John Klayman's team in yesterday's match, 164-72 in three quarters. Myers had an extremely close match against Morrie Kleinplatz's squad, until the last set, which Myers won handily. In the other quarterfinal

Gary Mallett of New Martinsville WV earned his gold card as a member of the winning team in the Monday-Tuesday Bracketed KO. His partner was his wife, Sally Mallett, and their teammates were Brett Orban of Martins Ferry OH and Tom Danford of Bellaire OH. On Saturday, the team reported that they had won another KO, putting Sally over the top and making her a Life Master. Neither player needed gold points.

Positive thinking

By Leslie Shafer

One of my favorite quotes is from Henry Ford: If you think you can or can't, you're right. The power of positive thinking is crucial in any form of bridge. Here are a few times when a good attitude is important.

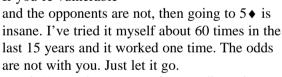

- 1) Your side won the auction, but the opponents have doubled you for penalties! If you think you're going down, you're right. You should adopt an attitude of, "Wow! If I make this, our plus score will be enormous, for sure a top board!"
- 2) You've just suffered a terrible result on the first board of the session. You probably got a zero; but if you continue to fret over it, you will blow the next four boards as well, totaling five zeros. It would be a good idea to put the first board out of your mind and start fresh, with a positive attitude. I believe this is one of my best achievements, to be able to totally erase previous deals or results from my mind. My husband, aka Studmuffin, once asked me about a board we played on the prior round, and I couldn/t for the life of me remember it. I was elated, although my husband didn't seem as impressed as I was with this ability. It has taken some time, but he now sees it as one of my strongest bridge skills. Kind of ironic, isn't it? As students we fret over trying to remember everything, then discover we must try to forget things.
- 3) Does your contract rest on a finesse or an unlikely split in a certain suit? Sitting there and agonizing over it for three minutes will not change the outcome. If the cards lie in an unfriendly manner, then your expert friend won/t make it either. Mentally visualize how you need the missing cards to be situated, then play it as if it were true. Some days I feel I'm psychic when it actually works.
- 4) When to be aggressive (or insane) vs. playing conservatively.
 - a) You/ve just gotten four top boards in the last two rounds.

Tighten up, be conservative, and don/t give any of those beautiful gifts back to the enemy.

- b) You're in the wrong contract (3NT) and missed your 4. game. The pairs in 4. will score 420 and your 3NT is only worth 400. In a pairs event, you'd better find an overtrick somewhere (even if it puts your contract in jeopardy) because you're about to get a zero anyway. In a team game (knockout or Swiss) play to make your contract. The difference in the contract score is negligible, only one IMP and no big deal.
- c) Your side has been preempting in diamonds but the opponents get to 4 anyway. You're thinking of sacrificing should you go for it? Consider the vulnerability and do the math: If you're not vulnerable and they are, you could go down three, doubled, and still show a profit. If you're vulnerable

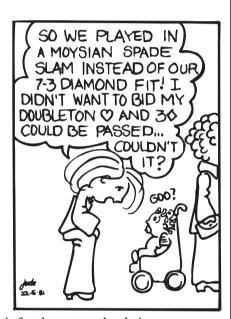

d) You and partner are intermediate players and you recognize the pair coming to your table as newcomers. Do not even think about psyching or making overly aggressive preempts against them. You would possibly be handing them their only top board of the night. You have them beat already in bidding, play and defensive skills. Sit back and wait for them to make their own mistakes so you can reap the benefits.

Opening lead: ♠J.

Bidding commentary: Responder should not think twice about responding $1 \lor \text{ or } 1 \blacktriangle$ to an opening bid with 5 HCP and a five-card major. Do it! However, after the $1 \lor \text{ response}$, South shouldn't give any real thought to bidding 4♥. The North hand counts to 17 support points (forget the ♣J). South has 15 HCP plus one support point for each doubleton. The jump raises promises 16-18 support points, so South is on target. East, a passed hand, has a perfect takeout double if South opens 1♥, but can't come in intelligently over the 1♦ bid. A double is out of the question with a singleton in an unbid major, and overcalling on a crummy fourcard suit is also off the wall.

Defensive commentary: After East cashes two spades, he shifts to a low club rather than the ace. After all, declarer may have the king and misguess by playing low, thus losing two club tricks. As it happens, West has the king and returns the $3 (original fourth best, showing four clubs) to East's ace, and East gets out with a club to South 's queen. South must have the queen as West won trick three with $K, denying the queen. Defenders take tricks with the lower or lowest equal.

Play commentary: South has to find the ♥Q holding nine trumps between the two hands. We've come too far to play by nursery rhymes. East, a passed hand, has turned up with the ♠A Q plus the ♣A for a total of 10 HCP. Most players open 12 point hands these days, so it is odds on that West has the Ψ Q. South does best to cash the Ψ K and lead a heart to the jack.

They were second in the National 199er Pairs (see story on page 1): Nick Trobovic and Richard Malus.

Sight for sore eyes

An older man got off the escalator at the Marriott the other day and approached the hotel's convention manager, a petite woman.

"I just played in an event named for you," the man said. "That's not possible," she said.

"Well," continued the man, "I just played in the compact knockout – and you are a compact knockout!"

Star in the making

Bud Hampshire was excited to report that he and his 15-year-old grandson, Logan West, were playing in the Tuesday-Wednesday knockout teams. Logan had fewer than 50 masterpoints at the start of the NABC and has won several gold points and stood to earn 17 gold if the team was successful Wednesday night. They were playing with Don and Lorrianne Jarboe of Fort Walton Beach FL.

Eager to assist

A member of the Daily Bulletin staff was wandering around in the Intermediate/Newcomer game when a player flagged him down with a request.

"My partner is in the restroom," she said. "Would you sort her cards so we don't delay the game?"

"Certainly," said Mr. Helpful.

One of the opponents frowned and said to Mr. H in a suspicious voice: "How many masterpoints do you have?"

The third degree

Benito Garozzo is a legendary bridge player, one of the key members of the Italian Blue Team that won so many world championships. Garozzo, now a resident of Florida and a naturalized U.S. citizen, has 13 world championships to his credit.

After his team won the Truscott/USPC Senior Swiss Teams, Garozzo was asked what he thinks of the current edition of the Italian team, reigning Bermuda Bowl champions and frequent competitors in ACBL tournaments.

"They are friends of mine," Garozzo said, "and they are very good players."

Would the old Blue Team beat the current Italian champions?

"It's different systems, different time," Garozzo said, hedging.

Pressed further about whether his best team would take the current Italian stars, Garozzo gave in: "Well, probably. . ."

Convention card reminder

Each player is required to have a convention card filled out legibly and on the table throughout a session. Both cards of a partnership must be identical and include the first and last names of each member of the partnership.

If a director determines that neither player has a substantially completed card, the partnership may play only the ACBL Yellow Card and may use only standard carding. This restriction may be lifted only at the beginning of a subsequent round after convention cards have been properly prepared and approved by the director. Further, the partnership will receive a 1/6 board matchpoint penalty for each board played, commencing with the next round and continuing until the restriction is lifted. In IMP team games, penalties shall be at the discretion of the director.

If the director determines the partnership has at least one substantially completed convention card but has not fully complied with ACBL regulations, the director may give warnings or assign such penalties as he deems to be appropriate under the circumstances.

The objective of these warnings and penalties is the encouragement of full compliance with ACBL regulations.

TOURNAMENT APPEALS

In order to keep the bridge public informed of appeals results in a timely fashion, the NABC Daily Bulletin staff publishes write-ups. Every effort is made to ensure that these reports are accurate and complete. However, before they are published in the NABC Appeals Casebook revisions may be made.

(1) Alerted.

Final contract: 1NT doubled by North.

Opening lead: ♦ Q.

Table result: Down four, N-S minus 800. Director ruling: 1NT by North down four, N-S minus 200.

Committee ruling: 1NT by North down four, N-S minus 200; 1/8-board penalty to E-W.

The Facts: The director was called after the play.

1. which could be short, was Alerted. The explanation of the Alert seemed somewhat confusing to East. After the Alert, East asked some questions about the bid. After South's initial explanation, East asked a few more questions, then looked at the N-S convention card before

The Ruling: The director judged that the questioning made UI available to West. Since a pass by West was determined to be a logical alternative to doubling, which was suggested by the questioning, in accordance with Laws 16 and 12 the director adjusted the result to 1NT by North down four, N-S minus 200 for both pairs.

The Appeal: E/W appealed the director's ruling. Only North and West attended the hearing.

East asked a total of five questions due to South's confusing initial responses. Both sides agreed that the questioning took the form of:

- Q. What's the Alert? A. Could be short.
- Q. What kinds of hands? A. Five-card Majors (unclear due to South's accent).
- Q. It can contain a 5-card major? A. We play five-card majors.
- Q. What kinds of hands would be short clubs? A. Those with a bad diamond suit.
- Q. Could you clarify? A. It could be 4-2 in the minors since we need a good diamond suit to open

East then picked up N-S's convention card and examined it before passing. East further stated that West's double said, "Do something" and did not guarantee any specific suit length. It didn't guarantee spade values and might contain only two spades. East asserted that with both sides not vulnerable at matchpoints, they are extremely aggressive in balancing over 1NT (except with poor 4-3-3-3 hands). They almost never let declarer play a 1NT contract at this vulnerability.

North stated that this was the first time that he and his partner had played together, and that they had filled out a convention card 15 minutes before game time. Their system was not completely defined, but they did agree that 1♦ couldn't be opened on a bad suit. He believed there was zero safety in balancing with West's hand, and it only contained K-x in an unbid suit. West had UI from the earlier table action, and it was likely that East would pass the double. A significant number of players would pass with West's cards.

The committee discovered that E-W had been playing together 1-1/2 years and that they essentially play the same "short club" treatment. The discussion had taken somewhere in the range of 20-30 seconds before East finally passed. Additionally, the double had not been Alerted, and nothing was noted on the E-W convention card concerning their balancing style and no pre-Alerts had been given to N-S. Answers to other system questions yielded responses that indicated that their competitive treatments over 1 and 1 -Pass - 1♠ were typical of the vast majority of tournament players.

The Decision: The committee believed that UI had indeed been made available to West via the questioning, and especially when East examined the N-S convention card prior to passing. The UI demonstrably suggested that a balancing double by West would be safe and likely to be successful. Pass was clearly deemed to be a logical alternative. Therefore the committee agreed with the director's decision to change the contract to 1NT by North undoubled.

Regarding the number of tricks that North would likely have taken, the actual line adopted (explained by North as a deceptive attempt to deter E-W from attacking spades since he believed West had something such as A J x x x was deemed to be representative and unaffected by the infraction. Therefore, the score of down four, N-S minus 200 was assigned to both sides.

Additionally, the committee believed that the appellants had presented no substantive evidence or argument for overturning the director's ruling. Accordingly the committee issued an appeal without merit warning (AWMW) to East and

The committee members were also disturbed by both the length of questioning and follow-up inspection of the convention card and by the balancing action by West in the face of UI from the aforementioned actions. Therefore, a 1/8 of a board procedural penalty was assessed to E-W.

Finally, based upon guidance from the screening director, West was told that such a balancing treatment needed to be listed on their convention card and that they needed to pre-Alert their opponents regarding their aggressive balancing style.

Fortune favors the brave By Barry Rigal

When deciding what defense you wish to play over a 1NT opening, a deal like this one may influence your thinking . . . or may not. It's Board 24 from the Life Master Pairs second final session (none vulnerable, hands rotated).

Eric Leong held the North cards and heard a 15-17 1NT opening on his left, passed round to him. His choices were to pass, bid 2♣ to show a one-suiter, bid 2♠ to pretend he had five spades and a minor, or — his actual choice — bid 2♠ for the majors!

Eric's partner — clearly without a sense of humor — jumped to 3♥ and played there. West led a trump to the king and ace and South led the ♣10, which held. A second club went to the queen, king and ace and a third club was ruffed by West, with South pitching a spade.

West now found the spade shift, but it was too late. Declarer won the A and led a good club, throwing another spade as West, who was out of trumps, discarded a diamond. Then came a diamond finesse and diamond ruff to reach this ending:

When the fifth club is led from dummy, East can do no better than ruff high. South can overruff, cash the •A and ruff the diamond loser in dummy for plus 170! Maybe North should have raised to game!

New Enhancement to ACBL Web Site: NABC Top Winners Directory

Are you curious about who has placed first or second in past North American Bridge Championship events? You can put your curiosity to rest by using a new search feature that is now available on the ACBL web site. This new feature allows you the ability to search either by event or last name.

Go to the ACBL web site home page at www.acbl.org and click "NABC Winners' Directory," located on the left-hand side of the page, to start taking advantage of this new feature.

No phones

Cell phones, audible pagers or any similar communication equipment may not be operated or operable in the playing area during a session of play at NABCs except for healthrelated equipment or by permission of the director-in-charge of the tournament or event.

For NABC+ events, no electronic devices may be taken into the playing area. More information on the policy regarding NABC+ events is on page 2.

Monitoring

At this and future North American Championships, ACBL will be monitoring NABC+ events with visible, real-time cameras. The images will be recorded and will be available for later official inspection and review.

By general monitoring of the session and participants' behavior, ACBL has another source of information that may be useful in determining facts and settling issues arising from some types of ethical and behavioral complaints or actions. Please summon a director if a problem occurs at the table.

This procedure is intended to assure everyone that the playing field is level and that misbehavior will not be tolerated.

Sutherlin of Dallas TX.

Berkowitz jumped out to a 40-14 lead in the first quarter, but Quinn trailed by 7 IMPs only at the half (48-41). After three quarters, Berkowitz still maintained a modest lead (68-57). The final quarter was a nail-biting affair with Quinn taking the lead at one stage. Quinn managed to win the final set, but not by enough.

Each member of the winning squad has previously won the Wagar KO with the exception of Covalciuc. In her three times to play in the contest, she has two second-place finishes and, now, a victory.

Although Berkowitz and Glasson are a longtime partnership, it was the first time Covalciuc-Lewis and Kennedy-Bernstein had played as partnerships.

Said Marshall, "I'm going a lot slower on that book than he is."

Bobby Levin was full of admiration for the defense of Peter Bertheau and Jan Lagerman on this deal (Board 25) from the first final of the Life Master Pairs.

R. J. Becker, South, played the best contract, 1NT, after the auction 1♠ - Dbl - 1NT - All pass.

The opening club lead went to the jack and ace. A spade to the king held, then a club to the 9, 10 and queen set up the winners in dummy.

West exited with the ◆6 to the 9 and king. Bertheau, East, made a fine play for the defenders by returning a low diamond to South's queen.

Declarer cashed the clubs, East pitching hearts. South now played the ♥A and a heart to Bertheau's king to reach this ending:

After winning the ♥K, Bertheau played a thoughtful ♠J (in case the 10 and 6 were switched) and Lagerman, West, ducked! Declarer had to win and exit with a spade, which subjected him to the ultimate indignity of a suicide squeeze.

Going minus 90 for defending 1NT scored well for East-West since 2 made 110 at most tables. Minus 120, though, would have been a very poor result.

Love Letters from Washington

By Becky Roberts

To the Couple Standing in Line Behind Me at the Front Desk: Telling your wife that her conscience is a "scourge from God" is not made any nicer by adding "but only when it comes to bridge."

To the Gentleman who Collided with Me Outside the Delaware Room: I know the director just called everyone back to the tables, but the only excuse for stampeding over a stranger like that without an "I'm sorry" is if you were rushing to change those unfortunate Bermuda shorts.

To the Lady who Brandished her Cane at me because I Pointed Out that the Restaurant Buffet was Closed: Trust me, ordering that buffet after 8 p.m. is like being the last lion to the wildebeest

To my Dear and Loving Husband (quick, name that poet!): I promise that the next time I spy a white hair in your otherwise youthful chestnut mane, I won't destabilize your mental state by mentioning it. I'll just yank it out while you're asleep.

To the Tournament Directors: The longer the tournament wears on, the greater your collective resemblance to the Wreck of the Hesperus, but it is worth it. Everything I overhear in hallways, restaurants and elevators indicates that these tournaments bring a lot of joy (weird, inexplicable, often perverse joy) to a lot of people. Well done!

The author is a tournament director's wife. She does not play bridge.

NABC Insider 8

What better day than the day after we had 30 screens standing to spotlight all the stuff it takes to make an NABC happen. Regular readers know that the Insider has revealed that the ACBL sends more than 42,000 pounds of equipment, card tables and supplies to each NABC. You may even remember the 19 pounds of rubber bands that we use. For this tournament, the Insider watched as 1020 card tables (plus 36 screen tables) were loaded out of the Memphis warehouse. The tables, along with almost 300 sets of pre-dupes and 4300 regular boards, make up about third of the weight. The paper supplies make up another third. The final third includes a lot of items you might not think of when you think bridge: video projectors, Coleman coolers, the odd playpen and tool boxes are some of these items. It takes the better part of a day to load the trailers in Memphis. The Services Crew spends a full day unloading it all at the tournament and, unfortunately for the Insider, some two nights to reload for the return to Memphis. At an average NABC, more than 50,000 Daily Bulletins are produced, read and saved or recycled.

The Insider was happy to see 30 tables of young bridge players in the Youth NABC. The Insider was happy to see the final of the Wagar on vugraph. The Insider was happy to see that most of the 1020 table had players at them. The Insider was happy that the Bulletin Boys continue to allow him to write up these random thoughts. The Insider was happy that the Supreme C stayed up in the 42nd floor suite. The Insider was happy that Boss Baum was at the bridge table. The Insider was happy with the pretzels. Of course, this deep into the tournament, it doesn't take a whole lot to make the Insider happy.

The Youth NABC folks can expect a special visitor either today or tomorrow. Watch this space for details. The Services Crew will start reloading those two trailers with anything we no longer need at the tournament, so be aware of the start times as they may load your table if you aren't there in time. As the Fast Pairs rapidly come to an end, the Spingolds wind down slowly. Some great bridge is yet to be played —- if not by you, then on vugraph where you will see plenty of it.

There's something about Gatlinburg

By Wes Bailey Jr.

What can you say about a small town in Tennessee that attracts so many bridge players from all 50 states and numerous countries from around the world? Is it the town itself, or is it so many things to do when you get there, or is it just the beginning of spring, or the opportunity to play against some of the best bridge players from around the world?

I do not know the history of the Gatlinburg Regional (some say it is the 4th NABC of the year), but I do know this: I love everything about this yearly April fling that has so many aspects: reunions with old friends, introductions to new friends, the telling of stories/yarns/tales of bridge hands, and just being there!

Gatlinburg brings out the poetic part of me long hidden in my abstract mind of family, work and playing bridge. Arriving a day early, I get the chance to walk around the town, touring the shops, trying to nibble every little bit of chocolate fudge samples I can, wondering if I should get an old time vintage photo of just myself with a coonskin hat and musket to give to the grandsons (ages six and four) back home and telling them, "Yes, kids, I used to ride with Davey Crockett in my younger years, etc", visit the convention center before everything is set up, and just relax after a long drive (I live in Anderson SC).

Gatlinburg #1

Early morning driving on this serpent, mountain highway while I attempt to keep away the falling rocks on my ascent.

My coffee, cold, affects now needed sleep as twilight plays some shadow tricks that mark this winding road. Unthinking hands reach down, turning the volume up so loud to spark my napping eyes. Swerve. Brake! A laughing clown upon this path I fear? Long last the peak of this tall hill is here; speeding ignored almost flying around the curves. Knees weak, damp hands, dry mouth, yet now I feel restored: awakened by the thrills of danger passed and conquering this spiral snake at last.

As I say, the poetic part of me (all you English teachers who play bridge will recognize my first and only attempt to write a Shakespearian sonnet with the "ta 'Dahs") comes out when I am in awe of God's gift to us in the form of mountains, valleys, streams, waterfalls and life itself. On the day before the tournament starts (a Monday), I am antsy. I set the alarm for 4 a.m. Sunday, throw my bags in the truck, and take off before the newspaper arrives. The many bridge players who go to Gatlinburg travel the interstate highway from Asheville or the highways from Knoxville or (like me) come up through the twolane highway entering the Cherokee Reservation area (Hey! there's still some snow up here at the top!).

One thing is clear: we all go up and down the mountains at least once before we see the town of Gatlinburg. Arriving, we dedicated bridge players eagerly find our reserved (we did it before we checked out the previous year) motel/hotel/condo/teepee, get things settled in the room, look at our schedule for the day, and hurriedly walk, drive or take the tram to the Convention Center to begin the week-long process of shuffling cards, playing the finesses and hoping we score better than a 48% to get "in the money."

Down town around the town Thursday midnight, with silent sidewalks doused with sprinkling rain; strolling, recalling scenes that come to light: conceiving thoughts that are not preordained. Silly city surrounds this pretty city with believe it or not's and ninja shops. Holiday makers never have pity of this hidden valley with whistle stops; village villa's and a snow steepled chateau: off in the distance, yet not very far, keeping the dreams of the status quo whose wishes stay tuned by a distant star. Ambling at midnight on a Thursday dark, window shop the world: this amusement park.

A few who want to obtain the Gold and become Life Master, diligently play bridge from early morning until the Zip KOs late at night (no gold points, but some like to practice). We discuss the bridge hands with our partners or team members, saying you should have bid this or you should have done that, or maybe they say let's switch systems." In the end, the partners/teams console each other and say we just did not get the cards like the opponents, and, "I don't care about the gold, let's just have fun and enjoy this place."

Director! Please! These shouts arise among the muffled, dull roar that blankets this room, which weakens thoughts of what to bid. Eight hun dred eyes glance up at once to see the gloom of lonely felons bowed with cheeks of pink who want the floors to open and immerse them whole and make them disappear. Eyes blink as players simply lose their thoughts and coerce unfounded revokes. But a few never hear the noise, as they continue on with brilliant maneuvers which are so clever that it makes disquieted opponents writhe. This simple card room with complex drama's would stir emotions of Dalai Lama's.

It took me two Gatlinburgs to reach my goal. I already had the silver, the red and the black - just lacking the gold. In Gatlinburg 2008, I teamed with Dan Schmidt, Barbara Little and my partner Ann Pozdal (all LMs) to help me realize my dream of getting the gold card. What better place to obtain it would be here at this Bridge Wonderland. In 2008 we got a lot of gold (12+): the team tried so hard and I tried so hard but I still lacked 3.54 gold at the end. I suppose I could have gone to another regional in 2008 and tried real hard to get the remaining points, but there is something about Gatlinburg.

So I played a few sectionals and a lot of club bridge and played a lot of BBO on line and yes, I got better as I played. But, sigh......Gatlinburg. I wanted to get my gold there among the bright lights and the 10,000-plus tables, to see my name stapled to the bulletin board saying Wes Bailey Jr. LM.

The Gatlinburg 2009 was fantastic. I had the same team and we did so very well and, yes, if you are wondering, I did get my remaining gold plus I made Life Master and Bronze Life Master at the same time.

Before I headed out of the town early, early Sunday morning, I thanked a couple of tournament directors, thanked my team and looked over the town of Gatlinburg from the mountain top and thanked this beautiful place. Yes, fellow bridge players, I made my reservations for 2010.

There is always something about Gatlinburg.

The opening bid

The squad of Mike Ledeen, Karen Allison, Benito Garozzo and Lea Dupont won the Truscott/U.S. Playing Card Senior Swiss Teams that ended Wednesday evening. On this deal from the second final session, Allison's judgment in the opening-bid department led to a 13-IMP swing for her team.

As dealer at unfavorable vulnerability, Allison (playing with Ledeen) held:

Even though the hand contains only 9 HCP, the texture of the spade suit, the control-rich nature of the hand, the ability to act as dummy in hearts or clubs and the void all caused Allison to judge it too strong for an opening preempt. She instead began with 1 . The full layout and auction:

I'm sure the East-West field played either 1NT or 2♥ here, though some North-South pairs might have tried 2♠ and not enjoyed it enormously.

I was West and played 1NT against a topseeded pair. The opening lead of a low spade traveled around to my jack. It looks logical to set up hearts, not clubs, doesn't it? Yes, a club to the *Q might work later.

I advanced the ♥K and North won while

South signaled with the $\P9$ — a Smith echo to encourage a spade continuation, As the subsequent play will show, that was an expensive decision! North led another spade, won by dummy's queen, and I led the \PJ to South's queen.

South now shifted to the ϕ 6 and I won the ace to lead a club. North won his \star K, reaching this ending:

The defenders had three tricks in and North now erred by cashing the \bullet Q. He tried to recover by shifting back to spades (one trick too late), but South had been squeezed out of his diamond transportation. He let go his diamond, and now three rounds of clubs threw him in to lead hearts into dummy's tenace for +120.

The volunteers who man the Prize Desk, located outside the Marriott Ballroom on the lobby level at the Marriott, urge players to drop by and take their winnings. Time is running short.

Bid Box Alerts and Announcements

When using bid boxes, ACBL suggests that players tap the Alert strip and say "Alert" at the same time.

When making an announcement, use the announcement word —- such as "transfer" —- and tap the Alert strip at the same time.

A player who Alerts or announces a bid should make sure his opponents are aware that an Alert or announcement has been made.

rubber bridge, how do you make the contract?

Kantar's answer:

This one could get sticky if clubs break 4-1. True, you have 13 tricks if they break 3-2, but what if they don't?

If you play clubs at once, East wins and plays a heart and you are in an untenable position if West has the ♥K. The same would be true if West had four clubs and returned a heart. If East had both the king and the jack, or if you misguessed, you would lose an ice-cold contract.

The solution is to duck a club at trick two. If East wins and returns a heart, win the ace, enter dummy with a spade, discard your heart on the ♦ A and reenter your hand with a club, claiming the balance.

The idea is to keep an extra hand entry in case clubs are 4-1. Those of you who crossed to the \mathbf{A} Q, discarded a heart on the \mathbf{A} and then played clubs, hoping that the player with four clubs did not have a third diamond, were at least thinking, albeit sideways.

False Economy

By Barry Rigal

Steve Bloom showed me a neat deal where he had missed a subtle point in the ending. The point is you have to be careful not to be too thrifty with your resources.

Playing 2, you get a club lead and continuation as East echoes. You ruff the second club, play a diamond to the king and pass a diamond to East's ace. Back comes a heart. You win with the queen as West encourages. Now you play a third diamond to West's queen as East pitches a club. West returns a heart to East's ace and you win the third heart in hand as West follows with the jack. This is the ending:

When you lead the $J, West covers and you ruff as East follows. You can now safely assume that East has the $K$; otherwise West probably would have doubled 1NT. Furthermore, East probably has precisely a 3=4=2=4 shape and is down to three trumps and a heart. So the key is to lead dummy's diamond and ruff it as East discards his heart. Then you can lead your fourth club. West will follow and East will be endplayed when he overruffs dummy. If you pitch your club on the $J$, you will have to guess whether to lead a spade to the 7 or the 10 in the three-card ending.

Diamond master

Roger Bates and Chris Willenken crossed swords here — and Bates came off the better.

After a simple auction of 1NT - 3NT, Bates (South) received the ♥J lead and immediately passed the ◆8. Willenken (East) ducked it, thereby doing his best to get his name in the papers. Now, if declarer repeats the diamond finesse, he goes down.

♣ K Q 7 4

But Bates knew his defenders were capable of the ducking play from any holding that included the jack. The opening lead made it relatively unlikely that West had four diamonds to the jack, plus, who would want to fall victim to such a play? You'd never hear the end of it.

So, Bates rejected the second finesse, playing diamonds from the top and emerging with 10 tricks.

Nicely defended — but it was Bates who got to have his name in the "highly recommended" column.

Sure there's a squeeze, but which opponent?

Mike Becker, South, noticed early in the play that his chances were good for 12 tricks. The problem was which opponent should he attempt to squeeze.

Becker's 2NT response to the Drury 2. was unusual, but he knew the doubleton queens would be helpful if partner a little something in each suit. With two aces and a king in the other suits, his partner had no trouble raising to 3NT, a contract missed by the majority of the field.

Becker let the opening heart lead ride to his queen and then cashed one spade to make sure the suit would run. Next came the *Q, taken by West's ace.

Now he had lost a trick and could take all the rest of the tricks but one — the right setup for a squeeze. He saw that he could squeeze West if he had the $\bigstar K$ — he also would have to protect his $\bigstar J$. Becker would cross to the $\bigstar K$ and run spades, coming to a two-card position. On the next-to-last trick, West would have to make a losing discard from $\bigstar J$ and $\bigstar K$ x.

If East had the ♦K, however, declarer could get his 12th trick via a Vienna Coup.

Which to try? Becker decided to see if he could get some help from his opponents. He led a second spade and sure enough, East played an encouraging diamond. So it was the Vienna Coup. He crossed to the ◆A and ran the spades. This was the position as he led his last spade:

West had to keep the ♥J, so was forced to discard a club. Declarer pitched the heart, and now East had no discard available. No matter what he did, declarer had the last two tricks for plus 490. That was worth 64.5 matchpoints out of a possible 65.

Wallen, West, led a low club to partner Randy Beckham's queen. Beckham returned the ◆J (suit preference) and Wallen ruffed. A spade to the ace allowed Wallen to score another diamond ruff. Down two, plus 100 for East-West.

This was an 11-IMP gain for Wallen's team because his teammates bid and made 5♦ at the other table.

Aggressive bidding requires good play

Richard Freeman made an aggressive invitation to game on this deal, and Nick Nickell made an equally aggressive move by bidding game. Now it was up to Freeman to find 10 tricks.

♠ K ♥ K 9 3 ♦ KJ 1094 ♣ A K 5 4 ♦ A Q 6 5 v 10 8 7 4 2 ♦ 863 ♣ J North South Nickell Freeman 1 ♦ 1♥ 2. 2♦ 2♥ 3♥ 4♥ Pass

Freeman won the opening club lead with the ace and cashed the $\bigstar K$. Next came a club ruff, and he led a heart toward the king. West took his ace and returned the $\bigstar J$, not the best choice. Freeman ruffed this in dummy and cashed the trump king, dropping the queen from West. He cashed the $\bigstar K$ and ruffed a club. He played the $\bigstar A$ Q and East had to follow.

At this point, he put East in with the last trump, and East, holding ◆A Q, had to give Freeman his 10th trick with the ◆K. That was worth all 51 matchpoints.

Ring around the collar — or the grand bagel

By Barry Rigal

When the best players in the world go 0 for 4, you might assume the problem to be a tough one:

Dummy ♦ J 6 5 ♥ K 10 9 6 5 4 ♦ 10 3 ♣ J 2 You ∧ K Q 10 7 3 ♥ OJ32 4 ♣ K 5 3 West North East South Pass 4 1 🌲 5♦ Dbl Pass Pass All Pass

The $\bigstar K$ holds the first trick. Partner's spade carries no special message. What next?

Three out of the four defenders had this problem, and they all got it wrong. At the fourth table, East overtook with the A and led a club.

The three plays found were a trump, a second spade and the $\mathbf{\Psi}\mathbf{Q}$. Here is the full deal:

A J 6 5 ★ K 10 9 6 5 4 ★ 10 3 ♣ J 2 A K Q 10 7 3 ★ Q J 3 2 ★ 4 ♣ K 5 3 A 8 4 2 ★ —— ★ J 6 2 ♣ Q 10 8 7 6 4 A 8 7 ★ A 8 7 ★ A 8 Q 9 8 7 5 ♣ A 9

As you can see, only a low heart sets the contract by force. At the table where East overtook, West got caught in a major-suit squeeze.

South opens 4♠ and everybody passes.

Partner leads the ♦5 (fourth best) to dummy's 10 and your ace as declarer produces the 2. Over to you.

Well, playing back a diamond would be right if partner has a singleton or if he has led from $\bullet K$ x x, and besides what harm could come to you?

Alas, that is not the full story:

When you return a diamond, declarer ruffs and leads the AA, followed by the J. Whether partner wins or ducks, declarer strips the clubs and exits with a trump to your partner. That forces a red-suit play that gives south his 10th trick.

- (1) The four-card major style.
- (2) Standard raise.
- (3) Balancing double

This deal is from the 1986 Rosenblum Cup. In the Closed Room, the Swedes, North-South, bid to 2♥ doubled and were very unlucky to run into a 6-0 split. West led three rounds of spades, allowing partner to throw away his three clubs. Then West gave partner a club ruff. East still had the ♠A and two trump tricks for down two — 300 points to East-West.

In the Open Room:

(2) Multi — a weak overcall in either major.

(3) A disciplined bid.South started with a weak 1NT and East balanced with a bid that showed hearts or spades. West suspected it was hearts.

North lead a spade. Once again all three clubs went away, this time from dummy! Again a club was led, ruffed in the East hand, and declarer cashed the A. So, declarer managed to take the first five tricks. Another diamond lead went to south's king. South cashed the J as partner threw a club, ruffed in dummy (East).

That was book (six tricks). At this point, declarer led a fourth diamond, and this ensured he would score a trump trick, for one down. That was 100 points to North-South, a swing of 9 IMPs to Pakistan.

Kantar's answer:

If you didn't ruff the second spade with a middle trump, forget the whole thing. You must plan on two trump entries to your hand to take two diamond finesses and the $6 is a very valuable card.

After ruffing, play two top trumps, and enter your hand with the $7 to lead a low diamond, not the 9, to dummy's 10. Assuming this loses and a heart comes back, re-enter your hand with the $J and run the $9.

You have just protected against West holding four diamonds to one honor by your play in diamonds, and have lost nothing if West has both honors. If East has both diamond honors, you can also forget about the whole thing, although you probably would have been doubled long ago.

In search of the elusive overtrick

West led the ◆7 against Cohen's 4♥ contract. He won the ace and drew trumps, noting that West began with three, East one.

You have 10 sure tricks, but because this is matchpoints, it would be nice to play the spade suit for one loser to make an 11th trick.

To discover more about the defensive layout, Cohen played a diamond to the 9 at trick four. East won the 10 and West completed an echo by playing the ◆5. It appears that West began with a doubleton diamond and East with K-Q-10-4.

The auction contains a clue for getting more information about the count. When asked about their methods, East-West stated that they open 1 ♦ when they're 4-4 in the minors, and would frequently open 1 ♦ even with four diamonds and five clubs to allow a convenient 2♣ rebid.

Why is this important to declarer? Because East has four good diamonds, yet opened 14, it suggests that East has much longer clubs than diamonds — not just 4-5 in the minors, but at least 4-6. Armed with the information, Cohen decided that East's pattern was 2=1=5=6.

After ruffing the return of the $\bigstar K$, this was the position:

Q 10 2
J 8 6
♣ 9 8
★ K 9 5 4
✓ J 7 6 4

Is there any way — assuming the inferential count we have on the deal is correct — to score three spade tricks? Yes — if East (who we believe has two spades) has the doubleton jack. No other holding will provide us with the extra trick. So, Cohen played a low spade to the queen, which held, and a low spade from dummy as East produced the jack. The full layout:

Making 11 tricks was worth 60 out of 64 matchpoints.

Spingold emotions — despair and elation

When you're the underdog in a Spingold match, it's always disheartening when one of the stars on your opponents' team plays a contract double-dummy, and makes a contract that looks as if it had no chance. Oshalg led the AK (which denied the ace) and continued with a low spade to partner's 9. Zmudzinski, playing in a Moysian 4–3 fit, had to make an instant decision — should he reduce his hand to three trumps by ruffing? That's what he decided to do.

Declarer led a diamond and finessed the 10. It worked. He took the ◆K and came back to his hand with the ♥A. He switched back to diamonds, and when Oshlag played the queen, Zmudzinsky ruffed with the ace. Then he cashed the trump queen, and finessed the 10. That was 11 tricks.

The John Onstott squad, seeded No. 10, had a seesaw match with No. 7 Aubrey Strul, taking a 49-40 lead after a quarter and expanding it to 80-59 at the half. Strul came back strong in the third quarter to go ahead 118-97, but Onstott rallied for a 146-141 victory. Onstott is playing with Gary Cohler, Tarek Sadek, Walid Elahmady, Jim Krekorian and Drew Casen.

In another close match, the George Jacobs team took a 35-IMP lead into the fourth quarter against the John Schermer squad only to see the original No. 28 rally for a 154-153 win. Schermer's team is Neil Chambers, Michael Polowan, Jacob Morgan, George Mittelman and Robert Lebi.

There was no drama in the match between No. 1 seed Carolyn Lynch, who pounded the Siwiec (npc) squad 190-70. No. 4 Rose Meltzer had an easy time, dispatching Mark Gordon 151-109.

Oshlag decided to lead a spade, but which one? He led the &J, the killer. Zmudzinski put up dummy's ace and led a heart to the queen and ace. Oshlag continued the attack on spades, leading the 9. Declarer covered with the 10 and Lindop with the queen. He switched to a diamond, won with the queen, and declarer finessed successfully in clubs. He returned to his hand with the &J and set up the suit by giving up a club to Oshlag.

Once again, Oshlag led a spade, and his earlier high leads paid off —- Lindop was able to score both his 6 and his king to set the contract.

THANKS TO OUR SPONSORS

LAMBDA BRIDGE CLUB OF WASHINGTON WEDNESDAY-FRIDAY SIDE GAME SERIES

The Lambda Bridge Club (LBC) of Washington is sponsoring the Side Game Series July 29-July 31. The LBC was originally organized to provide an opportunity for gay and lesbian bridge players in the DC area to play in a hospitable environment, and membership is still predominantly from the LGBT community.

Duplicate games are scheduled at 7:30 pm on the second, fourth and (when applicable) fifth Wednesday of each month on Capitol Hill. For more information, visit www.lambdabridge.org

RICHMOND BRIDGE ASSOCIATION THURSDAY-FRIDAY BRACKETED KO

Thanks so much to the Richmond Bridge Association (Unit 109) for supporting the NABC.

In addition to this named game, the Richmond Bridge Association has donated delicious homemade pies for a reception in honor of the youth who are playing in the Youth NABC, and their parents and siblings.
